Riot Gas Mixes With Dust, Death Of War

By PETER ARNETT

TRUNG LAP, South Viet Nam (AP) —The powerful riot gas drifted down through the trees and mixed with the dust of the march.

An American infantryman cursed the burning sensation as the gas settled on his sweating skin, just as he had cursed the sniper who hit his colonel earlier yesterday and the Claymore mine that had killed his sergeant.

It had been a long,bloody mile for the company from the U.S. 1st Infantry Division.

The blast of a mine shattered the heavy afternoon air, tearing at the straps of the black gas masks all the infantrymen wore. A sergeant, torn in the loins by the mine, tried to rip the mask from his face to gasp for clean air.

Medics restrained him.

The men from "C" Company, 2nd Battalion, 28th Regiment, put on their masks when helicopters spewed the gas at a big concrete bunker reinforced with steel from which the Viet Cong were pinning down a scout platoon.

The platoon had suffered casualties and the company commander, Capt. George F. Dailey of Fort Atkinson, Wis., was hurrying to relieve them.

The tight rubber gas masks that cling to the face like an orange skin are terrible to wear in the heat of Viet Nam. Breathing is difficult; the sweat builds up like the hot waters of a dammed river.

A lieutenant colonel came up to talk to Capt. Dailey. As he stood on the road consulting his map, a fusilade of sniper bullets cracked out.

The colonel fell to the ground three feet from me, his hands to his chest, moaning in pain from a severe neck wound.

Then his heart beat picked up. Some color edged across his ashen face. He managed to whisper across to me and to AP photographer Horst Faas, who came running up, "Don't get hit, don't get hit."

But the rifle company was fated to get hit.

They had a portent from a point

Humphrey Parleys With Russ Premier In Closed Session

Russian Delegation In Peking Following Hanoi Conference

NEW DELHI (UPI) —Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of State Dean Rusk conferred at length today with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin reportedly on Viet Nam.

Before meeting Kosygin, Humphrey met with United Arab Republic Vice President Hussein Shafei at Shafei's request. Informed sources said Shafei delivered Communist North Viet Nam's response to the American peace offensive.

After the meetings, Humphrey left for Washington to report to President Johnson and Rusk planned to leave Friday for Bangkok and talks with roving presidential envoy W. Averell Harriman.

NO ANSWERS

U. S. and Russian spokesmen refused to disclose what was discussed, and by mutual consent Humphrey and Kosygin refused to answer reporters' questions.

But reliable sources said the talks centered around the war in Viet Nam.

A Soviet delegation on its way home from North Viet Nam stopped in Peking today for talks with Communist Chinese officials on the results of its recent aid mission to Hanoi.

Alexander N. Shelepin and his delegation were invited to make the overnight stop in the Communist capital by the Red Chinese, who were reportedly interested in learning the results of the Soviet-Vietnamese talks in Hanoi.

IN HANOI

Shelepin, the Kremlin's second ranking party official, left the North Vietnamese capital last night after pledging continued Soviet military and economic aid and warning the United States against any further escalation of the Viet Nam war. Shelepin's delegation included top Russian rocket and armament experts.

Moscow Radio declared today the Soviet Union "will exert full effort to ship modern weapons" to North Viet Nam to help defeat U.S. forces.

"All available aid will be extended to North Viet Nam to defeat the U.S. aggressors," said Moscow's Japanese language broadcast, monitored in Tokyo.

Truce Agreed For Lunar Year Opening

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAIGON — The United States and South Viet Nam announced today they will observe a cease fire in Viet Nam during the lunar New Year celebrations starting next week. The truce is expected to last at least three days.

The Communist Viet Cong earlier announced they would observe a four-day cease fire beginning at 12:01 a.m. Jan. 20. Exact time and extent of the U. S. and Vietnamese truce was not announced.

The lunar New Year, called Tet, begins at 12:01 a.m. Jan. 21, ushering in the Year of the Horse in the Oriental calendar, and ending the Year of the Snake. The Horse is considered the most propitious of the calendar.

Both sides also proclaimed a cease fire during the Christmas season, the Communists for 12 hours and the Americans and Vietnamese for 30 hours. Both sides accused the other of breaking the truce but a U. S. moratorium on the bombing of North Viet Nam which began

Injured Motorist Fished From Mud

BURLINGAME (AP) — Three policemen struggled through waist-deep mud and water last night to save a motorist whose car had plunged into a San Francisco Bay mudflat.

Gilbert K. Browning, 31, a Burlingame insurance man, was unconscious when Patrolman Rudy Ruhl reached his small foreign car.

Highway Patrolmen R. J. Fjetland and R. J. Murray responding to Ruhl's call for help, joined in rocking the car until a door could be pried open and Browning rescued.

GAS ATTACK — Writhing in pain and fright, a wounded U.S. infantryman tries to remove his gas mask while riot gas dropped from American helicopters still fills the air. A medic holds his arms so he can't tear the mask off. He was wounded during a U.S. attack on a Viet Cong tunnel and bunker positions 25 miles northwest of Saigon yesterday. Dry Cleaning Solvent May Cause Death

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Another warning has been issued that serious illness or death may lurk in areas where a commonly used cleaning solvent is handled carelessly.

The warning against careless use of perchloroethylene came from the State Board of Dry Cleaners.

Fumes from the chemical, perchloroethylene, were said to affect the liver and some other organs in a manner similar to gases from the once widely used but now generally discredited cleaning solvent, carbon tetrachloride.

Several deaths have been attributed to the fumes of perchloroethylene.

The state board noted that most dry cleaners are careful in following safety regulations. But the U.S. Public Health Service said it is concerned over increasing use of the chemical in coin-operated dry cleaning machines. A customer may overload a machine and the clothing may not dry properly retaining some of the fumes. Uninformed or careless employes may overlook safety directions.

The State Board of Dry Cleaners said it will hold a series of seminars for owners, operators and employes of dry cleaning shops.

MARRIAGE

An occupation in which the toughest task for many a woman is to make a man out of a man.

Plane Breaks Sound Barrier Over Marin

A military plane broke the sound barrier over Marin at noon today to give the county its second mid-day shaking in two days.

Hamilton Air Force Base said the shake was caused by "a military plane on a classified flight" and refused to say whether the plane was from Hamilton, some other Air Force installation, or a Navy base.

The blast was felt over much of the county. Mrs. Agnes Vincilione of Forest Knolls said "it shook the whole house." Tiburon Fire Chief Frank J. Buscher said the firehouse there shook. He also said he saw a jet plane overhead just before the blast.

The boom shook Independent-Journal offices as far apart as Tiburon and Novato.

A Terra Linda woman complained "this seems to be a daily occurrence," saying her home had been badly shaken both yesterday and today.

Yesterday's blast, about 11 a.m., was attributed tentatively to testing of mortar shells at Hunter's Point Naval Shipyard, although there has been no admission from the Navy. A spokesman there said there was no such testing today.

The boom yesterday shook crockery and glassware from shelves of homes in Belvedere and San Rafael. There was no report of broken windows.

Woodacre Frigid Despite Forecast

In spite of predicted warmer weather, the mercury fell to 28 degrees early today in Woodacre, but low temperatures elsewhere in Marin were as high as 40 degrees.

Fair weather was expected to continue through tomorrow.

Low temperatures this morning included: Novato, 30; San Anselmo, 34; Fairfax and Point Reyes Station, 36; Ross, 38; San Rafael and Mill Valley, 40.

President Says U.S. Won't Quit

Bigger Budget Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has outlined a massive work load for the new Congress under a record $112.8-billion budget and has assured Capitol Hill that U.S. fighting men will stay in Viet Nam as long as Communist aggression continues.

Democrats and Republicans alike applauded the determination he expressed yesterday night in his State of the Union message to press for peace although "we have received no response to prove either success or failure" on the current American peace offensive.

DEMOS APPLAUD

While Democrats applauded his declaration that he would not permit the war to sidetrack his "Great Society" programs, Republicans attacked many of his domestic program proposals and his assertion that the budget deficit for the next fiscal year would be held to $1.8 billion.

On the domestic front, the President's sweeping proposals ranged from plans to combat crime in the streets to establishment of a Cabinet-level department of transportation. He asked for laws to guarantee equality for Negroes in the courts and in housing and a constitutional amendment which would extend the two-year terms of House members to four years.

MORE MONEY

He asked for money to push ahead on the health and education programs enacted last year and to expand the anti-poverty program. He called for the complete rebuilding of entire central and slum areas of several cities and an attack on the polluting of the nation's rivers. He said he would propose legislation aimed at cutting down on traffic slaughter.

On the foreign front, he asked for "a new and daring direction to our foreign aid program" with help to nations trying to control population growth. He said he wanted expanded trade with the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe.

On "pocketbook issues," he asked that the newly lifted excise taxes be slapped back onto cars and phone calls. He also

FIRST MEETING

Airport Group Lifts Its Wings

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The newly constituted Marin County Airport Commission held its first meeting last night, elected Benjamin R. Ostlind of San Rafael as chairman and Joseph W. Wright of Novato as vice chairman, talked for more than three hours, and agreed to talk some more next Tusday.

All this was not accomplished without some show of temper. Commissioner Richard Nave of Novato, a strong advocate of development of the county airport at Novato, argued frequently with Chairman Ostlind, a strong advocate of development of a parallel runway at Hamilton Air Force Base.

After David B. Vail of Mill Valley nominated Ostlind for the chair, Nave nominated Wright to "leave out any criticism of railroading."

Nave also said he did not think it right to have a chairman who was already so involved in the airport debate.

In the hand vote, commissioners Douglas M. Christensen of Kentfield, Tris M. Coffin of Mill Valley, Vail and Otslind voted for Ostlind. Wright was subsequently named vice chairman unanimously.

History of the airport at Novato and the exclusive lease with operator Harry O. Tollefson were explained by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney. He said the present situation "was sort of a mess," describing complaints against Tollefson for his operation and complaints against the county for lack of improvements.

The exclusive clause probably must be terminated if the state is to continue giving about $2,500 a year in gasoline tax money to the county for the airport, and must be discontinued if the coun-

President Plans More Messages

WASHINGTON (AP)—Following through on his State of the Union address to Congress, President Johnson is planning to send a stream of separate messages on various subjects to Capitol Hill starting next week.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers said today they will begin going up ahead of the presentation of the budget on Jan. 27.

The topics Moyers mentioned for individual messages included transportation, civil rights, health, education, foreign aid, government reorganization, highway safety, city problems.

Chant, March Over Voter Registration

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)— Scores of chanting and cheering young Negroes invaded Ullman High School today, shot off a string of firecrackers, and came away with more than 150 additional recruits for their racial demonstrations.

About 75 noisy youths entered the school, spent almost 30 minutes parading through the halls, and left with more than 230 persons in their ranks.

Ullman is on Birmingham's south side, at the opposite end of town from Parker High, where similar demonstrations have been conducted the past two days.

In nearby Bessemer, 250 Negroes tried for the third consecutive day to march into the downtown area, but were again halted by police because they did not have a parade permit. After about a 20-minute confrontation they returned to their march again by a different route.

The demonstrations in Brimingham and Bessemer have been staged to protest alleged discrimination in voter registration procedures.

REPORTS TO NATION—President Johnson in his State of the Union speech last night reported to a joint session of Congress and to the country that "we will stay until aggression has stopped" in Viet Nam. He said the conflict in Southeast Asia need not handicap domestic programs. (AP Wirephoto)

State Of Union Speech Is Blend Of Formality, Corn, TV, Applause

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dramatically the rear doors of the House swung open, and in bounced portly William M. Miller, the man known as "Fish Bait." In a voice redolent of his native Pascagoula, Miss., the House doorkeeper bawled: "Mr. Speaker, the President of the United States!"

Thus, with a blend of formality and cornpone, the familiar pageant began again. As required by the Constitution, the President had come to report on the State of the Union.

Each year it seems something new is added. Last night for the first time a State of the Union message was televised in color, and more than 40 floodlights lit up the old chamber. Mrs. Johnson wore red; the wife of the vice president, Mrs. Hubert H. Humphrey, wore blue.

If you had to name a color for the speech you'd have to say it was a somber brown.

This was a strange speech Johnson made, for it was really two talks tacked on to each other.

He opened with a roadmap to the "Great Society," but this halted after six and a half pages with this notation:

"(This is the end of the first section.)"

Then came the second half, on Viet Nam. As the President himself said in summing up the nation's prospects:

"Over it all — wealth, promise, and expectation—lies our troubling awareness of American men at war."

Johnson was applauded 57 times in the 52 minutes he talked, but, as usual on these occasions, the cheering was often more mechanical than enthusiastic. As always, most members of the party out of power listened silently and glumly.

The President was a perfect guest. His suggestion that members of the House should run for office every four years, instead of the present two-year term, got the biggest hand of the night.

Johnson apparently tinkered with his speech till late and copies of it were so scarce only one person on the floor appeared to have one—a surprising exception.

Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin had a copy and followed the President carefully all the way. But anyone watching the ambassador for clues to his reaction was bound to be disappointed.

Whether the President said he yearned for peace, or vowed to fight if he must, Dobrynin diplomatically never changed his expression once.

Norene Creighton, 24, also known as Evelyn Isabel McCorickm, was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on two counts of forgery and one of passing a worthless check.

Her case was continued until Jan. 26 for plea entry. The suspect, of 380 Ebbtide Avenue, Sausalito, allegedly forged two $150 checks on Dec. 15 with inten to defraud Bank of America, Montecito branch, and passed a $197.55 worthless check Dec. 17 with itnent to defraud Milens Jewelers, Northgate Shopping Center.

She was arrested by Sausalito police Sunday and is free on $2,750 bail.

Ex-German General Held In Murder Of Anne Frank

MUNICH, Germany (UPI) — Police today arrested the Nazi general accused of sending Anne Frank to the gas chamber.

Criminal police said they arrested ex-Maj. Gen. Wilhelm Harster and two aides, one of them a woman, on suspicion of complicity in mass murder in wartime Holland.

Prosecutors said Harster bossed the Nazi security police —not gestapo—who rounded up the author of "The Diary of Anne Frank" and tens of thousands of other Dutch Jews and sent them to the Auschwitz death camp.

Harster, a 62-year-old pensioned civil servant, is held on charges of complicity in 83,000 murders, prosecutors said.

Also arrested were his alleged aides, both "aged over 60," Mrs. Gertrud Slottke who is acussed of complicity in 93,328 murders and Dr. Wilhelm Zoepf, accused of complicity in 94,328 cases.

The trio was arrested early this morning. Prosecutors said they plan to try them on the war crimes charges somewhere in West Germany.

Prosecutors said the arrests resulted from investigations into the trio's activities in Nazi-occupied Holland.

Harster bossed the Nazi security police in Holland until 1943 when he was reassigned to Verona, Italy. Harster worked as an aide to Adolf Eichmann in rounding up Europe's Jews for Adolf Hitler's deadly "final solution to the Jewish problem."

After the war, in 1947, a Dutch court at The Hague sentenced Harster to 12 years in prison. He served six years and returned to Germany in 1953, becoming a top civil servant in the state of Bavaria's Interior Ministry.

The trial of an Eichman aide, Erich Rajakowitsch, in Vienna and further Dutch investigations reopened Harster's case. In 1962, the Bavarian government pensioned him off prematurely for "reasons of health."

In defense of its hiring of Harster, the state Interior Ministry said he had been classified by a de-Nazification court only as a "fellow traveler," a lesser category of offense.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Opera Star Costa Is Divorced

SANTA MONICA (AP) — Opera soprano Mary Costa has won a default divorce decree from film director-writer Frank Tashlin in Santa Monica Superior Court.

The decree was granted yesterday by Judge David Williams after only three minutes of testimony, which followed an hour-long session between attorneys and the judge in chambers.

Community property, consisting of several corporations, was estimated at almost $500,000, which was to be divided equally under terms of the settlement.

Miss Costa, 34, on the witness stand for only 30 seconds, said that about a year ago Tashlin, 52, insulted her before friends when she returned a day early from San Francisco. The couple wed in 1953.

Tashlin, who had originally filed an answer to the blonde singer's suit, withdrew and stood outside the courtroom during the hearing.

Miss Costa and her attorney said they were satisfied with terms of the final agreement.

Wage Agreement Ends Bus, Subway Strike In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Striking transit workers went back to work today, ending the 12-day billion-dollar paralysis of the bus and subway system in the nation's largest city.

The AFL-CIO Transport Workers Union and the Transit Authority accepted during the predawn hours terms of a three-man mediation panel.

Bus service in the city got under way immediately and partial subway service was only hours behind. Full service to the city's 3.5-million work force was expected before the evening rush hour.

But the end of the strike came too late for the hundreds of thousands who set out early in the bitter cold to get to work. The threat of snow and icy rain hung over the city.

The traffic department said the number of automobiles crawling along expressways was nearly equal that of yesterday's near record.

The Transit Authority said it would go into Supreme Court today to seek the release from custody of Michael J. Quill, president of the TWU, and eight other union officials jailed for contempt in the strike.

The union negotiators were smiling broadly and laughing as they came out to announce the executive board's decision at 6:25 a.m.

Douglas L. MacMahon, acting head of the union, said he figured the two-year contract package at $70 million. One source close to the negotiations, however, said the figure was about $52 million.

MacMahon said the Transit Authority had agreed that there would be "no reprisals" against the strikers. It also agreed to withdraw its suit for $322,000 a day in damages against the unions, he said.

Asked about the possibility of an increase of the 15-cent bus and subway fare, MacMahon replied: "I think it ought to be free. As far as I'm concerned, the money should come out of the common pot."

The major contract, covering 28,800 employees of the Transit Authority, is estimated to cost $43.4 million for wages and benefits over the next two years, the source said.

The remainder of the estimated $52-million package would finance the new contract for the Transit Authority's subsidiary, the Manhattan and Bronx Transit Surface Operating Authority.

The subway workers would receive a 4 per cent increase in salaries retroactive to Jan. 1, the day they walked out. Another 4 per cent increase would be effective Jan. 1, 1967, and a 7 per cent increase would come on July 1, 1967.

The panel recommended that the hourly wages of motormen, for instance, be raised from $3.46 to $4 over the life of the contract.

Russ Accused In Missile Purchase Try

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —UNICEF, the U.N. Children's fund, is investigating a report that a Soviet member of its staff, Vadim Isakov, tried to buy missile components from a New Jersey firm.

UNICEF Executive Director Henry R. Labouisse indicated in a statement that Isakov would be fired if the investigation confirmed the report published in the New York Journal-American.

Isakov could not be reached for comment. The FBI refused comment.

The Journal-American reported to New Jersey businessmen said Isakov, a UNICEF procurement officer, attempted to buy "restricted" missile components from their Paterson, N.J., firm and once offered a $9,000 down payment.

The newspaper said the businessmen claimed they kept the FBI informed throughout their talks with Isakov from last June to December and refused to deliver the missile parts on FBI advice.

Solon Raps 'Tours' Of Viet Nam Front

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. B. F. Sisk says action has been taken to prevent "casual visitors to Viet Nam" from interfering with the war effort.

The California Democrat said he had complained to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that "tours of Saigon and excursions to the fighting front" given some U.S. dignitaries "appear to absorb entirely too much time, effort and equipment of our forces there."

$8 Million Payroll Loss Linked To Park

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposed redwood national park might result in a payroll loss between $7.5 and $8 million in Humboldt and Del Norte counties, a consulting economist has testified.

Dwayne Kreager of Seattle presented his report to a meeting of offficials of the U.S. Interior Department and the President's Budget Bureau. Officials declined to make the report public yesterday, saying it was described by Kreager as preliminary and subject to evision.

But the Redwood Park & Recreation Committee at Eureka, released portions of Kreager's report, which said a proposed federal park containing 93·000 acres would wipe out Miller and Rellim Redwood Companies in Del Norte County and Arcata Redwood Co. in Humboldt County.

The committee favors sale of 8,000 acres of redwoods to the federal government plus private lands open to tourists.

"Even this withdrawal would create an annual income loss of $1.2 million in the two-county area," Kreager said.

Federal officials said Kraeger's report supported redwood industry opposition to a large national park. Prospective federal plans also call for parks of 76,000 or 50,000 acres.

"There is no basis to conclude that an increase in the tourst and recreation industry could possibly be enough to compensate for losses of income that would be occasioned by substantial withdrawal of commercial timber, Kreager said in the committee statement.

L.A. Police Chief Urges Troop Use

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police Chief William H. Parker says the Governor of California should have the power to move the National Guard in for an emergency "even if not called in by the local police chief of city."

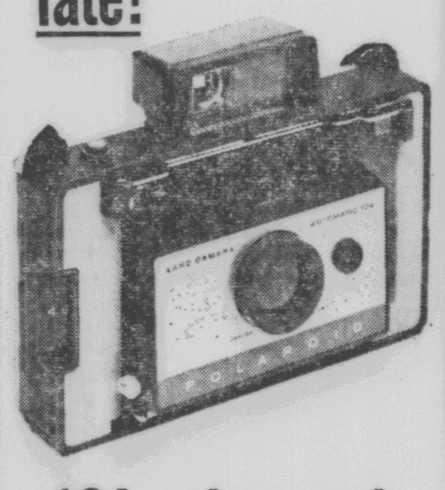

Parker, a main witness Wednesday before the Assembly Interim Committee on Military and Veterans Affairs, declared that "public security is more important than my sensitivity"

Parker also said that in any future riot, he would be inclined to seek help from the state and federal governments simultaneously "and see who gets there first."

Woman Who Charged Drug Injuries Dies

STANFORD (UPI)—A spokesman for Palo Alto-Stanford Hospital said yesterday an autopsy would be performed to determine what caused the death of Mrs. Carney L. Love, who claimed in court suits she was disfigured and diseased by the drug chloromycetin.

Mrs. Love, 48, died at the hospital Monday as a result of "extensive internal hemorrhaging," the spokesman said.

She was awarded $334,046 by a Redding jury in 1962 in her $750,000 suit against the Parke Davis Pharmaceutical Co., a Redding doctor and a pharmacist.

However, the 3rd District Court of Appeal reversed the award last year and ordered a new trial.

The jury in the second trial, against the drug company and Dr. John Wolf, the prescribing physician, awarded her $180,000. Wolf was exonerated.

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Fourteen Canadian navy ships from the east and west coasts, 10 patrol planes and more than 3,500 men will take part in the annual spring exercises in the Caribbean area.

Marin Scenic Routes Confound Officials

Whither go the scenic routes of Marin is still an unresolved question before the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission.

The commission yesterday learned that its committee of Melton Ferris and Mrs. Elizabeth Banning Davies succeeded in getting agreement from directors of the Marin Visitors Bureau on the design of scenic route sign: A silhouette of Sir Francis Drake's ship in blue against a yellow background.

However, Clinton de Lap, executive secretary of the visitors bureau, told commissioners that his directors are considering six scenic loops to go with a six-color scenic map the bureau plans to order, one of which would be a 90-mile loop that would take the motorist deep into the mysterious heartland of rural Marin, as far as Tomales.

Walter Horchler of the county planning staff recommended three scenic loops, each crossing to the west coast and providing generally a southern, middle and northern venture.

Commissioners agreed that Mrs. Davies and Ferris should meet again with visitors bureau representatives to try to reach accord on the routes.

Asst. County Public Works Director Arthur T. Knutson told commissioners that the proposed sign could be produced and installed by the department at $22 each, but there is no money budgeted for them—even if there were any way to tell how many signs will be wanted.

The Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission also:

1. Continued until Feb. 9 discussion of park needs of cities and special districts in the county. Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows was asked to tabulate reports of the cities and districts for study. Barrows said there have been few replies to the commission request so far.

2. Named Ferris and Mrs. Davies to review final plans of the second phase of Paradise Park development before the county advertises for bids in about two weeks.

3. Learned that the commission is to meet in closed session with the board of supervisors Feb. 2 when candidates for parks and recreation director are interviewed.

Commissioner Peter Gottheiner was absent.

Board Approves Federal Grant To Needy Pupils

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The State Board of Education has approved a federal grant of more than $6 million for use in compensatory education for children from low-income families.

Use of the money — supplied by the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965—was approved by the board here yesterday in the first day of a two-day meeting.

Board spokesmen said the money will go to 95 school districts throughout the state.

Also approved was a $2.7 million grant of federal and state money for the Economic and Youth Opportunities Agency of Greater Los Angeles. The grant will finance centers for 4,000 needy pre-school children in the Los Angeles area.

Three Killed

CHICO (AP)—Three persons were killed yesterday in a two-car collision on U.S. 99, seven miles south of Chico. Charles Dumont, 69, and his wife, Florence, Redding, were killed instantly, and Tom Adams, 17, Los Angeles, died in a hospital. Dumont's car veered across a double line and struck Adams' car.

Riot Gas Mixes With Dust For Day Of Viet Nam War

man with another company, Sgt. Louis Milano of Bay Shore, N.Y. Milano's squad had moved up through the Viet Cong entrenchments that followed the criss-cross tracks through the wild rubber trees and scrub, as close as a man and his shadow.

Milano pointed down the track and said, "The Viet Cong tried to entice us up there two hours ago by jumpin' out on the track and wavin' black flags at us.

"We brought in mortars on them."

Dailey had chosen to move along the tracks and paths, even though he knew they would be mined and that snipers would be watching.

"It's a gamble," he explained. "This way I can bring up my 106 recoilless rifles on jeeps, and I can blast every manned bunker I find.

"I may lose some men this way, walking up these tracks. But if I have to hit a bunker without my recoilless rifles, then I'll lose more. So I gamble on the mines and snipers against the bunkers."

Dailey meant that in Viet Nam there is no easy way to fight the war. And he was correct.

Pfc. John Coffey of Ellijay, Ga., tripped the first mine, one hour before noon. It was a powerful Claymore that spews hundreds of lead pellets in the direction it is pointed.

Coffey, a rifleman, was moving up on the right flank when he tripped the fuse and saw it burning. He shouted a warning and dived to the ground.

The roar of the exploding Claymore 20 feet away was deafening. Coffey wasn't knicked. But his platoon sergeant was almost split in half. He lay dying in the tall grass beside the road, waiting for an evacuation helicopter. Sticking in his helmet was an unopened letter he had received that morning from his wife.

Dailey shouted to his men as the dust began to settle. "Be careful, be watchful."

He told his men not to bunch up around the radio operators, who are prime Viet Cong targets.

One of the operators, Spec. 4 Benjamin Scolley of Frankfurt, Ind., said seriously: "They can get me, but they musn't get the radio. The radio is our link with the outside. It's more important than any of us."

The gas came in soon after that.

As the riflemen were stumbling forward in their masks, the next mine exploded from the edge of a house being burned down. It struck down two sergeants.

The medics peeled the clothes off one of the wounded. His moans of pain were barely audible through the jutting nose of his mask.

The company commander shouted: "Keep those wounded men's bodies covered. The gas will burn them. Keep them covered."

"This has been the roughest day of my life," said Medic Paul Smith of Somerset Ky., as he carried one of the wounded men to a helicopter.

Late in the day the company was ordered to return to base camp the way it had come, back over the bloody mile.

They would return next day.

Viet Nam is like that — constantly going back to where you have been, and every time you lose men.

Johnson Says U.S. To Fight Aggression

asked bigger withholdings from paychecks and a speed-up in corporate tax collections. The latter two steps would not mean increases in tax rates.

But the President said he would not hesitate to ask Congress for additional taxes "if the necessities of Viet Nam require it."

Reaction came quickly:

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen said appropriations committees will take apart Johnson's domestic money proposals.

"Overly optimistic," said House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Johnson's prediction revenues would soar to $111 billion.

Some Democrats agreed. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., ordinarily a staunch administration supporter, questioned whether defense spending could be held to Johnson's estimate of $58.3 billion.

There was criticism from both parties — especially among members of the Senate Finance Committee—for Johnson's proposal that excise taxes on automobiles and telephone calls—reduced Jan. 1—be restored to meet increased military spending.

"Personally I would rather raise taxes on liquor and tobacco than make the changes the President suggests," said Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the new finance committee chairman.

"I am opposed" to rescinding the phone tax cut, said Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., senior GOP member of the committee.

But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said "The President's courageous and sensible call for increased revenues to meet the sharp step-up in defense is in the best tradition of responsible government."

Johnson also proposed stepped-up corporate tax collections and revisions in withholding of income taxes but urged no general tax boost.

He said: "If the necessities of Viet Nam require it, I will not hesitate to return to the Congress for additional appropriations and additional revenues."

Johnson devoted about one-third of his 52-minute speech to Viet Nam.

After restating U.S. determination to remain there until aggression is halted, he mentioned the 21-day pause in bombing of North Viet Nam and said the government has been working "with imagination and endurance—to remove any barrier to peaceful settlement."

Johnson said "we will work for a cease-fire now or once discussions have begun. We will respond if others reduce their use of force: and we will withdraw our soldiers once South Viet Nam is securely guaranteed the right to shape its own future."

If peace efforts fail, he said, "we will act as we must to help protect the independence of the valiant people of South Viet Nam."

But, pledged Johnson, "I am hopeful, and I will try the best I can with everything I've got to end this battle and return our sons to their desires."

Dirksen said he had hoped Johnson would be more specific on Viet Nam. But "he made it very specifically clear we are there to stay until the job is done, the pledges redeemed." the Illinois Senator added.

Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., however, said he was "deeply disappointed in the President's emphasis on dragging out the war for months and maybe even years rather than insisting that we do everything humanly possible to win it quickly."

Johnson observed that "because of Vie Nam we cannot do all that we should, or all we would like to do" but that "we will continue to meet the needs of our people."

In the civil rights field, he urged legislation to enforce "non-discrimination in federal and state jury selection." Dirksen said he had reservations on possible encroachment of state rights.

Johnson also urged legislation to ban discrimination in the sale and rental of housing.

Johnson's labor package included improved unemployment insurance, expansion of minimum wage benefits and repeal of the portion of the Taft-Hartley law which permits states to ban the union shop. The House passed this last year, but a Dirksen-led filibuster prevented Senate action.

The President apparently caught labor leaders by surprise in telling Congress he would propose legislation "to deal with strikes that threaten irreparable damage to the national interest."

"For those who live on farms and in rural America," the President said, "we must plan for the future through the establishment of several new community development districts, improved education through the use of teacher corps teams, and better health measures, physical examinations, and adequate and available medical resources."

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., commented, "If we try to enact all of the President's program, we will be here until Christmas." Johnson has said he hopes Congress will wind up its work and go home by June, but leaders of both Houses say that is unlikely.

Dirksen and Ford said they would make a formal GOP response next Monday.

Oxford Scholar Due To Lecture

Dr. A. L. Rowse, an Elizabethan scholar at Oxford University and one of the world's leading historians, will speak in Mill Valley Mar. 11 at a fund-raising event sponsored by the Mill Valley Library Board.

Board member Benjamin Draper told trustees last night that Rowse had accepted Draper's invitation and will speak on "Sir Francis Drake and the Elizabethan Age."

The event will raise money for dedication ceremonies for the new library under construction. The library is expected to be completed by mid-May.

ty is to get aid from the federal aviation agency, Maloney said.

Tollefson, under a tentative agreement, would sell the exclusive contract (running to 1972) back to the county for $17,500, provided federal aid is requested.

Commissioners were asked by supervisors Tuesday to report in two weeks on the future of the county airport at Novato.

All commissioners but Nave thought it would take more than two weeks to give the question full study.

Wright moved the commission request four weeks in which to prepare it report, but commissioners postponed a decision on this until the meeting at the Civic Center at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Christensen said he generally favored limited improvements at Novato. Coffin seemed to agree.

Wright said late in the discussion that he was "alarmed at the tone of this." He suggested that four members of the commission apparently had already made up their minds.

Ostlind promised to circulate all available studies on the airport, including the recent J. G. Percy report which urged a half-million dollar Federal Aviation Agency project at Novato. Ostlind called the report "more or less a discard" and something to be taken with a "grain of salt."

"Why don't you let them make up their own minds?" Nave asked.

Ostlind urged commissioners to also read his own dissenting opinion.

"The county should have hired you for the report," Nave said.

Ostlind said he considered himself, with 24 years in the Air Force (14 on active duty), as much of an expert as Percy.

Ostlind showed a film produced by the FAA on economic advantages of airports, particularly as a draw for industries. Then he described the parallel runway plan at Hamilton. It would require purchase of 800 acres and investment of around $4 million, but much of the money would go to industrial land that would pay for itself in short order by attracting industry, said Ostlind, who is a real estate broker.

Nave repeatedly said that the Air Force and Department of Defense have turned the proposal down. Ostlind said the original presentation was not properly made and his proposal differs in that runways would connect the civilian strip with the military one, and the Air Force would benefit.

Johnson's words of peace and said his State of the Union message proved the current U.S. drive to end the war in Viet Nam was a "smoke screen," a Japanese news service reported from Peking.

The Chinese emphasized Johnson's avowed determination to keep U.S. forces in South Viet Nam and said his 14 points for ending the war clashed so directly with Hanoi's four-point "peace plan" and that he cannot seriously hope for negotiations.

French President Charles de Gaulle may seek to enlist Russian aid in getting the Communists to the Viet Nam peace table during a visit to Moscow later this year, sources said.

De Gaulle has accepted a five-year-old invitation by the Soviets, it was announced last night. He probably will go some time next summer, French officials said.

De Gaulle and the Russians agreed last February to work together to bring about Viet Nam peace talks. The efforts came to nothing because the Russians insisted bombing of North Viet Nam must cease first. De Gaulle took the firm stand that no strings must be attacked to peace negotiations.

Artists Group Names Officials

Joan Wiker was elected vice president, Pauline La Lancet secretary, and Kharvina Johnson, treasurer.

Committee chairmen elected were: Herta Rothschild, arts and acceptance; Lila Baugh, exhibits; Shirley Lancaster, ways and means; Lola Lane, membership, and Katharane Johnson, publicity.

Obscene Matter Is Charged

A Fairfax dentist was arrested at noon today on a charge of possession of obscene matter with intent to exhibit it.

A second misdemeanor count alleges Dr. Charles Frederick Tobin, who practices in San Francisco, with dispensing a dangerous drug not correctly labeled.

Tobin, of 101 San Gabriel Drive, was booked in Marin County Jail in lieu of $1,100 bail.

The bulk of the world's supply of cloves and clove oil comes from Zanzibar and the nearby island of Pemba.

SHAVING MUGS

Other Eras Remembered As Barber Shop Closes

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Clipping will stop in Mill Valley's Oak Barber Shop Saturday, where Thomas Bickerstaff got his last trim today.

"I got my first hair cut there in 1903—63 years ago when I was 10," said Bickerstaff. "It cost me two bits."

"Lou Gesch owned the shop. After school, we kids used to stay outside the shop on the boardwalk — there were no sidewalks, just three planks—while Lou played the mandolin.

"There were three barbers, Gesch, George Chavez and Louis La Matri. I often wondered why they had three men. One could have handled it.

"Chavez and La Matri played the guitar and both sang. It was good music. It was a boot.

"Gesch gave baths in the back room at 15 cents a bath. I never took a bath there. I took it at home once a month in a tub, and not a bathtub. Just a tub. People got the bath at the Oak on Saturday night — certain guys," said Bickerstaff.

A shave cost 15 cents. The Oak also gave shampoos and massages. Asked how much a massage cost, Bickerstaff replied: "I don't know. I never had one. The high ducks got that, like guys from the water company and Orville Jones from the Record-Enterprise around the corner."

The Oak Barber Shop at 110 Throckmorton Avenue, along with a small shop, Ursula's Originals, next door (which already has been vacated) are the first buildings to be condemned under a new city downtown rehabilitation program. They are expected to be demolished in March and new shops built by owners Frank Canepa and Henry Thran.

William O. Bowen, proprietor of the Oak, will work his last day there Saturday, and will open Bill's Oak Barber Shop at Locust and Miller avenues next Tuesday. Barber Bowen, most often called Bill, is buying Jim's Barber Shop from Jim Sparks of San Francisco.

Sparks, going into semi-retirement, will work part time for Bowen. "I got my first hair cut in the shop (Jim's)" and Bowen, who grew up in Homestead Valley nearby but now lives at 1770 Marin Avenue, Novato.

Bowen has worked at the Oak since 1957, first barbering for Andy Garell and buying the shop in 1961. Other owners, said Bowen, have included Tony Arrigo, Art Nichols and Robert Morrisette.

The Oak, always a barber shop, got its name because a big oak once grew behind the shop, said Bickerstaff, who resides at 255 East Blithedale Avenue.

Paint is peeling on the gray-sided shop, a couple of shingles are missing from the fringe on top, but Bowen said the structure has not leaked up until last week's storm, when rain came in the front window.

Bickerstaff recalls the shop when Throckmorton was dirt and people rode in horse buggies. The steam train came into Mill Valley and the "other railroad" went up the mountain.

"In those days," he said, "the guys used to have their own shaving cups with their own lather soap and brush. There were about 40 cups, fancy ones, on a shelf, with names of owners lettered in gold. I recall one for Nick Yost. He owned the lumber company. And one for J. Fred Schlingman. He was a dandy . . .

"We had our hair cut by hand clippers, and they didn't put the combs in water. When they finished they threw the brush and comb and clippers in a drawer."

on Christmas Eve is still in effect.

A large guerrilla force ambushed and badly mauled a South Vietnamese battalion and its American advisers at daybreak today within artillery range of the big U.S.-Australian Operation Crimp.

About 500 guerrillas ambushed a South Vietnamese battalion of about the same size clearing Main Route 1 between Trang Bang and Cu-Chi, 18 miles northwest of Saigon.

Government troops took moderate casualties but there was a heavy toll among the American advisers with them, a spokesman said.

Not far away, more than 8,000 U.S. and Australian troops in Operation Crimp engaged the Communists in several small but intense fights that raised the reported toll in the six-day push to 131 Communists killed, 80 captured and a mountain of supplies uncovered.

The largest U.S. campaign of the war began last Saturday on the rim of the Iron Triangle, an old Communist stronghold 25 miles northwest of Saigon.

In other actions, the Viet Cong mined a supply convoy 15 miles east of Saigon, got into a fire fight with a battalion in the Thong Chu area 125 miles west of Saigon and mortared Trung Luong, a district headquarters 20 miles northeast of Quang Tri city in South Viet Nam's northernmost province.

OBITUARIES

J. Allen Johnson Dies At 83

J. Allen Johnson of Belvedere, retired manager of a bag, burlap and canvas manufacturing company, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness. He was 83.

Johnson was born in New Jersey but came to California at the age of 6 months and lived most of his life in Los Angeles.

He worked 47 years for Ames-Harris - Neville Co., becoming Los Angeles manager of the company, which is now out of business.

Supervisors Held Inadequate As Boards Of Equalization

County supervisors, sitting as boards of equalization, "are generally ill-suited to give the property owner a fair and open assessment hearing," according to Francis J. Carr of San Francisco.

Carr challenged the role of supervisors in equalization hearings in an article in the November - December issue of the Journal of the State Bar of California entitled "Need for Disclosure in Property Tax Proceedings."

Supervisors have so many other concerns that they don't provide a proper amount of time for equalization "or enough specialized knowledge resulting from individual attention to equalization problems," Carr wrote.

"The result is that the board develops little expertise in assessment questions and often give the assessee a very summary hearing."

This, he claimed, has converted the assessment hearing from a quasi-judicial hearing where evidence is liberally admitted to "one in which the board often excludes evidence sought to be presented by the assessee as "immaterial, irrelevant, incompetent or secret."

Carr also said some inequities can only be proved by referring to area and county-wide average assessments, but that it takes a "long and ardous endeavor by the assessee" to establish the county - wide average.

He noted a hearing before the Marin County Board of Supervisors Aug. 4, 1965, which took an entire day on one protest.

At that time attorney Richard B. Weinstein, representing 141 Belvedere Lagoon property owners, presented a sales ratio study in an effort to prove that Lagoon properties were overassessed in comparison with the rest of the county. Supervisors denied the appeal.

Carr said, "Basic to the entire assessment system is the disclosure by the assessor of enough information to provide a property owner with an opportunity to evaluate the fairness of his assessment."

At present, the assessor need only publish the assessed valuation and inform any property owner whose property assessment has increased 25 per cent over the preceding year's value, he said.

One of the facts that should be disclosed is the assessment ratio which the assessor is using, he said. "Althought more assessors each year are making their assessment ratios public, it is incredible that this is not the practice throughout California."

Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, vice president of the California Assn. of County Assessors, was one of those who pushed through a tax reform program to be recommended to the legislature.

Two major points in the program are (1) to require assessors to use a uniform assessment ratio for all classes of property, and (2) to tell property owners the market value as well as the assessed values of their properties.

Broemmel's office has been doing this.

Carr suggested full market value appraisal and assessments at a standard ratio, as part of a reform program.

He also suggested that prior to protest hearings, the State Board of Equalization publish the county-wide average ratios of assessed to fair market value.

Assault Suspect Bound Over

John Allan Acree, 18, was bound over to Marin Superior Court Tuesday following a preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

A second charge, possession of marijuana, was dismissed by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. for insufficient evidence.

Acree, of 209 Cardinal Road, Tamalpais Valley, allegedly assaulted Jack J. Green, 16, of 449 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, with a telephone receiver last Nov. 15.

The other charge was filed for allegedly having marijuana in his clothing last Oct. 31 on Main Street in Tamalpais Valley.

School Buys Land In Marin

Hillwood Academic Day School of San Francisco has purchased five acres near the entrance to Muir Woods, and may eventually move its operations to the site.

Mrs. Mary J. Libra, owner and director of the private school, said she plans to consult with the county, conservation groups, nearby homeowners and the federal Division of Parks in planning future use of the site.

It is near Camp Hillwood, which has been owned by the school since 1955.

Native Sons Name Officers

Leslie E. Wider of 1911 Center Road, Novato, has been elected president of Mount Tamalpais Parlor 64, Native Sons of the Golden West.

He will be installed at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Portuguese-American Hall, San Rafael.

Other officers are Merle Mazza, junior past president; Edison Lawrence, first vice president; Louis Milani, second vice president; George Silveira, third vice president; Robert Ayres, marshal; Angelo Mecchi, inside sentinel; Paul Stansky, outside sentinel.

Re-elected were financial secretary Charles Soldavini, recording secretary S. W. Benepe and trustees Chester Bonfiglio, Frank A. Milani and Marston J. Hecht.

Committee Session

Meetings of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District building and operating committee and finance committee will be held tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the bridge administration building.

Parallel Parking Opponents Active

Opponents of parallel parking in downtown San Rafael will put their case before the city council Feb. 7, City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen reported today.

Petitions are being circulated by some downtown merchants who object to the city's planned abolition of present angle parking. The petitioners had earlier talked of going before the council next week but changed their plans today, Andersen said.

Flood Control Held Vital Now

Flood control must not wait on water supply projects, Jerome B. Gilbert, manager of the North Marin Water District, told the water problems section of the Commonwealth Club in San Francisco today.

Periodic devastation by floods shows the need for flood control work in the north coastal section of California, he said.

The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation and State Water Resources Board have plans which envision diversion of water from the Eel River—a major flood source—by the late 1980s, said Gilbert.

"If these water use needs are to dictate the timing of construction, then badly needed flood control projects will be delayed too long," he declared.

"The North Coast is indeed California's water bank account," declared the Novatan, who is also president of the Eel River Assn. "I believe that multi-purpose development is one of the essential ingredients for the full economic development of the North Coast."

This, he said, should give priority to flood control with considertion of the benefits in recreation, fish and wild life preservation, and future water needs.

Birth defects occur in an estimated 6 to 7 per cent of all live births, according to the National Foundation-March of Dimes.

Attorney Asks A Delay Of Air Force Murder Trial

Airman 1/c James O. Young, charged with murder in the fatal New Year's Day stabbing of another Hamilton Air Force Base airman, has obtained civilian counsel for his court martial trial.

First action by Young's attorney, Sol A. Abrams of San Francisco, was to request a postponement of the pre-trial examination, part of the general court martial proceeding, from its scheduled date of Feb. 17, officials at the air base reported today.

Young, a 34-year-old Air Force veteran from Russell, Kan., is charged with the fatal stabbing of Airman 1/c Robert M. Jennings, 33, of Jamaica, N.Y., in the barracks on the base where both resided.

There has been no ruling yet from the judge advocate general's department at the base on Abram's request for delay of the pre-trial examination.

French trains are carrying 20 per cent more passengers and 70 per cent more freight than before World War II.

Employment, Wages Reach Record High

WASHINGTON (AP)—The average gross weekly earnings for nonfarm payroll employees reached a new high of $110.92 last month.

The Labor Department says total nonfarm payroll employment also reached a new high at 62.6 million, up 600,000 from November and 2.7 million higher than in December of 1964.

Wealthy School District Votes For Poverty Aid

Bolinas-Stinson School District, one of the wealthiest per pupil in Marin County, will receive federal aid under the economic opportunities act (anti-poverty bill), trustees agreed last night.

The board voted 4-1, Trustee Mrs. Alyce Thompson dissenting, to accept about $2,100 which will be used either for craft equipment or, if this is not permissible, for a library.

"We did it under protest," reported clerk Arthur E. Carpenter. "We considered not accepting it at all. The prime reason for acceptance was that if the district does not take the funds now, it can't get them if they are needed later.

"We're one of the wealthiest districts. It's ridiculous that it be given to us."

The board was advised about a week ago to apply for funds, if it wished. Eligibility is based on a 1962 figure that there were at that time eight school children whose parents make $2,000 or less per year, Carpenter said. He added that he does not know whether those eight pupils are still in the district.

Trustees signed an agreement with Page Construction Co. of Santa Rosa for construction of a classroom and three restrooms at Bolinas school and heard that ground was to be broken on the $56,950 project today. Work is expected to be completed in two or three months.

J. Jackson Austin Jr., guidance consultant of the county superintendent of schools office, said results on achievement tests given grades four through eight last fall were better than ever before obtained in the district.

The amount of electricity produced has doubled every 10 years for the past 50 years.

Auto Is Alleged To Have Hit Girl

Remey A. Waldteufel, 14, of Mill Valley, was treated for bruises and cuts on her right knee yesterday after she was allegedly struck by a car while in the crosswalk at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto at 8 a.m. Miss Waldteufel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emille Waldteufel of 325 Melrose Avenue, was treated by her own doctor.

Defense Brings Up Silverthorne Gifts

Two cash gifts to his chief teller were offered as evidence yesterday that former San Francisco banker Don C. Silverthorne was not really the bad sort the prosecution in his federal conspiracy trial had made him out to be.

This came as the defense opened its case in the trial of Silverthorne and William S. Bennett before Judge Charles L. Powell in San Francisco.

Appearing on the stand was Mrs. Nancy Hester Priola, who was chief teller of the San Francisco National Bank until it was closed by the comptroller of the currency a year ago. Mrs. Priola had appeared only a day earlier as a witness for the prosecution.

Under questioning by Silverthorne's lawyer, George Martinez, Mrs. Priola testified that Silverthorne twice gave her cash gifts of $300 apiece.

The first occasion, she said, was when a baby sitter ran up a telephone bill for that amount. The second cash gift came when she found herself $300 short at her window at the end of a day.

Martinez also tried unsuccessfully to introduce a letter to bank employees which he said showed "another side of Silverthorne. It shows him to be kindly and sentimental."

Judge Powell upheld the objection of Asst. U.S. Atty. James Brosnahan, who charged that the letter was "self-serving and not material."

"If you are going to get into what a kind of a person Silverthorne was down at the bank," said Brosnahan, "then we will really go into it."

An effort to discredit some of Mrs. Priola's earlier testimony was made by Bennett's lawyer, James Martin MacInnis. In anticipation of her testimony, he told Judge Powell, he had told Bennett to make tape recordings of two conversations with the former teller.

MacInnis wanted to introduce transcripts of the recordings. Judge Powell, however, insisted he produce the tapes. MacInnis was expected to do so today.

College Conference Slated On Volunteers School Role

Effective use of community volunteers in Marin schools will be discussed Jan. 29 at a six-hour conference at the College of Marin.

Titled "The School, the Teacher, and the Volunteer," the conference is co-sponsored by the Volunteer Bureau of Marin, the Marin School Volunteer Committee, and the Junior League of San Francisco.

Chief speaker will be John H. Niemeyer, 57, president of Bank Street College of Education in New York City, special consultant to the U.S. Commissioner of Education, and a member of the steering committee of Project Head Start.

JOHN H. NIEMEYER
Expert will speak

Niemeyer foresees a growing role for local people in assisting schools as paid teacher aides or volunteers.

The conference, which will begin at 8:45 a.m. and end at 2:30 p.m., will also include workshop sessions led by school administrators, teachers, and volunteers. Niemeyer's talk will begin at 9:30.

Registration, which will require a fee, may be made through the Volunteer Bureau of Marin County at 725 A Street, San Rafael.

Rec Secretary Plans To Resign

Patricia M. Gowen, secretary of the Strawberry Recreation Commission for 10 years, has told board members she intends to resign in about six months.

At her home at 227 Reed Boulevard, Strawberry, yesterday, Mrs. Gowen said she and her husband, James W. Gomen, a chartered accountant, hoped to leave the area this spring.

"In the matntime," she added, "the board is considering appointing a manager who will take much of the administration work away from the secretary.

"The responsibility of this group has grown to such an extent in the past few years, I have felt someone like a manager has been required for some time."

Larkspur Council Told To Seek State Funds

Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission last night urged the city council to take any action necessary to get whatever state recreation and park funds might be coming to Larkspur.

The council, they said, should discover how this money is to be divided in the county, and whether any of it will be earmarked for the cities.

Special Meeting

The West Marin School District Board will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. today at West Marin School to discuss the district building program with representatives of Haines, Tatarian and Associates, San Francisco architects.

Christopher Asserts Demo Votes Necessary

A Republican nominee for governor must draw about 23 per cent of the Democratic votes to win, George Christopher of San Francisco declared yesterday in San Rafael.

The former San Francisco mayor and his wife visited the Independent-Journal and radio station KTIM.

They were accompanied by Tally P. Mastrangelo of Sausalito, northern California executive director for the Christopher campaign and executive assistant to the state campaign coordinator.

Christopher is stumping the state to win the GOP nomination against such hopefuls as Ronald Reagan, Laughlin E. Waters, and William Patrick of Tiburon.

Christopher said the Republican nominee must be chosen on the basis of experience and qualification as well as electability.

"We need a person who can win, not only in the primary but in the final election," said Christopher. "We can't win unless we win 23 per cent of the Democrats."

He said he believes in the type of free enterprise system which allowed him, the son of a Greek immigrant, to work his way through college and achieve success in business and civic affairs.

Marin Residents In 'Health' Film

Sixteen Marin County residents will take part tonight in the filming of a Columbia Broadcasting System television special, the "National Health Test."

The volunteers will be among 200 persons recruited by Bay Area chapters of the American Red Cross to act as a control group in sequences filmed at the California Academy of Sciences in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park.

Two other groups will be filmed in other parts of the country.

The program will be televised in two parts. First will appear on station KPIX at 10 p.m. Tuesday; the second on Jan. 25.

OF TRADING STAMPS AND VALENTINES

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—With a little luck and 2,400,000 trading stamps, Sylvia will be married on Valentine's Day.

That was the deadline set today by the friends of the Zoo Society who hope to obtain a mate for the 3-year-old gorilla at the Baltimore Zoo.

Dr. Arthur Watson, zoo director, says he has been told by officials of a trading stamp firm that they will supply a male gorilla for the nuptials in exchange for 2,400,000 stamps.

The Grass Is Getting Greener All The Time

Theft of the motor of a power mower stored in a shed at the archery range on North San Pedro Road, Peacock Gap, was reported today by sheriff's officers.

Harold W. Makinson, 4 Hillview Avenue, San Rafael, said his motor, value not estimated, was taken during the past 10 days. The shed lock had been forced.

Chamber Likes Tamalpais Train

Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday gave "qualified endorsement" to the proposed re-establishment of a railroad up Mount Tamalpais.

Frank C. Allen of San Anselmo, one of three Marin men proposing that the line be constructed from Mountain Home Inn to the mountain top, outlined plans and the board studied sketches which include a proposed restaurant.

No objection to the proposal has been received from businessmen in Mill Valley, and many favorable comments have been expressed, Granville L. Beedle, chamber secretary-manager, reported. The Mill Valley City Council has endorsed the plan "in principle." Final decision rests with the Marin Municipal Water District, on whose land the railway would run.

Gulls that appear white to the oserver are adults while those with generous portions of brown are young ones.

Brazil Flood Death Toll Reaches 283

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The death toll from floods and landslides in the Rio De Janeiro area reached 283 today with disclosure that disaster also hit a valley city to the north.

A major water shortage caused when a boulder smashed a main line added to the misery as the area began a cleanup after three days of rain.

Authorities gave this breakdown of casualties: 184 known dead in Rio de Janeiro; 36 dead in Niteroi, across the bay; and 63 dead in Petropolis, a city of 52,000 nestled in the mountains 26 miles north of the city.

It was the flooding of Petropolis that sent the death figures soaring.

Library Board Approves Costs

Mill Valley Library trustees last night approved price lists on separate purchase units for $12,500 worth of custom-made furniture for the new library being built at Throckmorton Avenue and Elma Street.

Work will be done by Espenet of Bolinas, headed by Arthur E. Carpenter. Espenet submitted the low prices under bidding San Quentin prison and the Design Workshop, San Francisco, reported Mrs. John P. Farnham, board president.

The board also approved a list of standard furniture items and recommended the city council call for bids on them. No estimate was available on cost of the standard furniture. Estimate given in 1964 for total expenditures for furniture was $36,000.

SCHOOL TIPPLING

Physician Suggests How To Drink Class

NEW YORK (AP) — A Harvard University psychiatrist proposes that a new course be taught in the nation's schools and colleges—"practice drinking."

The psychiatrist, Dr. Morris Chafetz, yesterday told a conference on "Alcohol and Food in Health and Disease" that the purpose of the course would be to instruct young people how to drink socially under supervised conditions.

"Alcohol is here to stay," he said, "and people must learn to develop a healthy attitude toward it."

Chafetz suggested that "practice drinking" be initiated at a very early age, in elementary school, and continue through college. He said that the youngest children should be given very weak drinks at first, perhaps sherry in water, with the alcoholic contents gradually increased for the older students.

Chafetz, an assistant clinical professor of psychiatry at Harvard, is also director of the Alcoholic Clinic and Acute Alcoholic Psychiatric Service of Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston.

He told the conference that the home is not the place to teach youngsters how to hold their liquor because many parents have guilt feelings about their own drinking. In school, he said, the young people could be instructed on the hazards of improper use of alcohol.

Chafetz contended that the drinking would not encourage heavy consumption but would reduce it because there would be fewer heavy drinkers. By drinking small amounts with others, he said, the young would learn how to form relationships and derive a sense of relaxation and well-being from the experience.

School Bus Crash Injures Youngster

Twelve-year-old Larry Marshall, of 15 Meyer Road, San Rafael, was slightly injured at 3:15 p.m. yesterday when the school bus he was riding in was hit by a car on Paradise Drive near Corte Madera, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The boy was in a busload of children being driven home from county-operated classes at Alto School.

Patrolmen said the county-owned bus, driven by David R. Lawrence, 63, of 8 Alexander Avenue, San Rafael, was headed north when it was hit by a car driven by Vivian O. Cummings, 61, of 31 Alcatraz Avenue, Belvedere.

Larry was bumped on the head and was to see his own doctor, the patrol reported.

Although Mt. Rainier in Washington state still steams, the volcano last erupted about 2,000 years ago, according to the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Klan Held Threat To Ladybird Train

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Congressional investigators charged today that an alleged member of the Ku Klux Klan proposed dynamiting the "Ladybird Special" train carrying the wife of President Johnson as it passed through Mississippi in 1964.

The man was identified as Louis Anthony Disalvo of Waveland, Miss. On the witness stand today at the House investigation of the Klan, Disalvo refused to answer or comment on the charge, citing the Fifth Amendment's constitutional guarantee against self incrimination.

The dramatic charge was made by the House Committee on Un-American Activities' chief investigator, Donald Appell.

There was no further elaboration on the dynamiting charge.

Investigators also said that at one time Disalvo attempted to organize a "firing squad," presumably to carry out terrorist acts. There was no amplification of this.

Before resuming public hearings on Klan activity, the committee voted that seven national Klan leaders be cited for contempt of Congress.

The committee also recommended citations against three Chicago witnesses who appeared at a hearing last spring on Communism.

The contempt citations would be presented to a federal grand jury. The penalty for conviction is a maximum of one year in jail and a $1,000 fine.

The Klansmen, including Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., were cited for failing to produce Klan records subpoenaed by the committee.

The Chicago witnesses were cited because in Willis' words, "they refused to testify and walked out of a hearing without being excused from their subpoenas."

The Chicagoans were identified as Dr. Jeremiah Stamler, Yolanda Hall and Milton Cohen. They were called in connection with a committee investigation of the Communist movement.

In addition to Shelton, four so-called grand dragons—state are James R. Jones, Granite Quarry, N.C.; Robert E. Scoggin, Spartanburg, S. C.; Calvin Craig, Atlanta, Ga., and Marshall R. Kornegay, a North Carolinian who has been organizing Klan units in Virginia and serving as grand dragon.

The two others cited are George D. Dorsett, Greensboro, N.C., and Robert Hudgins, Raleigh, N.C.

Western Celebration Being Planned

The drums started beating for this year's Novato Western Weekend last night at a meeting in the Novato Community House attended by about 80 people from 18 organizations.

John Gilmore, chairman of the board of the newly incorporated celebration, asked that the organizations decide what parts of the celebration they would like to take over, and report at a meeting at 8 p.m., Jan. 25, at the Novato Chamber of Commerce office.

The annual celebration in late June was formerly staged by the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce, but has now been incorporated. Board members of the corporation, besides Gilmore, are Paul Dock, Paul D. Fry, John G. Stuber, Eugene Strockbine, David G. Douglass, and Martin C. White.

The organization has $1,972.31 in cash to start this year's celebration, Stuber reported.

Reservist Assigned

Lt. Col. Reginald B. Pearce of 161 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo, has been assigned to Flight A of the newly formed Air Force Reserve Specialty Training Squadron at Fort Miley, San Francisco.

PHARMACIST—A. H. Angelini of Los Ranchitos was installed as president of the Northern California Society of Hospital Pharmacists at a dinner meeting this week in San Francisco. He is director of the pharmacy and allied services at Ross Hospital.

Firearm Ban Due Discussion

The Tiburon City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School, will consider an ordinance to prohibit firearms within the city.

Also under consideration will be a model ordinance on community television systems prepared by the California League of Cities.

The council is expected to accept the annexation of a portion of Mercury Avenue in Belveron Gardens to the Tiburon Fire Protection District.

The council meeting had been scheduled for Monday but was postponed because of the death Friday of Tommy Hoffmire, 4-year-old son of Councilman John S. Hoffmire Jr.

Driving Course

The three-session course in safe driving offered by the Marin Chapter of the American Red Cross will start at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, not Monday as reported yesterday in the Independent-Journal.

The other two-hour sessions will be on next Thursday and Jan. 25.

Many Apply For Parks Job

Eighty-one persons have applied for the $14,400-a-year job of Marin County parks and recreation director.

The county personnel department will screen the written applications and schedule about 12 for interviews by a three-man board next Wednesday. The board's top selections will be interviewed by the board of supervisors on Feb. 2, meeting in closed session with the parks and recreation commission.

The new man will replace Kelvin J. Nelson, who resigned in September. He was getting $10,968.

'Salesman' Tryouts

Tryouts will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Sausalito Little Theater, 745 Bridgeway, for parts in the theater's coming production of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman." Dion and Lynne Arden Chesse, who will direct the play, will appear in the lead roles of Willy and Linda Loman.

Novato Mother Found Dead Of Bullet Wound

Mrs. Margaret Louise Bertucci, 37-year-old Novato mother of three, was found shot to death yesterday in the bedroom of her home at 641 Plum Street.

Mrs. Bertucci was dead of a single gunshot wound in the head, which Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said had been self-inflicted with a .22 caliber automatic pistol.

The body was found by her daughter, Judy, when she returned home from school about 3:45 p.m., Bradley said. No note was left.

Mrs. Bertucci had been despondent, Bradley reported.

Bradley placed the time of death of approximately 9 a.m. An autopsy was to be performed today at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato.

A native of Texas, Mrs. Bertucci had lived in California for 30 years and in Marin County for 21 years.

Low Yield A-Blast At Nevada Test Site

nuclear test of low yield was conducted underground today at the Atomic Energy Commission's Nevada test site.

It was the first announced test of the year and the 66th since the signing of the limited nuclear test ban treaty in July, 1963.

Last year there were 24 weapons related tests.

Saw Stolen

Melvin L. Sabraw, of 239 Glen Park Avenue, San Rafael, told San Rafael police yesterday a $50 hand power saw was stolen from him at a construction site at 1550 Lincoln Avenue about Jan. 5.

Jail Trouble Continues With Inmate Cutting Arm

An inmate cut his left forearm and another allegedly tore up a padded cell last night in a continued siege of trouble by a group of young prisoners in Marin County Jail.

Blaine Jarrad Walters, 19, of 345 Drake Avenue, Marin City, was taken to San Rafael General Hospital about 10 p.m. after he cut his arm with half a razor blade. Seven stitches were taken to close the wound, and Walters was returned to the jail.

Source of the blade was not immediately learned.

Two hours later, sheriff's officers said, James Albert Sprague, 21, of 110 Laurel Place, San Rafael, tore wall padding in the solitary cell in which he had been placed after creating a disturbance with his meal tray and silverware in another cell.

Sprague was charged today with misdemeanor damaging of jail property. He and Walters, along with Ronald Gene Arrasmith, 20, of Boyes Hot Springs, also were charged today with the destruction early Tuesday of other jail propery. They allegedly tore out an overhead lighting fixture in the barber cell.

The trio had allegedly sawed a padlock hasp, entered the barbershop cell, and from it gained entrance to a false attic.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua Thomas, who filed the misdemeanor damage charge against them, said an attempted escape charge was not filed because the three apparently were only seeking to cause destruction. They returned to another cell and locked themselves in.

In addition, Sprague and Walters, along with Gary John Ammenti, 21, and Reynold Ashley Fitch, 18, both of no known address, and Thomas Haskell Thompson, 19, of 1015 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, are charged with battery in the Jan. 4 beating of a cellmate, James John McElhinney, 43.

McElhinney, of 108 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley, was injured about the face in the jail's day room shortly after being ordered to Atascadero State Hospital for 90 days observation for having carnal relations with a 14-year-old girl.

Attack Carrier Due In San Diego

Planes from the ship flew a record 12,328 combat missions during the trip, surpassing the 12,070 missions flown by the carrier Oriskany which returned to San Diego last month.

Eleven pilots were killed during the deployment.

The ship has been at sea more than 20 months during the past two years.

Marin Assessed Valuation Places 36th In California

Marin County's $2.185 tax rate per $100 assessed valuation places it in 36th place among the 58 county tax rates in the state, according to a report compiled by the state controller's office.

If the rate should be increased by 21 cents, as predicted by County Administrator Alan Bruce Tuesday, the county could climb to 19th place in the list.

The controller's list showed Alpine County with the top rate of $3.88 and San Mateo with the low of $1.34.

Marin is among the top in property tax support for the local budget. The figures show that 37.04 per cent of Marin's total county budget is finance from property taxes, fifth highest percentage among the 58 counties. Orange County heads the list with 40.94 per cent.

Catalina Losing Bird Sanctuary

AVALON, Catalina Island (AP)—The removal of 600 rare birds from a sanctuary will leave this resort island to the tourists.

The company operating a bird park plans to sell the birds and raze the sanctuary because of operating losses.

A company spokesman, Malcolm Renton, said one reason for the losses was the birds' finicky appetites—"which daily require fresh fruit salads that would be acceptable if served in fine restaurants."

Forgery Hearing Set For Municipal Court

Preliminary hearing for Alec Leon Webber, 47, of LaVerne, Los Angeles County, on two counts of forgery was set for Jan. 26 in Marin Municipal Court yesterday.

Webber, alias Dr. Joseph P. Cohen, is charged with forging two checks for $240 each last Oct. 12 to defraud Bank of Marin and Bank of America in San Rafael. He was arrested by San Rafael police on Dec. 24 and is free on his own recognizance.

Youth Council Talks Of 'Action' Merger

Members of the Marin Youth Council meeting at the Civic Center last night, talked favorably of a merger with Marin Youth for Action, which came into being after the Governor's Conference on Youth last November, council secretary Patricia E. Reynolds said today.

The Marin Youth Council voted to support a conference March 19 at College of Marin, sponsored by Youth for Action. After that, council members believe, it may be time to think of a merger.

Santa Barbara Fumes Over Burning Issue

SANTA BARBARA (AP)—To burn or not to burn?

The issue is whether to ban completely outdoor burning of trash and trimmings.

The law now limits burning to Wednesday and Saturday mornings.

And a sizeable number of citizens say part of the charm that lured them here was the pure air, through which the scenic vistas sparkle.

They say that Wednesdays and Saturdays a yellow pall shrouds the sky, dimming the view and dirtying the outdoors.

Many residents came to speak their piece at a city council meeting aimed at determining whether a burning ban would be in the public interest and what problems it might create.

Sample comments:

Donald E. Bode—"Nobody has a right to start a fire that is polluting the air for 65,000 other people."

Charles H. Greene: "It just can't be right to ruin a beautiful city by burning and making it miserable for all those around us."

John J. Laux—"Smoke is dirt and dirt breeds more than ill health. If you have a dirty city your research people will no longer want to locate here."

Charlotte Reimer—"Last Saturday was the worst I have ever seen. It was like a death pall over the city."

Morris F. Gaver—"Cars are the real cause of smog, not trash burning."

Arnold Lejeune — He is an enthusiastic gardener and disposal of trimmings by burning enables him to keep his premises clean. He urged no change.

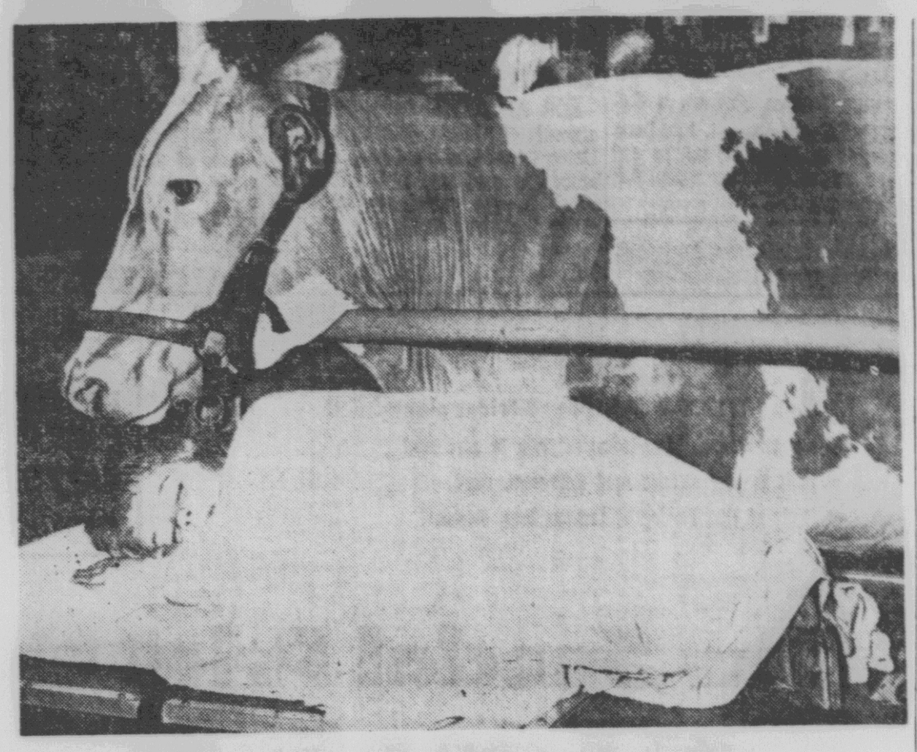

Chairman Leonard I. Kokeipin of the council's ordinance committee said he feels a complete ban should be invoked, with special permits issued by the fire department when and if necessary.

Candle Makers To Choose Union

San Rafael's candlemakers will be given a chance to vote on whether they should be represented by the National Assn. of Machinists and Aero Space Workers, the National Labor Relations Board has ruled.

Mechanists Local 238 in San Rafael received word from Washington yesterday that the election at the Colonial Wax Division of Victrylite Candle Co. may be held within the next 30 days. The exact date is expected to be set at a union-management conference some time next week.

The union began picketing the firm for the right to negotiate in October, and reported it had been trying to gain official recognition since January, 1965.

Doctor Begins Novato Practice

Dr. Wayne L. Campbell has opened an office for the practice of general medicine and surgery at the Indian Valley Medical Center at 1615 Hill Road, Novato.

Dr. Campbell received his medical degree from the University of Minnesota in 1954 and interned in Duluth, Minn. He had two years of residency at Sacramento County Hospital and two years in the public health service in Los Angeles. Following that, he entered private practice at Waseca, Minn., where he has been until moving to Novato.

Dr. Campbell and his wife and four children live at 114 Grande Vista, Novato.

Foot Of Snow In Midwest Snaps Lines, Closes Roads

CHICAGO (UPI) —A giant storm buried parts of the Midwest under a foot of snow today and pushed eastward to New England and the northern Atlantic Coast.

Heavy snow fell through most of the upper Midwest, particularlyin Wisconsin and Michigan. Hazardous driving warnings were posted in those states as well as in Illinois and Iowa.

At South Elgin, Ill., a mass of ice on the Fox River backed floodwaters 10 miles upstream, forcing evacuation of at least 23 families.

More than 12 inches of snow fell at Milwaukee yesterday and early today and officials of that city declared a snow emergency. The Chicago suburb of Buffalo Grove, Ill., reported 13 inches. Eleven inches of snow fell at both Grand Rapids and Muskegon, Mich.

Cold weather accompanied the snow in many areas. The nation's coldest temperature today was 22 below zero at Old Town, Maine.

In the Midwest, snow-laden power lines snapped. Icy winds drifted snow over scores of country roads and closed them to traffic. Dozens of schools closed in southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois.

The Weather Bureau posted hazardous driving warnings for eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania and issued heavy snow warnings for New England tonight.

Sleet and freezing rain was expected by nightfall to reach New York, whose transit strike was settled early today.

For much of the Midwest, the storm was the first real evidence that there was a winter.

Five Marin Youths Plan Careers With U.S. Navy

Four Marin County youths have joined the Navy through the San Rafael recruiting station, and a fifth enlisted under the "join now, go later" program.

Reporting immediately for eight weeks of recruit training at San Diego will be Stephen A. Leland, 18, of 754 Bamboo Terrace, Terra Linda; John W. Rodriquez, 19, of 73 Gold Hind Passage, Corte Madera; Gary G. Weisbarth, 18, of 124 Merrydale Road, Santa Venetia; and Ralston R. Buffam, -9, of 256 Cardinal Road, Mill Valley.

Leland and Weisbarth joined for three years, while Rodriquez and Buffam enlisted for four years.

Leslie R. Wood, 19, of 667 Orange Avenue, Novato, a College of Marin student, has been granted a delay of up to 120 days before he must report for recruit training.

In both World Wars, American forces liberated Luxembourg.

Union Officials Given Jail Terms

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Eight officials of United Steelworkers Union Local 6700 have been sentenced to pail for contempt of court in the aftermath of a strike last year at Harvey Aluminum Co.

In addition to jail terms—ranging from two to 41 days—Superior Judge Steven Fargo fined the local and the international union $14,000.

The penalties resulted from violations of a court order banning striking workers from blocking entrances to the Torrance plant and ordering a cessation of violent outbreaks.

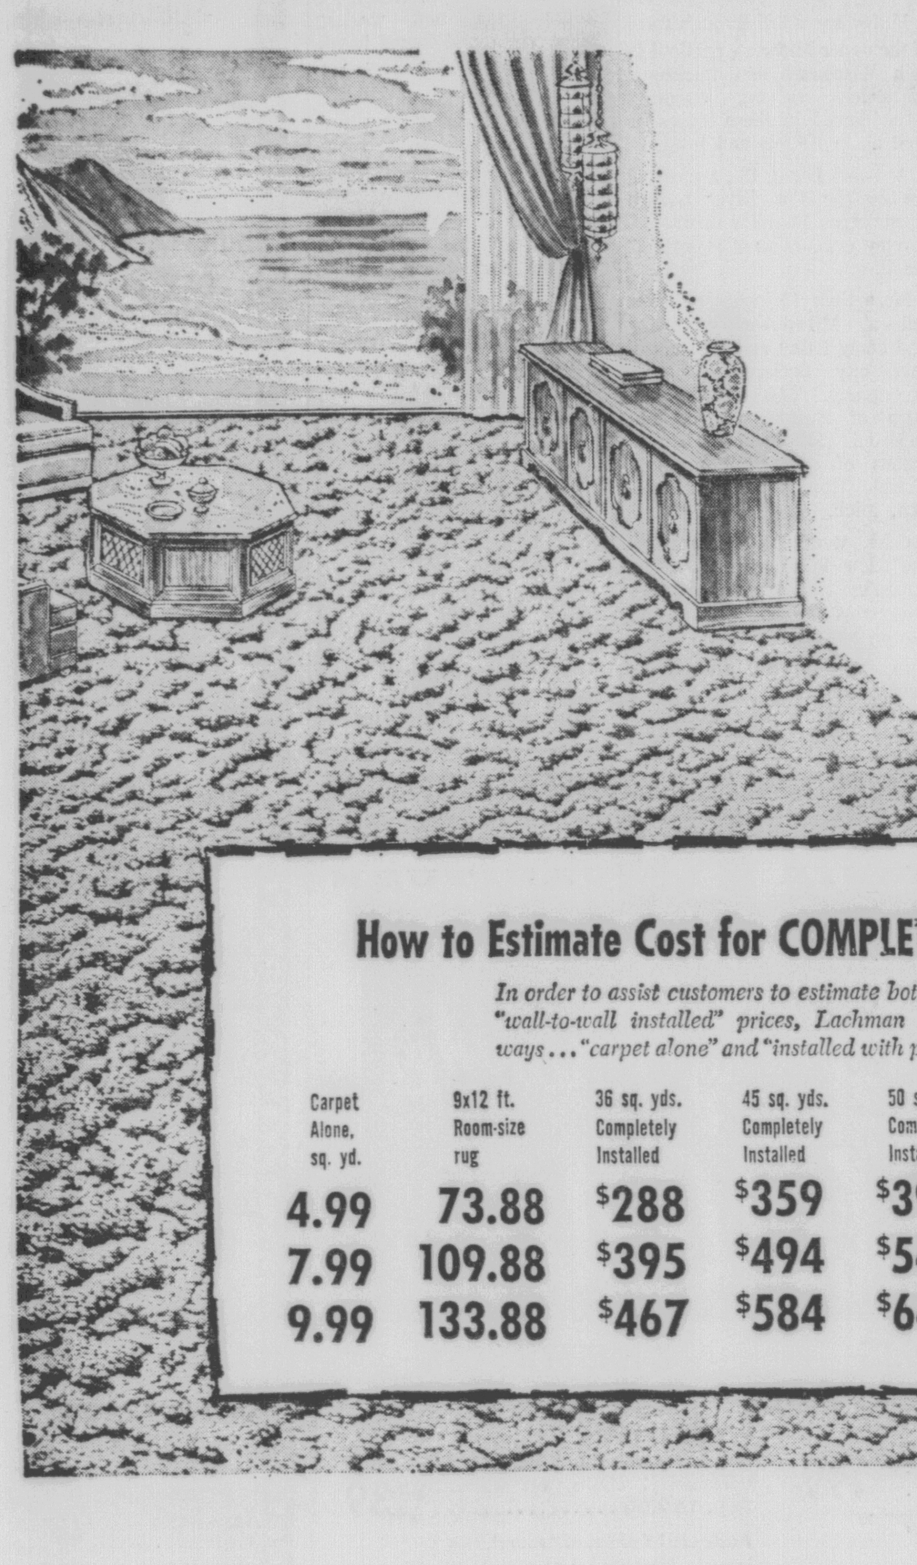

Tokyo Undamaged By Minor Earthquake

TOKYO (AP)—A minor earthquake shook Tokyo and the Kanto Plain and part of northern Japan at 10:42 p.m.-5:42 a.m. PST—today, the Central Meteorological Agency reported.

No damage or casualties were reported.

GALANOS

Layers And Layers Of Chiffon Femininity

NEW YORK (AP) — If the girl loves to be girlish — sophisticated during the day and flirtatious after dark — James Galanos' new collection of chiffons and color are made to order.

There's more bosom, more leg, more movement and more swishing skirts than ever before. At his showing, Galanos termed it a "young collection for women over 30."

Daytime hemlines are above the knee. Shoes are low-heeled sandles and the hats look like big Japanese coolie hats, sometimes at an angle, sometimes set straight on the head.

FOR EVENING, Galanos utilizes the fabric he says denotes femininity: chiffon, layers of it. Gowns are a basic dress of silk, covered by long-sleeved smocks of printed chiffons.

The huge Japanese kimono sleeve shows up in short as well as evening dresses, as do flying panels, pleats from the bust to the floor and flounces below the torso.

The waistline wanders, if it shows up at all.

Galanos crepe evening gowns have tiny straps and peek-a-boo cutouts around the waist, under the arms and down the front and back.

THE DRESS-COAT combinations are slender silhouettes made mobile by deep pleats either down the back or front. Coats are sometimes collarless, sometimes not, occasionally doublebreasted, and all are cut with narrow shoulders.

Galanos stuck with more conservative, soft colors — grays, beige, navy and black — for daytime and saved the apricots, limes, yellow, oranges, red and greens for nighttime.

"CLOTHES ARE younger, more wearable nowadays," says Galanos. "I can't expect the older ladies to wear skirts above their knees, but hems can be changed. New? Everything is new. This is our best."

Miss Gazzola Will Marry In December

The engagement of Marcia Ann Gazzola to Gerald Richard O'Brien has been announced. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gazzola of San Rafael and the sister of Carla Ann Barton of San Rafael. Mrs. Alice Hooker of San Francisco is her grandmother.

She was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended the College of Marin. Marcia is employed with E. R. Squibb and Son in San Francisco.

Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. O'Brien of Orange. The brother of John O'Brien, Jerry was graduated from Continuation High School and is employed with A. Carlisle and Co. in San Francisco.

The wedding has been scheduled for next December.

El Marinero Sets Luncheon

The Novato home of Mrs. Helen Noel will be the setting for the noon luncheon of El Marinero Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution on Monday. Hostesses will be Mesdames C. Guy Collins, Lawrence Dervin, Harry L. Hetrick, F. J. Poehlmann and Joseph C. Wayne.

Miss Caroline Purse of Novato, a major in speech therapy, will be presented by Mrs. Gerhard Becker with the first chapter scholarship given to a College of Marin student.

Mrs. Edwin W. Thomas, regent, will preside at the business meeting, and a program on national defense will follow.

INSTALLED YESTERDAY

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Luncheon Tomorrow Fetes Two Former Marin Friends

By MOLLY MARIN

Former Marinites, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Freitas who have been living in San Francisco, have returned to make their home in San Rafael. Tomorrow Lillian Freitas will entertain eight guests at luncheon at Trader Vic's in San Francisco. Guests of honor will be Mrs. Lucia Anderson Halsey, formerly of Marin, and Miss Virginia Formichi of Rome, Italy, a former student at Dominican College. Mrs. Halsey is looking forward to a three months' round the world cruise, one of the first trips on the President Roosevelt, which will begin on Jan. 20. On Monday, the Freitas' will leave for Pebble Beach to attend the Crosby Golf Tournament. Plans also include a trip to their home in Squaw Valley the following week.

THANKFUL TO BE home in Mill Valley after both pleasant and unpleasant adventures are the Randall Goulds. After spending two weeks in New York they boarded a 12-passenger freighter on Oct. 25 for a 53-day cruise, stopping at 15 ports. Among the places they visited were the Azores, Casablanca, Israel, Cyprus, Turkey, Athens and Naples. On Dec. 10 Mrs. Gould fell while walking on deck and fractured her leg. With no doctor aboard, she could do nothing but lie in her berth from Friday night to Thursday morning, when they were able to stop in Boston to see a doctor.

Since they wanted to go on to New York, she was permitted to go into a hospital there for an operation on Dec. 31. Mr. Gould was lucky enough to get a hotel room the day before the transportation strike started. Thursday the Goulds flew on home.

TO PUBLISH ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING STORIES IN THE I-J

January is a popular time for wedding and betrothal announcements. Forms for engagement and wedding story information to be printed by the Independent-Journal are available from the I-J offices in San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley, Corte Madera and Tiburon.

Wedding forms must be returned to the I-J promptly and information will be printed immediately after the wedding takes place.

The Independent-Journal does not print wedding stories or photographs more than 30 days after the wedding takes place.

Engagement forms may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph, which may be obtained in the I-J office after it is printed.

Midst Of Hoopla Revival Of White Touches Is Trend

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — Midst all the hoopla over the above-knee skirts, another trend for spring goes almost unnoticed. It's there in the amazing number of dresses for day, late day and evening which are completely feminine and pretty, in fabric, color and silhouette.

THE TREND shows in the revival of the white touches on dark dresses, the collar, cuffs, yokes and the flattering prints, more impressionistic than pop art.

It shows in silhouettes like the soft smock, or the almost always flattering skimmer leading the daytime parade. It shows in the way a dress is draped and seamed to give it a flow over the body.

It shows in fabric and fabric treatments, the soft four ply crepes, the chiffons, organzas, marquisettes and every other gauzy texture for evening, often done in two and three layers.

IT SHOWS also in swirling skirts on many of the short formals — as in one design by Karen Stark for manufacturer Harvey Berin. This was done in beige chiffon, with long cuffed sleeves, jewel buttons and enough yardage in the skirt to make it look like one of those dance dresses from a Ginger Rogers-Fred Astaire movie musical.

BERIN IS one of the New York Couture Group of designers-manufacturers, who with auxiliary members — this week are holding the 46th "National Press Week" for visiting press, radio and television representatives.

MANY OF the dresses in the collection of designer-manufacturer Hannah Troy feature back interest — back fullness, back panels, backs bared.

Some of the prettiest dresses from New York manufacturers were produced by designer Roxane for Samuel Winston. She liked tunics and tunic effects above box pleats, fan pleats, or tiers.

One other major manufacturer showed his collection Tuesday—but it wasn't a dress house. Originala makes some of the industry's smartest coats and suits. The firm featured something new in several collections for spring — the unlined coat and suit.

These were made of double-faced fabrics, and Originala made the inside seams as decorative as outside welts.

GUARDING THE HEART

Hypertensive Heart Disease More Prevalent In Women

By LEO A. WAGNER, M.D.
President,
Marin County Heart Assn.

(This article is presented by the Marin County Heart Association to inform readers of this newspaper about progress in the fight against heart and circulatory diseases.)

While coronary heart disease seems to afflict more men than women, other forms of cardiovascular disease affect both sexes about equally, or even in some instances, more women than men.

So, lest women lull themselves into a false sense of security by assuming that cardiovascular disease will automatically pass them by, now is a good time to sit up and take notice.

Hypertensive heart disease — a condition caused by high blood pressure — is more widely prevalent among women than among men. This form of heart disease, incidentally, is the one most often encountered among the adult population of the United States; in 1962, a government survey estimated that some 10½ million Americans had hypertensive heart disease. In addition, an estimated 6.9 million more have high blood pressure without heart disease.

WOMEN ARE substantially in the majority of those with hypertensive heart disease, outnumbering the men by nearly 2½ million. They are on a 50-50 footing with men in two other categories: high blood pressure and rheumatic heart disease; in fact, they have a slight edge over men in both these categories.

The other side of the coin is brighter, however.

Research advances of the past two decades have scored the greatest advances in just these areas of cardiovascular disease, with women getting the lioness' share of the dividends.

The death rate from hypertension and hypertensive heart disease for middle-aged women (45-64) went down 56 per cent between 1950 and 1962; that for men dropped 50 per cent in the same period.

Similarly, the death rate from strokes—sometimes related to hypertension — has declined steadily over the past 20 years, with the greatest decrease occurring among women in the 45-64 age group.

The decline in the death rate from rheumatic heart disease has been most pronounced — 85 per cent — among children and young adults, aged 5-24, over the past 20 years.

THE DISCOVERY of new pharmaceutical weapons to keep these scourges at bay is liberating millions from the threat of crippling disease and early death. High blood pressure can be brought down to normal levels, and kept down, with suitable treatment (including drugs and diet). Prompt antibiotic treatment of "strep" infection can prevent first attacks of rheumatic fever; long-term prophylaxis with penicillin and sulfa drugs can bar repeat attacks for those who have had the disease.

The American Heart Assn. played a key role in research leading to better understanding of hypertension and in formulating strategy for the war on rheumatic fever. But knowledge is only half the battle. Making certain that knowledge is applied on behalf of those who can benefit by it is the other half—perhaps an even more vital half. This is why your Heart Association devotes so much effort to educational work among both the public and the health professions and seeks to develop community programs so that what has been learned through research may be utilized as widely as possible.

YOUR HEART Assn.'s key message is: see your doctor regularly. Only your doctor can tell, for example, whether you have high blood pressure, and prescribe treatment to help keep it under control. And for the men, there's a bonus: additional insurance against heart attacks if high blood pressure is detected and treated early.

Linda Louise Long To Wed Charles Loux Of Larkspur

Mrs. Warren H. Long of San Rafael has announced the engagement of her daughter, Linda Louise, to Charles Edward Loux of Larkspur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton E. Loux.

Linda is the sister of Susan Elaine Long of San Rafael and the daughter of the late Warren Long. She was graduated from San Rafael High School and attends San Francisco State College.

Charles is the brother of Mrs. Kenneth Cable and Gary A. Loux who is serving with the U. S. Navy aboard the USS Enterprise. The future bridegroom was graduated from Redwood High School and is a member of the Marine Corps Reserve.

He is employed as switchman with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in Larkspur. No wedding date has been set.

LINDA LONG

Yachting Club To Hold Dance

The Loch Lomond Yacht Club will hold its dinner dance and installation on Saturday night at the clubhouse.

New officers are Carl Conradi, commodore; Robert Bohanna, past commodore; Robert Spencer, vice commodore; Jerry Kievenar, rear commodore; Vernon Onellette, treasurer; Gladys Abbey, secretary; A. J. Moffat, port captain; Allan Larkin Jr., power fleet captain, and William Malin, sail fleet captain.

Mrs. Larkin is reservations chairman for the 6 p.m. event.

Auxiliary Names Marin Members

New officers elected yesterday by the Auxiliary to the Mothers Milk Bank Inc. at Lakeside Country Club, San Francisco, include three Marin members.

Mrs. Les Vogel Jr. of Ross, last year's president, was elected to the board of directors, and Mrs. Charles Wood of Tiburon is second vice president and Mrs. W. Bruce Shafer of Kentfield, fourth vice president.

LIVING IN Georgia are newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Michael James Gannon, who exchanged vows at St. Anselm's Church. The bride is the former Cecille Marie Geramoni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Geramoni of Ross. Mrs. Michael Gannon of San Anselmo is the bridegroom's mother. Michael is attending Officers Training School in Georgia. (Ashworth photo)

LYNNE EDDY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Delmar Eddy of Ross are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Lynne Marie, to Lt. James Norman Todd.

The bride-elect is the sister of Barbara Jean Eddy of Ross. She was graduated from Redwood High School and is a senior at the University of California where she is a member of Alpha Phi sorority. In 1962, Lynn was an exchange student in the Experiment in International Living program.

The future bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wendell Todd of Tucson, Ariz., was graduated from Menard Prep School in Louisiana and the University of Washington, where he was affiliated with Delta Tau fraternity. He is serving with the U.S. Navy at Newport, R. I.

The wedding will be a spring event at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

Thursday Musical To Present Two Artists In Dewey Home

The Thursday Musical Club will present two artists, Robert Tefft on the French horn and Istvan Nadas, pianist, at 2:30 p.m. on Jan. 20 at the home of the Ralph Deweys in Belvedere.

Mrs. John Lesoine, president of the club, will assist Mrs. Dewey in welcoming members and their friends. Mrs. Richard Hughes, program chairman, will introduce the artists.

After the program, tea will be served by a committee under the chairmanship of Mesdames Angus Clark and E. C. Sargent, assisted by Mesdames Ralph Dewey, N. John Anton, George Geramoni and L. H. Jordan.

Robert Tefft, a free lance musician in the Bay Area and teacher at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, is founder and musical director of the chamber group, Capella di Musica.

Istvan Nadas was born in Hungary where he studied with Bartok, Kodaly, Kentner and Casella, winning the Franz Liszt award while in his teens. He appeared with the Budapest Philharmonic orchestra before making his New York debut at Town Hall.

SUBURBAN SCENE—

Bagnall of Belvedere, leaves this week for Dallas, Tex., where she will begin training as a stewardess for American Airlines. Nancy was a Marin debutante in 1963, attended Monterey Peninsula Junior College, and traveled in Europe for six months last year. Ironically, her holiday job with a firm dealing in ski equipment kept her from joining her parents and sisters, Margie and Ann, at Yosemite for a winter vacation. Other Belvedere families following a long-established custom of enjoying the snow at Yosemite at the year's end were the Joseph Royers, Russell Rices and Donovan Cookes.

JUST BACK FROM a three week stay in Mexico City are Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Shreve of Sausalito, who visited Mrs. Shreve's sister, Miss June Ripley, who makes her home in the south of the border capital.

Ted Canon Will Claim July Bride

The engagement of Janet Marie De Saussure and Ted Julian Canon of Lucas Valley has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. De Saussure of Greenbrae.

Jan, the sister of Stephen and Jeffrey De Saussure of Greenbrae, is the granddaughter of Mrs. Beryl De Saussure of San Francisco. She was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and majored in art at College of Marin. Gilbert, Shirley and Co. of San Rafael are her employers.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrell Canon of Lucas Valley and the brother of Hal Canon, also of Lucas Valley. Mrs. Frank E. Jerow of Fairfax is his grandmother.

He was graduated from San Rafael High School and is a senior structural engineering student at California State Polytechnic College in San Luis Obispo.

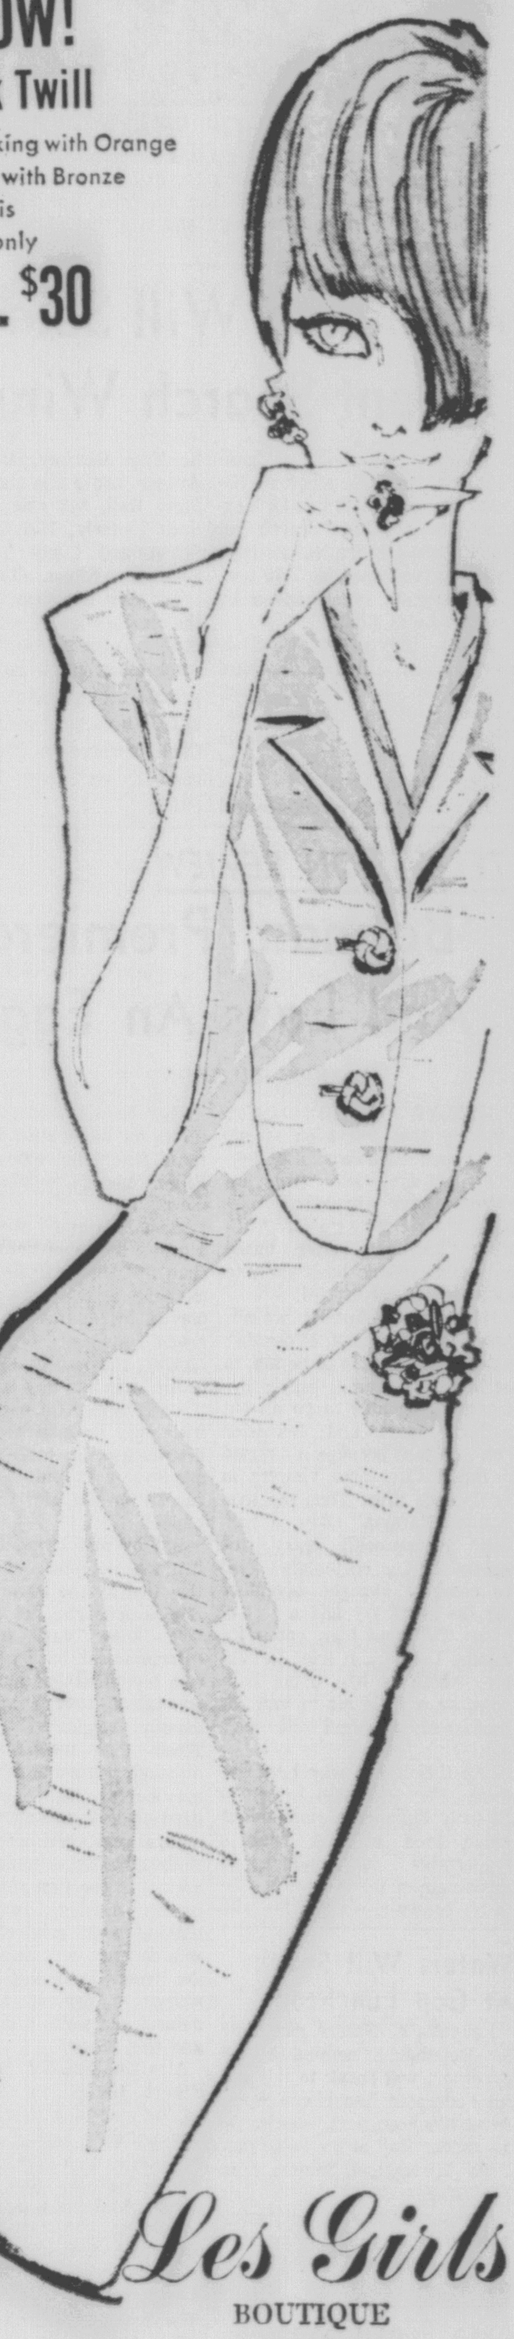

A July wedding is planned.

Officers' Wives To Aid Student

TWO DAYS OF SHAKESPEARE

"Julius Caesar," staring Louis Calhern, Marlon Brando, and Deborah Kerr, will have a two-day run on Jan. 19 and 20 at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo. The film will be shown at 8 p.m. both evenings, and at a student-faculty matinee at 4:30 p.m. on Jan. 20.

Audience Will Select Talent Search Winner

Budding show business hopefuls will take the stage at Novato Tuesday when Lou Di Maggio presents his "search for talent" show in the Novato High School gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. The program is sponsored by Novato Lions Club.

Susan Doran, 46 Woodside Way, Ross, will sing. Richard Secrist Jr., 5 Sunnyhill Road, Novato, will play the piano. Pat Harder, 64 Nova Lane, Novato will direct a rock-an'roll combo called "Anonymous".

Presenting dance routines will be Tam Ownbey, 1510 Grant Avenue, and a trio composed of Stevi Hall, 612 Canyon Road, Scott Fetterly, 1455 Cambridge Street and Cindy Tate, 1457 Cambridge Street, all of Novato.

Audience applause will select the local winner who has a chance to compete with winners from other cities for a $1,000 prize. The top winner will get $5,000, according to the Lions Club. Winners in Novato will compete on stage in larger cities.

TELEVISION REVIEW

'Batman' Premieres And Lays An Egg

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Considering that television is run by upper middle class burghers, I don't know why we should have expected last night's premiere of ABC-TV's "Batman" series, based on the old comic book hero, to be as hip as advertised.

Needless to day, it wasn't. And needless to say, it couldn't have been, because to be hip, to be anything—really antyhing—means to be able to go all out without fear, and television can't do that because it's afraid it might lose three viewers in backwoods area. Thus the live-action "Batman" show, a half-hour twice-weekly entry (the second half is on tonight) tried to combine straight adventure for the small fry and a sort of "Pop TV" and high camp for adults. In short, it tried to half-hip, which is like being half-safe, or a little bit in love, or moderately satisfied with one's job.

But this is the way burghers think. For television to try to be truly hip means running the same kind of risk that a respectable, dull middle-aged businessman takes on when he in his brown shoes and his wife in her floral pattern dress get up to do the Watusi in one of those fancy nightclubs ("Look, Hazel, there's Cary Grant!") in the big city.

"This "Batman" was strictly a brown shoe and floral pattern show. It had a few decent moments as the costumed hero, played by Adam West in the grand manner of Gardner McKay, ran into trouble with a comic strip bad guy type called "The Riddler." In one of these moments, Batman goes into a discotheque, in costume, and an employee asks him, "Anything I can do for you, sir? Check your cape?"

But by and large, the better instincts of the show were throttled by the basic fact that television is run not by people who know and understand entertainment, but by promoters who try to exploit and cash in on talent, trends and ideas usually originated elsehwere. What this means is that, although pop art and high camp may be very highly commercialized now, there was something natural and even perhaps pure of thought that stimulated their arrival in the first place. Video cares nothing, understands nothing, about original, genuine motivations but rather grabs the trend by the pocektbook, wrings it dry of all things natural and stuffs it into a hard and fast format.

Also on ABC-TV last night, Robert Goulet turned out as the star of a new half-hour series, "Blue Light," in which he plays a double agent in World War II who operates behind Nazi lines and tries to undermine the German high command. I wouldn't say the production is exactly second-class, but if I were the producer I would name the villain Brassfinger.

Waters Will Speak At Gop Luncheon

Laughlin E. Waters, candidate for Republican nomination for governor, will speak to the Marin Federated Republican Women at luncheon next Tuesday in Alexander Hall at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

President Barbara Hennessey announced a business meeting at 11.50 a.m. will precede the lunch.

Auto Repair Shops Are Burglarized

San Rafael police yesterday reported two burglaries of auto repair shops, believed to be the work of the same gang.

Dot-Sun General Auto Repair, 142 Mill Street, San Rafael, was broken into yesterday and $15 in cash stolen. Six bottles of liquor valued at $30 were reported stolen from Superior Body and Fender Shop, 136 Front Street, San Rafael.

Weaver To Exhibit

Creative Arts Gallery in Sausalito will feature a show by Beatrice Bernardi of Sausalito of pen and ink line drawings, water colors and sample handwoven fabrics. The show opens Saturday and will run to March 1. Mrs. Bernardi, who was trained at the University of California, is known primarily for her weaving.

Hardcastle Rips 'Political' Move

Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato today rejected a proposal that he run against William A. Gnoss next June for county supervisor as "political blackmail."

Hardcastle, a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, said he had "been approached by some people" to run "against my good friend, Bill Gnoss."

'Many people who did talk with me did not live in District Five, but were from other parts of Marin County," he said. "It was inferred by some of these people their interest in my running against Supervisor Gnoss arose from his voting for the Marincello master plan.

"I want to make it plain that I am a strong supporter of Supervisor Gnoss, and that I believe his vote for Marincello was as good for Marin County as votes he has cast previously in his career for the Golden Gate Bridge, the establishment of Hamilton Air Field in Marin County, and the construction of the Civic Center.

"Furthermore, I do not consider it proper for Marinites to seek out candidates to oppose Supervisor Gnoss in an attempt to 'punish' him for his vote on Marincello.

"Bill Gnoss has been a splendid supervisor, and I expect to support him vigorously in his campaign for re-election. I call on other friends of Bill Gnoss to rally behind him against this type of political blackmail."

Hardcastle did not say who had made the overtures to him, but he specifically exempted two persons. He said those who approached him did not include Peter Whitney and Aline McClain "as has been reported."

Improvement Club Plan 'Flea Market'

Homestead Valley Improvement Club members Tuesday night passed a resolution commending the Marin County Housing Authority for efforts to secure housing for the elderly, particularly in Homestead Valley.

The authority is attempting to obtain land on Linden Lane, bounded by Montford and Evergreen avenues, for housing.

Directors announced that the annual membership meeting and election of officers will be held Feb. 8 at 8:15 p.m. at Brown's Hall.

They approved holding a "flea market" each Saturday, starting Feb. 5, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Brown's Hall, profits to go to the club. Jean Marie Secchitano will be coordinator. Any person or organization may rent space for the market, which will sell bake goods, clothing, jewelry, books and curios, according to presiden Bernard M. Weinstein.

Burglary Charge Warrant Issued

David Diaz Flores, 24, of Synanon House, Marshall, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Marin County sheriff's officers on a felony complaint from Los Angeles County charging burglary and receiving stolen property.

A warrant was issued Tuesday from Whittier. Flores was held in lieu of $1,100 bail pending arrival of Los Angeles County officers.

Friendship Clubs In Joint Program

The International Friendship Clubs of Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools will present a "Welcome to Japan" program at San Rafael High School cafeteria at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Proceeds of the event will go toward sending a student overseas. There will be Japanese dances, judo demonstrations and slides of Japan.

Tickets may be obtained at the door or by telephoning Mrs. Albert Frasier, 21 Center Street, San Rafael.

Prison Session

Norman Harrington of Corte Madera, supervisor of group counseling at San Quentin, will speak on "The Language of Maladjustment: Communication Problems of Inmates of San Quentin" at a symposium on Jan. 22 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Bay View Community Room, Geary and Palm Streets, San Francisco.

Tomales High Reconditioning Cost Increases

Voters in the Tomales High School District may have to be asked again to approve issuing bonds for reconditioning the main high school building.

Reason is that the cost of the project is expected to be well over the $175,000 estimated when the bond issue was approved in February, 1964, district Supt. Anthony Matulich said today.

Architect George Quesada told the Independent-Journal that the cost might be double the original estimate, mainly because the State Division of Architecture has changed its rules since the bond vote.

'ROUGH' ONE

Matulich emphasized that the school trustees have received no firm estimates since the "rough" one prior to the bond vote, although there have been pessimistic reports from the architect.

Quesada said the original study by the state division concluded that lateral stresses in the building were soundly provided for and no additional bracing would be needed. However, he said, the state has changed its mind.

Matulich said further detailed tests of the old building such as soil tests and test of concrete footings have turned up additional needs.

The state has required reconditioning the building. The district must order the work if the school is to continue there.

WORK DELAYED

Matulich said the board originally hoped to have the work done last summer, but planning delays have put it off a year. He said the board cannot make a decision on financing until it has the plans and detailed estimates.

"It would not be keeping faith with the voters to do part of the work with the $175,000 and then ask approval for more bonds," Matulich said. If the estimate comes in higher, he believes the entire issue with the new bond figure should be put before voters again.

Novato Mother Sues Store, Detective For $50,000

A Novato mother of two has filed a $50,000 damage suit in Marin Superior Court for alleged assault and battery by a store detective for Purity Stores, Inc.

Patricia B. Spontini, 25, of 9 Harkel Avenue, arrested last Feb. 16 by Woodrow Shropshire of the Purity Store at Nave Shopping Center in Novato, charges he siezed her by an arm without identifying himself, then viciously assaulted her and used degrading language.

The suit alleges that only after a witness confronted Shropshire did he identfy himself and tell Mrs. Spontini she was being arrested for shoplifting.

A Marin Municipal Court jury acquitted her of the petty theft charge on April 15. Mrs. Spontini asks $25,000 general damages and $25,000 punitive damages of Shropshire and the firm.

Widow Leaves Bulk Of Funds To Charities

Ethel Van Zandt, long-time Mill Valley resident who died Christmas Eve, left the bulk of her estimated $29,000 estate to charities, a hospital, and clubs, according to her will filed in Marin Superior Court.

The 76-year-old widow of Wynant Van Zandt, who was once office manager for the Save the Redwoods League, died in a local rest home after a long illness.

She left the league, headquartered in San Francisco, $3,000; Salvation Army, San Rafael, $1,000; Marin General Hospital, $5,000; incentive awards program for employees' suggestions at Fort Miley Veterans Administration Hospital, San Francisco, $2,000; Marin County Humane Society, $2,000; Mill Valley Men's Golf Club, $2,000; Episcopal Church of Our Savior, Mill Valley, $2,000; and Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation and American Cancer Society, equal amounts of the remainder of the estate after designated gifts to three personal friends.

No Accidents

J. R. Skilling of 235 Marin Street, San Rafael, was one of a team of 114 drivers for Consolidated Freightways who completed more than one million accident-free miles just before the close of 1965.

Half-Million Suit In Traffic Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)— A suit seeking $500,000 damages for the death of his adopted son and injuries to himself in a traffic accident has been filed by the founder-director of the Hong Kong Blind Choir.

The suit was filed here yesterday by Stephen K. Shao and his wife, Florence, against Mrs. Eva Ballard Keenan of Los Angeles. Mrs. Keenan allegedly was driving the car that struck Shao and his son, John Chen, 22, last month.

Chen was killed and Shao, who is not blind, was seriously injured.

Dope Raiders Nab Minister, Wife

PALO ALTO (AP)—Sheriff's deputies, on a raid in search of a hallucinatory drug, said they found marijuana instead and arrested a psychologist and his wife.

Arrested were Paul S. Kurtz, 51, former Methodist minister, and his wife, Edna Mae, 47, a record secretary at Hansen Physics Laboratory, Stanford.

Tony Poso, a detective sergeant, said a patient reported that Kurtz served coffee laced with rum and LSD, a hallucinatory drug, at group meetings.

Deputies raided the Kurtz home at 771 Sutter Ave., Poso said, but found no LSD, although they did find loose marijuana in a bedroom.

Novato Art Show

Ex-Professor Cleared Of Security Ban

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A lawyer says the federal government has decided to give security clearance to Sheldon C. Plotkin, former university professor accused of associating with subversives in 1947-48.

Plotkin, now employed in electronics, needs the clearance co continue his work at Hughes Aircraft Corp. in Culver City, Calif. He has been seeking the clearance since March, 1962.

A former University of California professor at Berkeley, he had such clearance before 1950.

Ernest Besig, American Civil Liberties Union lawyer here, said Wednesday he had received a letter from Walter K. Skallelup Jr., deputy assistant secretary of defense, saying the government would give the necessary clearance.

Besig, in December, obtained a federal court order directing the government to grant Plotkin clearance or give reasons why it refused.

Suspended Sentence For Joy-Riding

Robert Orin Shaw, 20, of 124 Merrydale Road, San Rafael, pleaded guilty in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to joy-riding. Judge Peter Allen Smith gave him a suspended 90-day jail term and placed him on a year's probation.

Shaw drove a car owned by Dennis Boyce, 175 Nova Albion Way, San Rafael, without Boyce's permission last Dec. 26. He originally was charged with car theft.

Religious camp meetings were introduced to England by an American evangelist, Lorenzo Dow.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Oysters And Clams Should Be Obtained From Clean Waters

VAN DELLEN

Our public health service has confirmed a finding that fishermen have known for a long time. Oysters and clams in the breathing and feeding mechanism "drink" many gallons of water daily. In the process of going in one end and out the other, food particles and bacteria are filtered out. In this respect shellfish are scavengers.

The undigested particles are eliminated approximately five hours after entering the shell. Fishermen sometimes "float" the oysters in cleaner water to allow the organism to purge its intestinal tract. The shellfish is cleaner and in better condition for shipment. It is not done very often because it is difficult to find convenient in-shore water.

A TEAM of researchers at the Public Health Service's Gulf Coast Shellfish Sanitation Research center, Dauphin Island, Ala., found that oysters freed themselves of contaminated viruses and bacteria within 12 to 24 hours in purified sea water. The bivalves were placed in contaminated tanks and by the end of three hours had a virus count at least 10 times that found in the surrounding sea water. This demonstrated their ability to filter out microbes, and also to retain viruses that usually pass through ordinary filters.

This research demonstrates that shellfish can be purified by transplanting them temporarily from polluted into clean water. Some commercial fishermen disinfect the water with chlorine but this has pitfalls because the oyster closes up if the solution is too strong.

NOW AND THEN epidemics of food poisoning, including typhoid fever, are traced to oysters and clams obtained from beds at the mouth of contaminated rivers. This is best avoided by obtaining oysters from accredited beds that are sanitary.

Oysters are most active during the warm summer months when they drink large amounts of water and bacteria. When the water gets cool the shell begins to close and they pass into a sort of hibernation.

Today's Health Hint—

A Build-Up Of Lead Linked To Disorders

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Lead from odd sources such as beer, wine and auto fumes may team up to cause disease in susceptible Americans.

This thought has been advanced by a Massachusetts Institute of Technology researcher, who hints that some serious disease may be partly blamed on a subtle build-up of body lead now largely being ignored in diagnosis.

Dr. Harriet L. Hardy's suspicions are about as close as anyone has come to supporting charges by a California geochemist that the long-term "insult" of lead may be producing insidious and unrecognized disease symptoms.

Dr. Hardy said here this week in a symposium sponsored by the Public Health Service (PHS) that lead sickness is, however, difficult to pin down.

Her views on lead and disease, and a review of other research, were presented to some 50 scientists and health officials at the meeting to size up the threat of lead.

The symposium, met in the wake of charges by Dr. Clair C. Patterson, a geochemist at the California Institute of Technology, who last September theorized that Americans are approaching a mass case of lead poisoning from gasoline fumes and other sources.

Dr. Patterson, on an Antarctic research trip, charged in a letter that the PHS deliberately scheduled the meeting when he was out of the country This was denied. Patterson was invited to send a delegate or any additional data to the meeting. Later he apologized for his charges, a PHS spokesman said.

When Patterson set forth his theories on lead poisoning last year, he was promtply challenged by fuel and lead industry spokesmen and some independent researchers.

Some critics complained that Patterson was out of line in linking health effects to samples of lead he had found in the ocean and soil. Their own findings, they said, showed that the level of lead in blood samples from the general population had remained fairly stable over the past 20 years.

This was underscored again here by Dr. Gordon J. Stopps, of the Haskell Laboratory for toxicology and industrial medicine, E. I. Du Pont de Nemours Co., Wilmington, Del. There has been no upward trend in blood and urine levels, he said.

Patterson's work was summarized at the symposium by Dr. Norton Nelson, chairman of a panel on lead toxicology, and Dr. Arie J. Haagen-Smit, of Cal-Tech.

Dr. Haagen-Smit explained that Patterson was "more or less shocked" when he started surveying lead in the atmosphere. He said he agrees that scientists should promptly assess the extent of the danger, but he personally believes it is a "long jump" from lead fall-out in the ocean to human health hazards.

"Let's do the experiments," he said. "The sooner the better." And he put the burden of proof on lead-using industries to show that their product is safe.

MIT's Dr. Hardy said the effects of big doses of lead in smelter workers or those living nearby are well known. More data, however, is needed on the combined effect of life-long low dosages from a variety of sources, she added.

Most healthy persons excrete lead about as fast as it is taken in. But this assurance is not as real as it seems, she said. Lead does destroy red blood cells. Sudden bleeding of an ulcer patient already short of red blood cells from even a minor long-term dose of lead could turn into something more serious, she continued.

She said most studies of lead poisoning have concentrated on workers or persons acidentally exposed to big doses. The fall-out from all sources should be assessed, she told the symposium.

Dr. Hardy cited research on groups exposed to above average lead concentrations. Some of the findings have shown that:

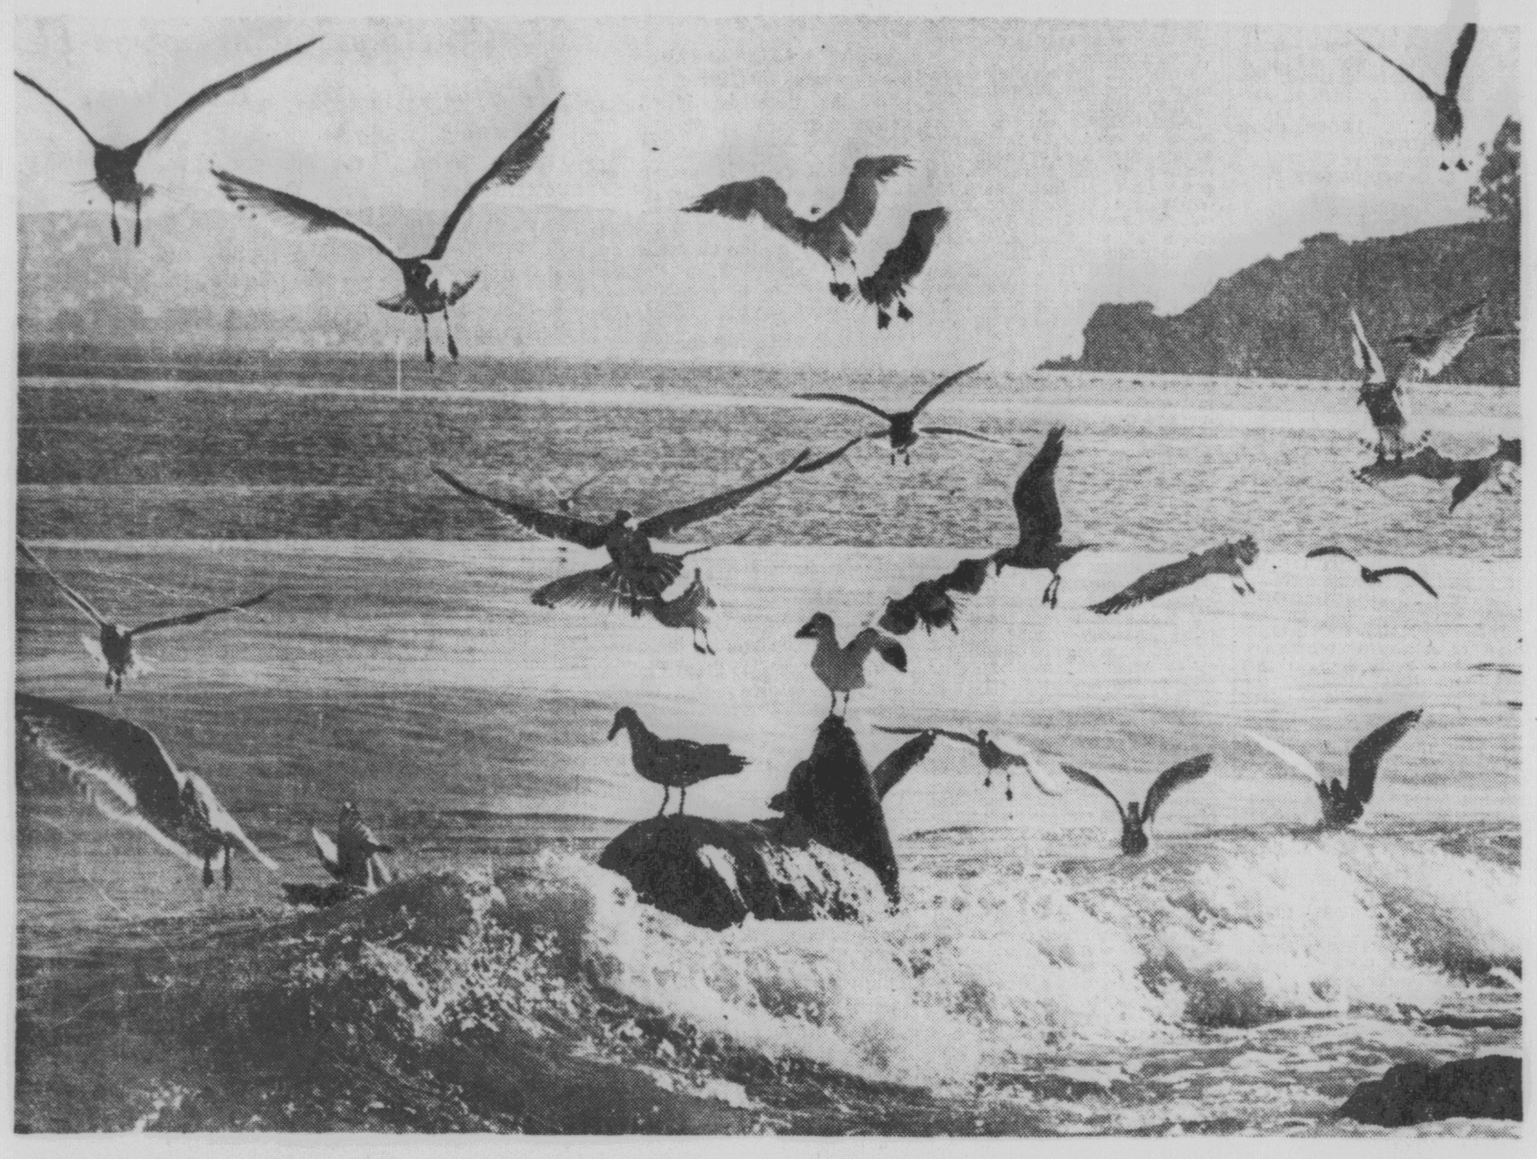

Workers in Japanese storage-battery plants had double the number of childless marriages of non-lead workers, and more than eight times as many still-births and premature infants.

In a village where pottery glazing was done in the homes, about 70 per cent of the children developed convulsions and other serious symptoms.

She noted that cigarette smokers have higher lead levels than non-smokers and beer and wine drinkers take in trace amounts.

The combined effect of this with lead from food, air and water, and its interaction with other chemicals and drugs should be the target of searching new studies, she said.

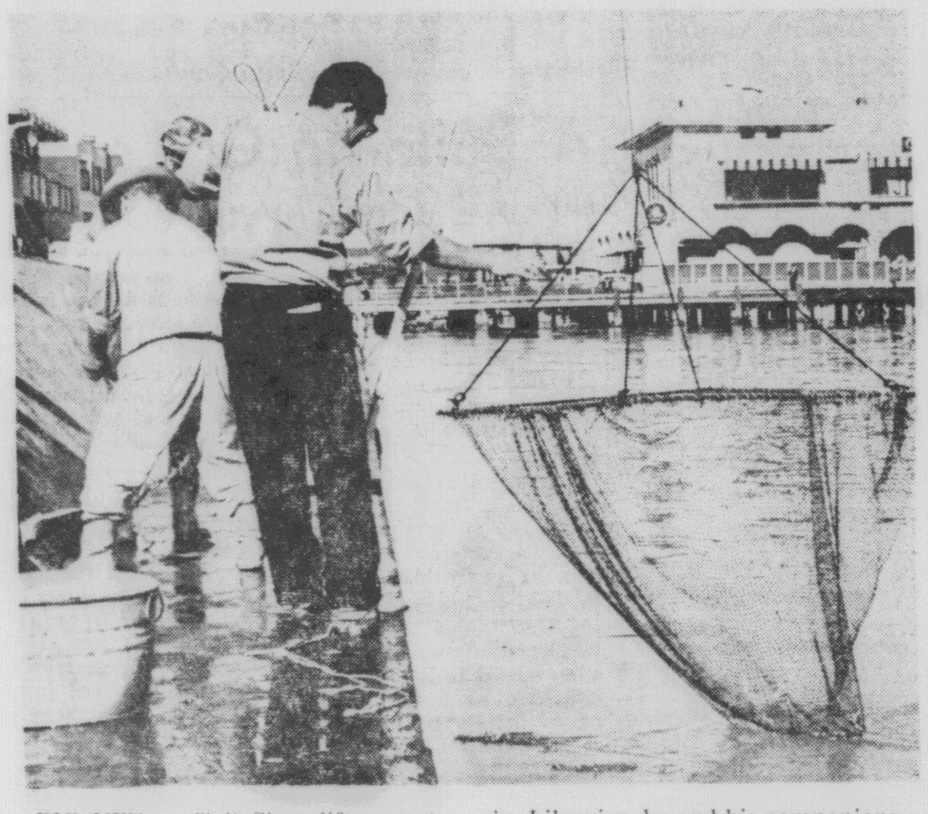

Herring Catchers Have A Fine Day

PLENTY OF GULLS—With the annual arrival of the herring come two other species as well: Sea gulls and sea lions. Here, many of the feathered creatures fly about the only sea lion which stays in Sausalito all year around — the famed stone statue on the sea wall. None of the real-life counterparts of the statue are visible in this photo, but they are there.
(Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

DRESSED WELL — One of the delights of watching the annual herring catch along Sausalito's sea wall is the diversity of dress among the catchers. Eric Faandrik of San Francisco, shown here, was too excited when he heard the herring had arrived to change out of his suit before he grabbed his net and headed for the water.

BIG NET — Taji Sima lifts a net which was big enough to catch as many herring as many of the bags, hats, buckets and other devices used by amateur fishermen to rake them in. Likewise, he and his companions emptied their catch into the big tub shown at left, while others used boxes, dishpans or other small kitchen contaners to hold the fish.

YOUNG FISHERMAN—Among the most enthusiastic persons in the throng who went after the herring was 3-year-old Charles Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Lewis of Sausalito, who dropped the white and bluish fish into a dish pan after his father caught them with a net.

ANYTHING GOES — Unconcerned over appearances, Sausalito's eager herring fishermen are likely to show up wearing any kind of dress — and using any kind of device to catch the tasty fish. Here Ralph (Swede) Pedersen of Sausalito dumps a bucket, while his daughter, Diane, empties the onion sack she used to get her share of the catch.

GOOD CATCH—Happily displaying a giant catch of herring are H. Bernard Armstrong and Richard Wallace. They caught boxes full of fish for the S. J. Sturiale Fish Co. of Sausalito. They explained that the firm will freeze the herring for bait, but added that "We also eat it. It's real good eating."

THESE ARE REAL—Two sea lions, attracted to the waters off Sausalito by the arrival of herring, poke their heads out of the bay. They, the sea gulls and the people engage in hot competition each year for the fish, which all seem to consider a delicacy.

PARALLEL PARKING –BOOM AND DOOM

Radio Panel Debates San Rafael Council Decision To Get Rid Of Diagonal Parking

Both doom and boom were predicted today for downtown San Rafael businesses if parallel parking replaces diagonal parking on Fourth Street.

Debating the city council's decision to get rid of diagonal parking between Lincoln Avenue and E Street, three businessmen joined with Mayor C. Paul Bettini on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board."

The council will consider a merchant protest against the change at its meeting Feb. 7.

"The prosperity of Fourth Street business is very close to my heart, and to my pocketbook," admitted Irving Chapman, owner of Chapman Shoes at 1236 Fourth Street. "The primary purpose of Fourth Street is to move traffic, not to provide parking spaces," he said, endorsing the parking change.

But Kenneth Reichard, owner of the Photo Shop at 1112 Fourth Street, declared he had just as much of a stake in the street's prosperity, but that "people just prefer to park on Fourth Street. By forcing them off the street through a loss of 139 spaces, we'd simply be adding to our problems."

The controversy generated by the discussion flooded KTIM's switchboard as listeners phoned in to counter statements made by the speakers. The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be rebroadcast from a tape recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

"To changeover to parallel parking at this time would be premature," said Mayor Bettini, one of two councilmen who voted against the switch.

"The 139 spaces which would be lost represent a fifth of the city's on-street parking, and would mean a loss of between $12,000 and $17,000 in meter revenue," Bettini claimed. Resetting of meter stands and the replacement of newly purchased meter heads with double meter heads would also be very costly, he said.

"Even more important," cautioned Bettini, "is that it will cost approximately $500,000 to replace the lost parking spaces."

Bettini recommended waiting to make the Fourth Street parking move until further off-street parking is provided by an underground lot on the courthouse site, and by extension of the parking assessment district.

"Eventually it may be conceivable to close all or part of Fourth Street between E Street and Lincoln Avenue to automobile traffic," he said.

Walter R. Zurcher, owner of San Rafael Toy Shop at 933 Fourth Street, claimed the parking system should be changed immediately.

"Customers are leaving San Rafael in droves up our new one-way streets," he said.

A listener noted that Zurcher's and Chapman's stores are close to existing city parking lots. Shoppers would have to walk long distances to some other stores if Fourth Street parking spaces were reduced, the caller contended.

Zurcher claimed that customers he had queried on the traffic-parking problem had almost unanimously called for the change to parallel parking.

Reichard countered that the results of his own survey showed the opposite.

The parallel parking plan was assaulted by some listeners as being impractical because of the difficulty drivers have in getting into a parallel space.

Suit Charges Defunct Bar 'Unrentable'

A $20,000 damage suit for alleged destruction in removing fixtures from the defunct Redwood Club cocktail lounge in the Kaehler-Farrar Building, San Rafael, was filed today in Marin Superior Court.

The plaintiff, Erickson Investment Co., alleges that Walter J. Hempy, George Lee, and Donald O'Rourke damaged the fifth floor rooms' walls and floors in the moving.

In addition, the suit charges, the actual bar was taken out, leaving uneven concrete flooring that makes the premises unrentable. A permanent injunction is asked to prevent further destruction of floors and walls.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court scheduled 2 p.m. Feb. 7 for defendants to show cause why a restraining order should not be issued.

Terra Linda Child In Bike-Car Crash

Seven-year-old Thomas M. Bulkley of 700 Las Colindas Road, Terra Linda, suffered a bruised right leg at 8:10 a.m. yesterday when the bicycle he was riding collided with a car at Las Colindas and Las Raposas Roads, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Constance A. Miller, 49, of 890 Patricia Way, Terra Linda, was driving her car west on Las Colindas when the southbound bike entered the intersection from Las Raposas. Thomas was treated at the Kaiser Foundation Clinic in San Rafael.

SIGNS OF PROTEST—Mrs. Eugene Meade of 32 Balra Drive, Novato, and neighbors Mrs. Ronald Aiuto and Mrs. Robert Horn enjoy the signs Meade placed in front of his garage to call attention to what he claims are defects in the new house. Meade was alone in his protest there, but about 100 residents of Twelve Oaks Hill in San Rafael met last night to plan protests to developer of that subdivision. (Independent-Journal photo)

Home Owners Are Staging 'Revolt' Over Construction

Poor Service On Repairs Is Cited

By FRANK FARRARA

There appears to be a home owners' revolt underway in San Rafael and Novato against what buyers consider defects in construction in new homes.

Home owners of the Twelve Oaks Hill tract in Lucas Valley packed the Lucas Valley Community Church last night to demand the builder make repairs.

A Novato resident placed two signs in front of his garage, asking the developer to correct defects.

A large painting of a lemon was erected in front of a house in Peacock Gap, but the owner refused to say whether this was intended to refer to the house as a lemon.

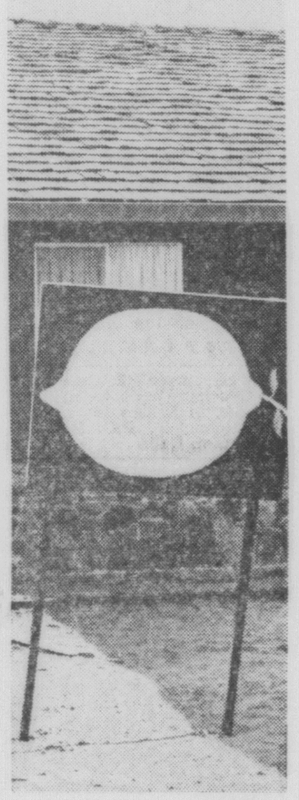

About 100 Twelve Oaks Hill residents sent a letter to the president of the American Housing Guild in Palo Alto, developers, citing "extremely poor service on repairs." They demanded improved service.

Although the residents did not list the alleged construction defects at last night's session, they talked afterward about leaky ceilings, flooded garages, poor drainage, cracked paint, an unconnected bathtub, and tile that cracks.

Residents estimated that those who attended represented at least 75 per cent of the home owners in the tract.

One woman said some homeowners wanted "to go out and picket" or put "for sale" signs in front of all the homes.

The group decided last night to take a more moderate approach and start with a letter to the developer.

WHY THE LEMON? Home owner won't say

Attorney Lawrence Mulryan said there were three steps the home owners could take, the first was "plead with the builder." He urged that they submit their complaints to the builder in writing within a year after they signed their contracts.

The second step is to "go to the Federal Housing Authority" with the complaints, and the last step is to file suit, he said.

Under the warranty given to owners, the builder has to provide "a workmanlike structure," Mulryan said. "We have to convince them we're irate and we can cause them trouble."

One resident said he has written to the developer three times and received no reply. Another said that he wrote three times and got the reply that the work will be done.

There was no representative of the builder at the meeting.

Douglas K. McVae and Lawson L. Wood of the Marinwood Home Owners Assn. described the process for forming a home owners association.

Near the close of the meeting, Norman McAbee, chairman of the protest group, asked for a show of hands on how many persons were interested in forming a home owners association. Practically everyone raised a hand. The group then named a 24-member committee to start planning for an association. Residents will meet again Jan. 26 at 8 p.m. at the Lucas Valley Community Church.

They expect to have the developer's answer to their complaints by then.

One Twelva Oaks Hill resident told of a man in the Novato area "who put up a sign and got results . . . everything was fixed in two days."

No such success was reported today, however, by Novato resident Eugene Meade, a retired Army major who lives at 32 Balra Drive.

Meade has placed two signs in front of his garage, addressed to KDN Corp. of Novato, the builder.

Some of the wording reads:

"Our sunken living room now has sinking ceiling. Please fix our leaky roof.

"KDN Lot No. 1. when will faucet leaks, door handles, erosion, driveway, etc., be fixed?"

Meade said he does not own the home, but has an option to buy.

"In general it's a pretty good house, but we want the defects repaired before the warranty runs out," he said.

Meade said the building has a rain gutter but no downspout, and this is causing problems.

He said a "straw boss" from the builder saw the sign and said, "You want to get the roof fixed, get rid of that sign."

The defects are not major, Meade said, but he wants them corrected. He said he and his wife planted the banks with ice plant, and this was a job the developer was supposed to do.

He described his driveway as "concave," a condition that damages the undersides of cars.

Dr. Robert Haskell of 136 Peacock Drive, San Rafael, in front of whose home is the big lemon picture, declined to give any reason for its presence.

Dixie School Trustees Can't Decide On Taxes

Dixie School District trustees last night discussed taxing needs and district finances for four hours, but were unable to decide how big a tax increase should be asked at an April 19 election.

Present total rate in Dixie is $3.125 per $100 assessed valuation, with $2.45 of this established as legal maximum on the general operating tax rate. Trustees last week agreed that the legal maximum must be raised.

Maximum increase suggested a citizens finance committee study would be 85 cents per $100 assessed valuation to cover teacher salary increases, maintenance and briefing up of reserves.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis said today the trustees will probably ask for an increase somewhere below 85 cents. The board will meet again Jan. 26 to make a decision.

The board rejected all bids on additions to the Dixie School, lowest of which was $215,000 by Filippo Construction Co. of San Rafael, $12,000 above budgeted funds. Willis said the job will probably have to be redesigned.

The Dixie School District board also:

1. Deferred until Feb. 9 action a request for sabbatical leave by Principal John King of Lucas Valley School.

2. Authorized an experimental program to be financed by the Dixie Research Institute on training of emotionally disturbed and neurologically handicapped children, under a program devised by Dr. Roy Barsch of University of Wisconsin.

3. Accepted the annual audit of Dalton, Graupner and Barber, which pointed out that reserves are low. Willis said the reserve fund is down to $60,000 from $140,000 last fiscal year.

Novato Woman Hurt In Two-Car Crash

Mrs. Lisbeth G. Shelver, 60, of 156 San Carlos Avenue, Novato, was bruised on the right thigh in a two-car collision at Highway 101 and Lamont Avenue, Novato, at 5:45 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said Ernest C. Shelver, 59, was driving east on Lamont Avenue when his car was hit by a northbound auto driven by Roxann C. Connolly, 20, of Walnut Creek. Mrs. Shelver, a passenger with her husband, was treated at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco.

San Rafael High Plans Class Voting

San Rafael High School students will vote next Thursday to elect student body and class officers for the spring semester. Any necessary run-off elections will be held the next day.

Running for student body president are Ron Giomi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Giomi, 15 Eye Street, and Gordon Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon P. Jones, 24 Meadow Avenue.

In the race for director of social affairs are Shirley Baker and Judi Jacobs. Running for director of assemblies are Peggy Freed, Cindee Jensen and Nanette Maggiora.

Senior — For president, Steve Marigan and Jeff Padgett; for vice president, Tom Telander; for secretary treasurer, Pam Johnson and Sharon Walker; for director of social affairs, Debbie Dicker; for Congress (seven to be elected), Cathy Briones, Fred Buehler, Linda Cardinal, Verna Easom, June Glazier and Mary Ringrose (new president to appoint seventh).

Junior — For president, John M. Anderson and Chris Hillard; for vice president, Charles Rosenblad and Patti Worman; for secretary-treasurer, Mary Mills; for director of social affairs, Janice M. Bradley; for Congress (seven to be elected), Donna De Martini, Gail Geary, Ken Giomi, Gene Hallman, Chris Hillard, Debbie McClain, Sue McKinnon Jan Noble, Charles Roseblad, Hatte Rubenstein, Penny Sempell and Lauren Thomas.

Gas Siphoned

Mrs. Jean Lan reported to Mill Valley police last night that 15 gallons of gasoline were removed from her 1957 Chevrolet last Friday night and 10 gallons of gasoline were stolen Tuesday night, both times her car was parked in front of her home at 33 Roque Moraes Drive.

Firemen To Eat

Belvedere volunteer firemen last night set for Feb. 5 at 7:30 p.m. the annual wives' dinner at the firehouse, volunteer Erwin Farley reported.

Hub Druggist Gets Strange Warning Note

D.A. Declares 'Citation' Threatening

Jack's Drug Store of San Anselmo has been threatened by the State Board of Pharmacy with a citation to appear before the district attorney for advertising low drug prices, but Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said today he knew nothing about it.

A "warning notice," consisting of a printed form with blanks filled in handwriting, was received by William J. Minnes, proprietor of the store at 121 Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo, following publication of his advertisement in the Independent-Journal on Jan. 4 headed, "We resolve to bring to the people of Marin lower prescription prices."

'THREATENING CITATION'

The printed portion of the notice warned that "a citation will be issued requiring you to appear before the district attorney."

District Attorney Bales said today he had received no copy of the "warning notice" and did not recall ever seeing such a notice from the State Board of Pharmacy. He said the board of pharmacy has no subpoena power.

"I would call this a threatening citation," Bales said.

The district attorney said it is not unusual for the State Labor Commission, State oCntractors License Board, and State Department of Health to ask his office to issue citations or complaints for violations of various sections of the state business and professional or health codes. In all such cases, he said, an investigator from the state agency calls at his office and acquaints him or one of his deputies with the facts behind the request.

CITES VIOLATIONS

He said he had received no communication from the board of pharmacy.

The "warning notice," which bore an unreadable signature, informed Minnes that "you are not complying with the laws governing the practice of pharmacy."

It cited as alleged violations of Section 651 of the business and professions code the words "discount price," "discount prescription," and "lower discount price" in the advertisement, and the words "Jack's Discount Drugs" on a sign on a drawing of the store which illustrated the advertisement.

It cited as alleged violation of the misleading advertising section of the code the statement, "We can refill any refillable prescription regardless of where it was originally filled." However, there is a state requirement that pharmacies refill prescriptions originally filled by other pharmacies.

Commissioner To Become A Fireman

The Novato Fire District Board last night accepted the resignation of one of its members, then hired him as a fireman and recommended another to fill his board position.

The board accepted the resignation of Robert E. Campbell of 1024 Eighth Street, then hired him as a fireman effective Saturday, providing he passes a written examination.

Commissioners Peter Ferrarese and Joseph Silveira then voted to recommend that the county board of supervisors appoint Robert J. Busher of 1575 Indian Valley Road to fill out the three-member commission.

Busher served on the board in 1961 and tied with Silveira for election last year, Silviera winning the post by the toss of a coin. Campbell's term, to which Busher was appointed, expires in April.

The board also authorized purchase of a $314 tape recorder to record all incoming fire calls.

Hub Downtown Interest Grows

Early returns of a San Anselmo survey by the Congress for Community Progress indicate many people are interested in improving the city's downtown area.

"The creek through the downtown area should be concreted... It is no longer beautiful," one resident wrote. "Replace the tired old houses with high-rise apartments and lawned plazas," suggested another.

Deadline for return of the questionaires, being distributed by mail, in grocery stores and the San Anselmo Library, is next Monday.

Residents are being asked to check their interest in traffic, recreation, the downtown area, fire protection, ordinances, and beautification.

"Forty-five forms have been returned, including two from interested out-of-towners," said Don Perry, project chairman for the congress. "The mail is increasing daily."

Perry said copies of the comments will be displayed on a board behind the main desk in the Library.

Here are excerpts from some of the comments:

Traffic and Streets—San Anselmo streets are in a disreputable state of non-repair. If San Anselmo is made safe, convenient and attractive for driving, shopping and dining out, then I will be willing to spend more of my time and money there." "Why not a three-way light at the Hub instead of Russian roulette?"

Recreation — "San Anselmo needs a recreation center, particularly for teenagers. It should include cultural activities as well as sports."

Downtown—"There should be a study of why so many stores are empty. Are rents too high?" "A local develpoment company is needed to undertake downtown programs." "Clearing congestion is of primary importance."

Fire Protection—"How about purchasing the property at the corner of Greenfield and Lincoln Avenues?"

Ordinances — "Surrounding downtown areas will soon become apartment house property. Enact ordinances now and plan ahead instead of watching old homes become eyesores and tenement housing."

Beautification — "The creek through San Anselmo is full of rats." "The town recently put up signs regarding litter on Center Boulevard too, people have throw cuttings from their yards and old cardboard boxes."

MARIN FIRE CALLS

YESTERDAY:

10:30 a.m., San Rafael — Report of car fire on Wolfe Grade; unable to locate.

Reservoir Property Purchased

Arthur R. Nicholaisen of San Rafael yesterday out-bid competitors to buy the 66,000 square feet on Marin Municipal Water District's Moor Hill reservoir property at the head of Reservoir Road in San Rafael for $31,000.

Yesterday's bidding procedure at a water board meeting called first for sealed bids, followed by open bidding above the sealed quotations.

Water district general manager William R. Seeger said the property was not appraised. Seeger had told the board to accept any bid over $15,000.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

1. Awarded a contract of $169,591 to Underground Construction Co. of San Leandro for the purchase and installation of 9,000 feet of pipe along the district's southern Marin line over the Corte Madera grade. Next lowest bidder was Kirkwood-Bly, Inc. of Santa Rosa at $172,502. Seeger's estimate on the job was $180,000.

2. Authorized Seeger to file a notice of completion of construction of the district's Corte Madera corporation yard, if the job is certified complete by the architect. The building, across Tamal Vista Boulevard from the district offices, has been under construction by McDevitt Construction Co. of San Rafael for eight months. The yard will be fully occupied by mid-February, Seeger said.

3. Agreed to a United States state department request that the district host 10 Brazilian utility managers during May or June.

4. Awarded a contract for laying supply lines to the Strawberry tank to Underground Construction Co. for $20,859.

5. Agreed to adjust the district's share of payment for a study of a Sonoma-Marin aqueduct line from $2,500 to $4,500.

6. Agreed to a pipeline extension to serve the Marina Vista subdivision in Sausalito, Eureka

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Success Key Is Estimate Of Missing Cards Place

When you can see only your own hand and the dummy you must often base your play on the probable location of the missing cards.

This was the key to success when today's hand was dealt during the team trials last November in San Francisco.

Opening lead — ♡ A

West led the ace of hearts and a heart to dummy's king.

Now South's problem was to limit the trump loss to two tricks.

To solve such a problem, consider all possible distributions of the missing five trumps and then make the play that succeeds most often.

DISTRIBUTION

No guarantee goes with this play, but at least you will have probability in your favor.

Six of the most famous experts in the world played this hand, and three of them led dummy's low spade to the king at the second trick.

This inferior play lost three trump tricks and the contract.

One expert led a club to his hand and returned a low trump to dummy's jack. This was better, but not good enough.

BEST PLAY

Only two experts, Norman Kay and Tobias Stone, made the best play. They led the jack of spades from dummy at the second trick, planning to finesse through East for the queen first and for the ten later if necessary.

This play works when West has any singleton except the queen; in 18 of the 20 cases in which West has either two or three trumps; and also when East has the singleton ten or queen.

No other method works in nearly as many cases (except for leading dummy's low trump to the nine first, which is almost as good).

A general principle will guide you to the correct play whenever you can afford to lose two tricks in a key suit.

Take a deep finesse first; you can later make your mind up as to whether or not to play to the king.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:

♠ K 9 8 7 6 2
♣ A K 8 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one spade.

You have 10 points in high cards and should count about 3 points for distribution.

This is enough for an optional opening bid, and you decide in favor of the bid because you have a 6-card major suit.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Jan. 13, the 13th day of 1966 with 352 to follow.

The moon is in its last quarter. No morning star. The evening stars are Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

American author Horatio Alger was born on this day in 1834.

In 1963, President Sylvanus Olympio of the west African nation of Togo was assassinated.

A thought for the day—Mark Twain said: "Work consists of whatever a body is obliged to do . . . play consists of whatever a body is not obliged to do."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

4 PERSONAL COMPANY CARS

We are now offering four of our company owned, almost-new 1965 Buicks that have been used during part of 1965 as personal, family cars by our department heads.

They have never been licensed thus carry the full 2-year new car General Motors guarantee. All have low mileage and you can't tell they have ever been on the road. The prices below are Kelly Blue Book average prices for used models without any guarantee. But we offer the full 2-year or 24,000 mile new car guarantee.

RIVIERA
Here's the most luxurious car on the American road today. Driven by our company president for approximately 7,000 miles. Fully equipped including factory air conditioning, power steering, brakes, seat and windows. New car window price was $5861.

WILDCAT 4-DR. HDTP.
$3295
Our sales manager drove this car 6,500 miles. Can't tell from brand new. All white with black leather seats. Full power including steering, brakes, seat and windows. New car window price was $4800.

SPECIAL 4-DR. SEDAN
$2395
Forest Green with matching upholstery. 6,000 miles. Our used car manager's personal car. Power steering, automatic trans., radio, heater, W/W tires, V-8 and lots of other factory extras. New car window price was $3272.

SPECIAL 4-DR. SEDAN
$2195
A real economy buy here in this little V-6 Special 4-dr. Automatic trans., radio, heater and lots of Buick luxury items. You should get over 20 miles to the gallon on this little car. New car window price was $2945.

Actor Aldo Ray Sued For Divorce

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—British actress Johanna Bennett, yesterday filed suit to divorce actor Aldo Ray, claiming he threatened her life and struck her.

Miss Bennett, 27, asked the court to restrain Ray, 39, from harrassing her. She also sought custody of their sons, Paul, 2, and Eric, 10 months.

They were married in March, 1960.

The great flat barges on the Barge Canal in upstate New York still push about 3,800,000 tons of cargo each year. There also has been a tremendous increase in the use of the 527-mile canal system by pleasure craft.

American Farms Are Disappearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department survey shows that the number of American farms declined 3 per cent last year.

The drop was a continuation of a long trend. The latest estimate is about 20 per cent below the figure of Jan. 1, 1959.

The survey said that on Jan. 1 of this year there were 3,286,000 farms compared with 3,380,000 a year earlier.

Official Resigns After Indictment

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Former Lt. Gov. Cliff Jones, who was indicted for perjury in the Bobby Baker case, has resigned as a director and vice president of First Western Financial Corp. and as a director of First Western Savings and Loan Co.

A federal grand jury in Washington, D.C., indicted Jones last week on three counts of perjury. He was accused of lying to the jury March 17, 1965, in connection with the Baker case.

First Western Financial Corp. allegedly paid $14,000 to Baker through a third party in eight 1963 checks totaling $8,000 and four 1964 checks totaling $6,000. The savings and loan firm is a wholly owned subsidiary of the corporation.

Birch Policeman Wins Judgment

EUREKA (AP)—A man dismissed from the Arcata police reserve for membership in the John Birch Society must be reinstated, says a superior court judge.

"Hasn't one citizen as much right as another?" asked Judge M. H. Messner of Crescent City yesterday at a hearing on the dismissal of Murrel Gray, 36, by the Arcata City Council.

"And if he doesn't have, what state are we getting this country into?"

200 Americans Believed In Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Success—someday—will come from negotiations to have Americans included in the Cuban refugee airlift, U.S. State Department spokesmen predict.

Officials said about 200 Americans, most of them with families that are Cuban citizens, are believed to be in the island nation.

They could leave Cuba via regular airlines through Mexico, a spokesman said, "but the difficulty is that they do not want to leave their families behind."

Under the present airlift agreement, officials said, only Cubans with relatives already in the United States can leave on the twict-daily flights.

Cat Fanciers Show Slated Feb. 19

The Marin County Cat Fanciers 14th annual show will be held Feb. 19-20 in the IDESST Hall, 511 Caledonia Street, Sausalito.

There will be four separate competitions — two all-breed shows in which both longhair and shorthair varieties vie for top honors, and specialty competition for longhairs only and shorthairs only.

Judges will be Mrs. Lynne VanderPoel of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mrs. Gladys Weirich of Pasadena, all-breed, and Mrs. R. T. Wyse of Honolulu, specialties.

Cats of all breeds recognized by the Cat Fanciers' Assn., Inc., the Marin club's parent organization, are eligible for entry. However, cautioned R. D. Layman, show manager and president of the Marin Fanciers, all entries must be registered with CFA except kittens (four to eight months old), cats designated "any other color", and experimental breed cats.

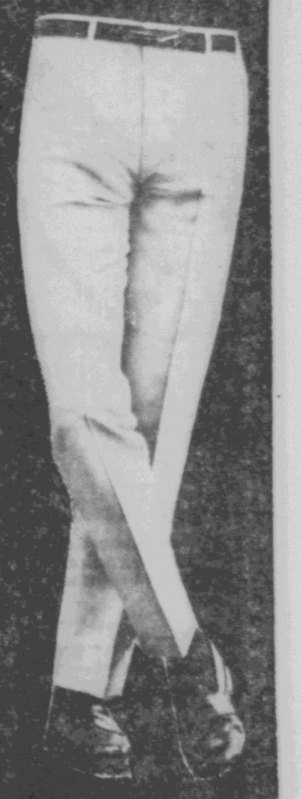

For the first time, there will be no household pet division. Layman said the Marin Fanciers' special household pet show in the fall will be greatly expanded this year.

The show will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. both days.

Entry information may be obtained from Layman, 50 Mohawk Avenue, Corte Madera, or Mrs. Arne Kionig, entry clerk, 121 Terrace Avenue, Kentfield.

Skinny Southpaw Could Be Key Man For '66 Giants

By JIM GILMARTIN

A skinny southpaw pitcher who lost twice as many games as he won in the minor leagues last season could very well be a key man in the 1966 championship ambitions of the San Francisco Giants, Manager Herman Franks indicated yesterday in a press conference at Candlestick Park.

Looming as top prospect to break into the varsity lineup is Mike Davison, a 6-1, 160-pounder whose 9-18 record with Springfield, Mass., in the Eastern League belies his true potential. More important, his 2.84 earned run average through that dismal record and 55 strikeouts in 56 innings of recent Arizona Instructional League duty have stamped Davison as the one who may replace the departed Masanori Murakami in the Giants' questionable pitching plans.

Murakami, the southpaw stopper in 1965, has elected to stay in Japan this year, leaving a gap in the San Francisco bullpen that Davison may fill, according to Franks. Coach Charlie Fox went even further to say, "He might have the best chance of any of the rookies."

Davison was drafted by the Giants from Baltimore in 1964 after he had an 11-4 record and 3.18 ERA at Aberdeen, S.D.

At his annual winter conference, Franks spent a good deal of the time discussing pitching, the department everyone agrees needs help if the Giants are to reach the National League title they missed by two games last season.

The dapper, fast-talking Giant skipper allowed as how he thought his team is stronger now than it was at this stage last year mainly for two reasons—acquisition of pitchers Joe Gibbon and Lindy McDaniel in the trade supermart, and also the expected return to form of slugging first baseman-outfielder Orlando Cepeda, who missed most of last year with a knee injury. (See Along Marin's Sports Trail.)

Gibbon, a southpaw obtained from Pittsburgh where he posted a 4-9 W-L, 4.50 ERA last year, probably will be worked into the starting rotation, Franks said, but also could be the bullpen replacement for Murakami should Davison miss the boat.

Righthander McDaniel, of course, is ticketed for the bullpen where he labored nicely for the Chicago Cubs (W 5, L 6, 2.85 ERA) last year.

Franks, naturally, tabbed Juan Marichal (22-13) as ace of his 1966 staff with Bob Shaw (16-9) also listed as a sure starter.

Bobby Bolin is another probable starter, said Franks with, "He came on strong last year and I want to use him as a starter."

Ron Herbel and Gaylord Perry, spot starters in 1965, rated some mention from the manager. "We had hoped Perry would be a starter last year and we still do, but he just got kind of mixed up last year," winning only two games after June 9.

Herbel was just the opposite in 1965. He won 9 of his last 14 decisions after a dismal 3-4 early showing.

Among the other pitchers listed on the varsity is Frank Linzy who proved the big surprise of last season as the bullpen ace with a 9-3 record and 1.43 ERA.

The other hurlers are Giant holdovers Dick Estelle, Bill Henry and Bob Priddy, along with Davison (Springfield), Joe Overton (Tacoma), Al Stanek (Tacoma) and Tom Stewart (Decatur).

Former $150,000 bonus star Bob Garibaldi, plagued by arm trouble, will be brought to the Giants' Phoenix training game in March for a look-see, Franks said.

LBJ And HLF Give Us Rundown On Health, Crime, War And Reds

Yesterday seemed like a good day for our leaders to tell their subjects just what cooks for 1966. In Washington, D.C. President Lyndon Baines Johnson delivered his State of Union message. And at Candlestick Park, Manager Herman Louis Franks of the Giants followed suit—that is, he gave his State of the Union Suit address.

They were equally eloquent in discussing the Communist problems, health and welfare, crime, deficits (two whole games!), war (Viet Cong and the Phillies and Reds), poverty and hunger.

THE GREAT Society was main topic for the day, so I donned a bonnet and became the I-J's Great Society Editor and traipsed over to Candlestick to hear Herman conduct his first press conference of the year.

Like LBJ's concern with Communism, HLF fretted about the subject, too: "We need some good left-handers," he said. I think our president meant Viet Nam when he said "... I must order our guns to fire," but I think Franks meant his pitching staff when he declared, "We're going to give all left-handers a good shot."

ON THE subject of the International Health Act of 1966, Manager Franks mentioned Orlando Cepeda. "Our reports from Puerto Rico, where Orlando lives, is that he is A-1 and ready to go," he beamed.

Contrary to LBJ's Poverty War, HLF is looking for aid FROM the knee-dy and it all depends on Cepeda's gimpy ginglymus. When asked where Orlando would play, Franks replied: "We'll have to wait and see if he can make the ball club." First base maybe? "He'll have to beat out Willie McCovey," he shot back.

HERMAN CONTINUED, "Let me say this: There never was any trade talk about Cepeda principally because other teams weren't about to gamble on his damaged knee and we weren't about to give him away in the hope that he has recovered fully."

POVERTY AND hunger? Both leaders delved into the matter. Said Herman, when asked about the collapse of Willie Mays in Salt Lake City recently, "Willie hadn't eaten all day and just got a little faint."

He said he believed periodic rests he gave Mays last year contributed largely to the Giant centerfielder's most valuable player performances and that he planned to follow the same rest pattern in 1966 "whenever he feels he needs it." He indicated Don Landrum, acquired in a trade with the Cubs, would be the man to spell Mays in CF.

OUR PRESIDENT talked about "... the growing menace of crime in the streets ..." and our Manager countered with, "If we get more speed I'll be glad to steal more bases. If (Tito) Fuentes works into the lineup at shortstop he'll give us some added speed. I hear he's doing well in the winter league."

Herman added that veteran Dick Schofield and Fuentes will vie for the shortstop job.

FRANKS DEFENDED his widely-criticized utility use of third sacker Jimmy Davenport by saying, "He simply can't play regularly. His legs won't let him go for more than a week at a stretch. It just isn't in the cards."

Herman also offered a tribute to Juan "Bat Masterson" Marichal, Bromo Seltzer's best friend: "No doubt about it; he'll have a good year." He meant pitching, not hitting, Mr. Roseboro.

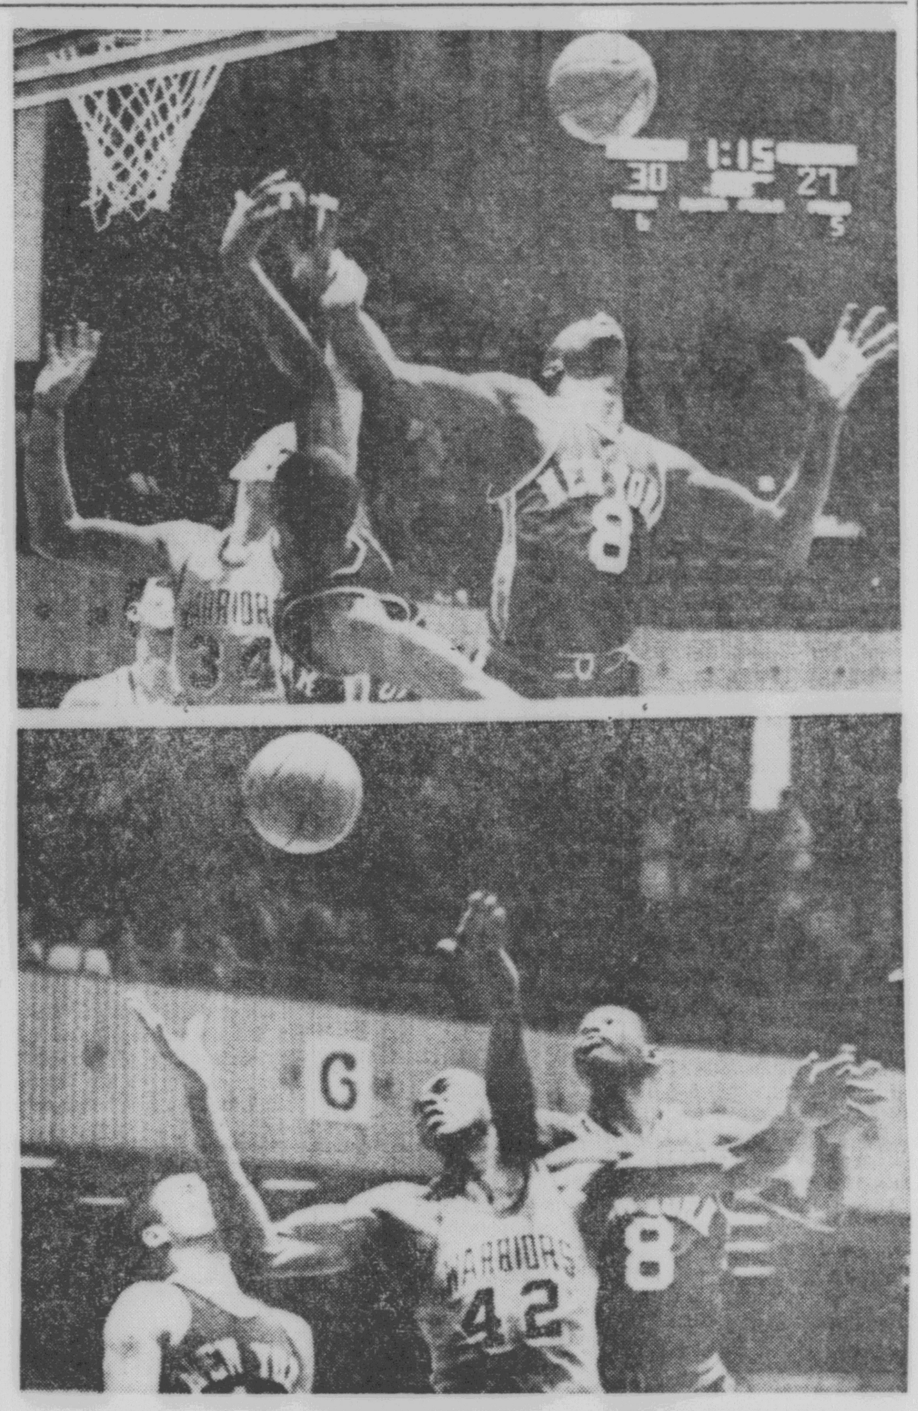

OUR MANAGER, not our President, said, "The Reds (Cincinnati, not Cong) appear to have strengthened themselves in trades. They needed pitching and got it. The Phillies also look stronger by getting Bill White from the Cards."

What about Leo Durocher taking over as manager of Chicago? "I think he'll help the Cubs and the league. He has a dynamic personality."

FINAL QUOTE of the day: "The days may become months, and the months may become years, but we will stay as long as aggression commands us to battle."

I forget who said it, Lyndon or Herman, but interpreted it to mean:

"PLAY BALL!"

NO HOLDS BARRED IN WARRIOR GAME

The pros say the name of the game is finesse, but none was in evidence during first half of last night's National Basketball Assn. game between New York Knicks and Warriors in San Francisco. At top, Knick Walt Bellamy (8) is grabbed on the wrist by Warrior Bud Olsen (3). At bottom, Bellamy retaliated by draping arm over Warrior Nate Thurmond in scramble for ball. Warriors won, 122-114. TO HELP NEGRO CAUSE

New Role For Jim Brown

By ANDREW JAFFE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jim Brown, perhaps pro football's greatest runner, said today he is considering leaving the game for a new goal — generating capital for Negro businessmen.

Brown, 29, says one enterprise which will occupy his time includes three leading Black Muslims and will take him into the clouded world of championship boxing.

It will be "strictly business', he adds, and the profits of the enterprise "will be invested in Negro businesses and organizations to try to bolster the economy of the Negro."

"This is the answer," the famed 228-pound Negro Cleveland Brown fullback said in an interview. "It will help Negroes to realize how to help themselves and how to use the dollar effectively.

"This involves not a segment of the population but the complete population. It's magnitude is so great and so wide."

Brown provided these details of the enterprise:

He and five other men have joined to form Main Bout, Inc., a corporation that will handle closed circuit television and ancillary rights to major boxing matches, including a heavyweight championship bout between Cassius (Muhammad Ali) Clay and Ernie Terrell.

The president of Main Bout is Herbert Muhammad, the son of Elijah Muhammad, head of the Black Muslim sect, and is himself a leading member. Other muslims with voting rights include world champion Clay and John R. Lee, a Negro attorney in Chicago.

Brown and two New Yorkers, both white — television producer Mike Malitz and attorney Robert Aarum — complete the group.

The fullback, in Los Angeles to prepare for his ninth appearance for the East in its annual National Football League test against the West provided these answers to questions from a newsman:

Q. Does the Muslim involvement in Main Bout, Inc., bother you?

A. No. This is not a religious thing, it is a business project. I have no objection at all with working with Muslims. No more objection than I did to playing football in Texas for the first time, where I had no idea how I would be treated. I deal with all people — even if I don't agree with them. Someone is dealing with the Muslims every day. They are not really producers, to the point they are self sufficient. If some white men can deal with them, I don't see why I shouldn't.

Q. Are you a member of the Muslims?

A. Certainly not.

Q. In view of the fact that a Black Muslim is president of Main Bout, Inc., do you feel it will be dominated by the Muslim philosophy?

A. No. Herbert Muhammad's vote is worth just as much as mine.

Q. What is your function in Main Bout?

A. I will be vice-president in charge of advertising and publicity. I will draw a salary — we have been talking about $25,000 — and have a 10 per cent interest.

Q. When will you leave pro football?

A. I have told Art Modell (owner of the Cleveland Browns) that I will play next year — the last year of a three-year contract. That is subject to change, if certain things develop — say my job with Pepsi Cola developed more. I also am working with the N.I.E.U. (Negro Industrial and Economic Union) and there are movie possibilities.

Q. Would Modell sue you if you tried to leave early?

A. No because I would be retiring. And our relationship has been very close.

State Sweeps Honors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tom Prothro, whose UCLA Bruins upset mighty Michigan State in the Rose Bowl, was named Coach of the Year today by the American Football Coaches Association.

The coaches also named Jack Curtice, University of California at Santa Barbara, as the small college Coach of the year.

Prothro's team compiled a 7-2-1 record en route to its Rose Bowl match with Michigan State, then unbeaten and ranked first in the country.

The Bruins pulled off one of the biggest upsets of the season in the Rose Bowl, 14-12 and knocked the Spartans out of the national championship.

REVENGE

It came in the area of revenge because Michigan State had beaten UCLA in the opening game of the season.

Their only other loss was the final regular season game against Tennessee. They were tied by Missouri.

Ara Paraseghian of Notre Dame and Frank Broyles of Arkansas tied for the major-college honor last year. Clarence Stasavich, East Carolina State College, was the top small-college coach last year.

Broyles was also a nominee for coach of the year this year along with Bob Blackman of Dartmouth, Dick Colman of Princeton, Earle Edwards of North Carolina State, Doug Dickey of Tennessee, Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty and Bob Devaney of Nebraska.

Stasavich also was nominated again in the small-college category as were Hal Westerman of Maine,John Gregory of East Stroudsburg, Charles Murphy of Middle Tennessee; Ray Louthen of Ball State; Darrell Mudra of North Dakota Staten and Vernon Glass, Lamar State.

Allen's Hearing In Court Postponed To Next Tuesday

A Circuit Court hearing on the Bears' petition for a temporary injunction to keep Allen from

Big Syndicate Gets Behind Joe Frazier

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Heavyweight Joe Frazier has signed a three-year contract with a syndicate which will finance his campaign for the heavyweight title. Membership in the syndicate may be as high as 40.

The 21-year-old Frazier, 1964 Olympic boxing champion, turned professional last October and has won four fights, all by either technical knockout or knockout.

ANNOUNCED TODAY

His new connection was announced today at a news conference.

Frazier, the only U.S. boxer to win a gold medal at Tokyo, will receive $100 a week, plus expenses. The syndicate holds options for two additional three-year periods or a total of nine years.

The backers are headed by Dr. Bruce Baldwin, president of a dairy firm, and includes such business and civic notables as Thacher Longstreth, president of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and one time Republican candidate for mayor here, and Arthur Kaufman, department store executive.

SIMILAR PACT

The corporation, to be known as Cloverlay, Inc., also has a similar contract with Yancy Durham as Frazier's trainer. It was Durham who discovered Frazier in a Philadelphia Police Athletic League gymnasium and coached him through the amateur ranks and in his brief professional career.

The corporation is similar to the Louisville group which launched heavyweight champion Cassius Clay into the boxing limelight. There is $15,000 in the treasury.

fulfilling his Ram commitment was continued yesterday until next Tuesday.

The continuance came after Allen, 43-year-old Bear defensive coach, testified for 50 minutes on how he thought he was the new Ram coach as of last Monday, but Bear owner-coach George Halas thought he wasn't.

The 70-year-old Halas was represented in court by his son, Bear president, George Halas Jr. and attorney Charles F. Short.

Allen, an eight-year Bear employee who also is director of player personnel for Halas, told Judge Cornelius J. Harrington he thought the breach of contract suit against him should be turned over to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Rozelle has said he regarded the dispute a matter to be resolved between the Rams, Allen and Halas.

Yesterday's hearing brought a charge by Bear counsel that owner Dan Reeves of the Rams "is on trial in absentia for what he has done by waving the almighty dollar" to cause Allen to jump a Bear contract extending through 1967.

Allen's lawyer, Albert E. Jenner, told the court that Halas "welched after giving Allen permission to negotiate for the Rams job which he did not think Allen could get."

Allen testified that he assumed he had verbal permission from Halas to try for the Ram job, but never did get a formal go-ahead during his negotiations with Reeves between Dec. 28 and Jan. 4.

He said it was automatic in pro football that assistant coaches could try to better themselves and that he did not consider his business with the Rams could be construed as tampering by the Rams.

Asked what his attitude would be if he was compelled to remain with the Bears, Allen said:

"I always give my all, that's the way I'm built."

His Ram contract reportedly calls for $40,000 annually in a multi-year contract. He has received $19,000 yearly from the Bears.

Barely Misses '300' Keg Game

San Jose's Saffold Is Really A Saint

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Those players who have a devilish time trying to guard S. T. Saffold should be interested to know that the 6-foot-4 San Jose State forward really is a saint.

Ever since he started to star in three sports at Stockton's Edison High School, Saffold's been known as capital S period, capital T period.

"When I sign my name, I spell it capital S, small t period and all four of my brothers have biblical names."

But Saffold didn't tell all day at the meeting of the Northern California Basketball Writers and Sportscasters.

"On my birth certificate, it's spelled out—S-a-i-n-t," he continued. "I come from a very religious family of 11 children anyway. His real name is St. Samuel Saffold, according to a school spokesman.

The writers honored Saffold for missing only one shot from the floor in scoring 28 points last Saturday as San Jose beat UC Santa Barbara 71-52 in a West Coast Athletic Conference game.

S. T. was named Northern California player of the week for this performance — hitting 13 of 14 field goal attempts, including one stretch of 10 straight, and also grabbing 11 rebounds.

"Everything I put up went in," explained Saffold softly. "Once I was completely behind the backboard, but it still went in. The shot I missed almost went in. I've never had a night like that."

Although he hasn't played football since high school, Saffold has been drafted as a future selection by the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League and the San Diego Chargers of the rival American Football League. He plans to try out for flanker at San Jose next season.

University of the Pacific basketball Coach Dick Edwards told the writers that the city of Stockton, here UOP is located, closely follows the career of hometown boy Saffold.

"But S. T.," said Edwards, "I just hope you don't go 13 of 14 against us Friday night."

Edwards sat across the table from St. Mary's Coach Mike Cimino, who complained about the officiating last Saturday when UOP beat his Gaels 81-68 at Stockton.

Neither coach commented on the officiating yesterday, however, even when asked. WCAC Commissioner Walt McPherson had criticized Cimino's public comments after they were made.

GOVERNOR WORKING QUIETLY

A Try For New Orleans NFL Team

By BOB ROESLER
Sports Editor
New Orleans Times-Picayune

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Without any trace of fanfare, drum-beating or high-pressured high selling, Gov. John McKeithen has been working quietly to get a dome stadium and a National Football League franchise for New Orleans.

In an exclusive interview in his chambers at the capitol the Governor told the Times-Picayune of the progress of his two-pronged project to make New Orleans a major league sports metropolis.

The Governor said:

1. His plans for an all-weather stadium were progressing.

2. He has been keeping in close touch with NFL czar Pete Rozelle regarding the franchise.

"I met with Commissioner Rozelle several months ago and told him we were going to go all out in obtaining a franchise and building a new stadium," McKeithen said. "He has known our position almost from the start. That is why I have felt there is no need for a lot of commotion.

"I have given Mr. Rozelle my personnal assurance that New Orleans will have a new stadium. And, I might add, it will be the best in the whole world.

"In my conversation with Mr. Rozelle Tuesday, I reiterated my stadium pledge. I also asked him if I might have left anything undone. He told me 'no, that I had done all there is to be done. He told me a decision would be reached after that market study was weighed. He also told me that there was no need for me to attend that Palm Beach meeting (Feb. 14-16), but that I might attend a later meeting," McKeithen said.

"I asked him point blank how good our chances were of getting the franchise and he answered, 'excellent'."

McKeithen revealed that several groups interested in the franchise have contacted him to enlist his support in gaining the NFL's license to operate in New Orleans.

Dave Dixon, New Orleans' pioneer pro promoter, would be in line to make a bid. Dixon is armed with a bankroll supplied by wealthy New Yorker Davi McConnell.

"Several different groups have contacted me about the franchise," the Governor said. "Of course, I have no authority to say yes or no to these interested parties. I have made appointments with some of these people and will sit down and hear them out.

"I also discussed this area of the project with Commissioner Rozelle and he agrees that I should listen to all interested parties," McKeithen continued. "I did get the impression that the league would like to see New Orleans people and New Orleans money in the venture should the franchise be awarded the city."

Miss Whitworth T Woman Athlete

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kathy Whitworth of San Antonio, successor to fellow Texan Mickey Wright as the premier women's professional golfer, was named the Female Athlete of the Year for 1965 today in The Associated Press annual poll.

Miss Whitworth outdistanced Australia's Margaret Smith, the Wimbledon tennis titleholder, in the balloting by 274 sports riters and sportscasters. The golf ace collected 101 first place votes and 441 points on a basis of three points for a first-place vote, to for second and one for third.

Miss Wright was chosen the AP's outstanding female athlete in 1963 and 1964. Last year she participated in only 11 tournaments, winning two.

Miss Whitorth on eight of the 30 tournaments in which she took part and emerged as the women's pro golf circuit's leading money-winner with earnings of $32,327.50.

Miss Smith, who also captured the U. S. tennis championship at Forest Hills, N.Y., was the poll's runner-up. She was chosen the top athlete on 36 ballots and drew 206 points.

Maria Bueno of Brazil, loser to Miss Smith in the Wimbledon finals, was third ith 204 points.

Among Miss Whitorth's victories last year were the Lady Carling Midest Open, the Women's Titleholders Tournament, the Bluegrass Invitational and the Yankee Open. In 100 official 18-hole rounds of competition, she scored in the 60s 13 times, tying the record set by Miss Wright in 1963.

The leaders, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 3-2-1 basis:

1. Kathy Whitworth, golf	(101)	441
2. Margaret Smith, tennis	(36)	206
3. Maria Bueno, tennis	(40)	204
4. Marion Ladewig, bowling	(20)	178
5. Billie Jean Moffitt, tennis	(22)	162

Auerabch's 1,000th Win As Game Coach

By C. C. MCGILLICUDDY

BOSTON (AP) — "Twenty years in this business — what a grind it's been."

That was the reaction of Arnold (Red) Auerbach, coach of the Boston Celtics, who racked up his 1,000th victory in the National Basketball Association last night.

The Celtics had little difficulty disposing of the injury- riddled Los Angeles Lakers. Boston romped to a 114-102 ictory that was much easier than the score indicates.

"Do you realize what it means to win 1,000 games in pro ball?" Auerbach asked when queried if he was proud of his accomplishment.

"Do you know how many plane rides that is? How many train rides? What it means to get to all those games in 20 years?"

Auerbach set a record most believe will never be equaled.

The closest man is the retired Johnny Kundla, who directed the Minneapolis Lakers from 1948 through 1959 to gain 483 victories.

To reach the 1,000 mark a coach would have to average 50 victories over a 20-year-span. That was especially difficult when Auerbach started and the NBA teams played only 50 games a year, compared to the 80 games they now play.

Auerbach did it by being sure his team got the extra games in the championship playoffs and by staying in the playoffs to the end.

Boston has won nine Eastern Division titles under his guidance and eight league crowns, posting the best won-lost percentage during that span.

The 48-year-old coach, who also doubles as general manager of the professional champions, came out of the Navy at the age of 28 with a record as a hot shot coach. He latched on with the old Washington Capitols and later coached Tri-City before moving to Boston.

All but 152 games in the Auerbach string were won while he was coaching at Boston.

Of the 1,000, the game that stands out most for Auerbach as the playoff game in hich the Celtics won their first championship, beating the St. Louis Hawks in the 1955 finals.

As far as the first victory is concerned, or any of the other milestones along the route, the balding red head has no specific memories.

Auerbach was asked if he cared to try for 1,500 or 2,000 and answered with a loud "no thanks."

He said 1,000 was his goal and admitted it was a factor in his decision not to call it quits after last season. He now indicates this will be his last season but he wants to find a successor before he does retire.

Auerbach believes "it ould be easier to win 1,000 games in college than in pro ball, even though they don't play as many games each year."

He said the college coaches "have a lot of easy ones along the way." And he believes college coaches have an easier life.

"They can go 40 years if they get started young."

A special ceremony is set for Feb. 13 to commemorate the occasion during a nationally televised game.

Auerbach needled basketball writers by recalling the man who, after conceding that the Celtics coach had the most victories, emphasized now Auerbach was the coach with more losses than any one in the league.

"I don't know how many I've lost," he said, "but I would have to have the most after 20 years."

Warriors Win Over Knicks; Lakers Next

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors basketball team, which plays first place Los Angeles tomorrow, has found the range again on its home court.

The Warriors sharpened up for the game with the Western Division leaders of the National Basketball Association by beating New York 122-114 last night and snapping a two-game home losing streak.

Warrior guard Paul Neumann came from the bench during a seesawing struggle for the lead and scored 12 of San Francisco's 29 points during the second period.

San Francisco's Tom Meschery was high man for the game with 22 points. Guard Dick Barnett led New York with 20, followed by guard Howard Komives with 19.

San Francisco center Nate Thurmond dominated the boards with 23 rebounds as the Warriors outgrabbed New York 71-57.

The game was punctuated by a fight in the fourth quarter between New York guard Emmett Bryant and San Francisco's McCoy McLemore. Members of their teams pulled them apart and no penalties were called.

Building on their lead in the second half, the Warriors at one point led by 24 points. Both teams cleared their benches midway in the fourth period.

A Picture Of Sports Death In Milwaukee

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The chairman of the board of the Atlanta Braves said today slumping sports interest in Milwaukee touched off a decision to explore the possibility of transferring the National League baseball team to another city.

William C. Bartholomay, testifying for the second day in connection with the State of Wisconsin's anti-trust suit to keep the Braves in Milwaukee, said the Braves felt Atlanta appeared to be a city where sports interest was extremely high.

Bartholomay and other top Braves officials were being questioned in depositions that will be used when the anti-trust suit gets underway in Wisconsin courts.

CONCERNED

"We were concerned that Milwaukee had lost the Miller Open golf tournament, had lost its professional basketball team to St. Louis, and Marquette football had been abolished," Bartholomay said.

"Attendance was reaching new lows for the Christmas holiday basketball tournament in Milwaukee, ice hockey had not drawn and Milwaukee had no professional football team.

"These were all negative factors and indicated a lack of support for sports. We felt this had caught up with the Braves.

"The Atlanta market, I felt, indicated a pattern of sports growth in dramatic contrast with what appeared in Milwaukee. Atlanta had enough support to attract a professional football team, I felt, and construct one of the fine stadiums in the country. Baseball interest seemed to be high.

"We thought it would be a service to our game and to our league to have the franchise in Atlanta."

Bartholomay was questioned by Steven E. Keane, special attorney for Milwaukee County. The Braves' official again denied that he had contacted Atlanta officials about moving the franchise in March of 1964.

Braves Acquire New Pitcher From Bosox

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Braves announced today they have acquired right-handed pitcher Jay Ritchie from the Boston Red Sox' Toronto farm club in the International League.

The move completes an earlier deal in which Braves' pitchers Bob Sadowski and Dan Osinski went to Boston for first baseman Lee Thomas and pitcher Arnold Earley.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

'Fascinating' Is Best Word To Describe Angling For Rockfish

STEVENS

Talking to a small group from the Adventure Club recently, I learned that none of the six members in the group had ever gone out in the ocean after rockfish. I'm wondering right now how many of my readers have also passed up the fascinating sport of fishing for rockfish and ling cod. If very many, it's too bad.

I called it "fascinating" and I mean just that. "I'll grant most of the fish landed are not classed as game fish, except, perhaps the highly desired ling cods. The fascination comes from the mystery of what will break the surface when you reel in 50, 60 or even more feet of line. You never know what species of rockfish you have caught. Could be any of dozens of deap sea rockfish. Maybe a blacksmith, an opal-eye, halfmoon, bocaccio, a chillipepper, black rockfish, yellow-tail, starry, China, black and yellow stripped or green-spotted rockfish; or perhaps a wonderful-eating cabezone or ling cod, just to name a few.

ADMITTEDLY no great skill is required to hook and land a deep sea rockfish. As soon as you learn a mere nudge on your bait for beneath the surface usually indicates a fish is hooked (maybe two), you start reeling in your line wondering what type of rockfish will appear on the surface. If it happens to be a ling cod you may have a battle on your hands. It is easy to imagine that you have hooked a true game fish (especially if you have baited up with a live bluefish).

Through many, many deep sea fishing trips, I have learned that the folks you meet on such a trip are swell guys or gals or kids. If there is any type of fishing that features "family participation," it is deep sea fishing.

AND IF there was a skipper and a boat that gets rockfish and ling cod every trip out, it is the "Reel Special" berthed at Caruso's Sausalito Harbor. Just read what the skipper, Ray Batho, and the boat did their last trip:

Every person aboard, according to Sid McMullin, lugged off a sack holding a limit of assorted rockfish and his share of 120 ling cods caught the same day. Batho's boat is a huge 73-footer, has 52 bunks, and a galley.

THE REEL SECIAL goes out after rockfish on Tuesdays, Thursdays, Saturdays and Sundays. Why not call and reserve a seat for yourself and your kin?

The skippers of the salmon fleet working out of Caruso's are busily dolling up their craft in preparation for the soon-to-happen opening of the season.

Briefly — bass and sturgeon fishing in the San Pablo Bay must be rated only fair, perhaps an average of one fish per rod on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Concern Over Bolinas Bay Development

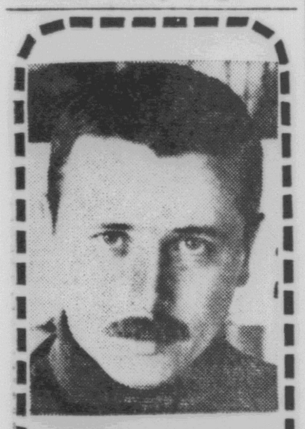

The state Department of Fish and Game today expressed its concern about development plans for Bolinas Bay which will have an adverse effect on fish and wildlife in the area unless proper safeguards are provided.

Spokesmen for the Department listed five areas of major concern. These are: Waste discharges and their effect on water quality in the bay; filling of the lagoon by real estate developers; harbor development; highway construction adjacent to the lagoon; and erosion of the watershed.

The DFG described the Bolinas Lagoon as an outstanding area for waterfowl, shellfish, fish and a variety of recreational activities, and department spokesmen said they were prepared to meet with local interests to discuss modification and updating of the Bolinas Bay Master Plan to help protect the major beneficial uses of the lagoon.

Williams Ready For Comeback

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Heavyweight Cleveland Williams, who suffered a near fatal bullet wound in the stomach in an altercation with a highway patrolman, expects to appear in his first comeback bout in a few weeks.

Williams said yesterday he was fully recovered and had applied for a 1966 license in Texas. His application was accompanied by a doctor's report that Williams' physical condition was excellent.

Williams, 32, was ranked No. 2 by the World Boxing Association when he was wounded in November 1964.

After extensive surgery, Williams' weight dropped from a normal 217 to 159. He now weighs 216.

Sailing Class To Continue Jan. 22

Next sailing class for 24 junior members of the Loch Lomond Yacht Club, under the direction of William "Doc" Malin, will be held Jan. 22, at the clubhouse.

A trial run classroom session, followed by practical experience in El Toro sailing dinghies, started the lessons last Saturday.

Lincoln Says He'll Play In All-Star Tilt

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — San Diego Charger fullback Keith Lincoln says an injured left knee will not keep him out of the All-Star line-up that meets the American Football League champion Buffalo Bills Saturday.

Lincoln was an outstanding offensive performer in last year's All-Star Game even with a rib injury. In that game which matched the All-Stars of each division of the league, Lincoln handled the ball five times and accounted for 156 yards.

He grabbed a 73-yard pass on the game's first scrimmage year's All-Star game even with he ran 80 yards for another touchdown.

"Losing to Buffalo doesn't make me go any harder," Lincoln said of San Diego's championship game losses to the Bills the past two seasons. "I just think it's an honor to be selected for this game."

Even though Lincoln went unranked among the league's top 10 in both rushing and pass receiving this season, Sid Gillman, the Charger and All-Star coach, needed Lincoln's versatility.

"There isn't anything he can't do," Gillman said. "When Keith isn't running, he's blocking or catching passes."

Two other All-Stars, Paul Lowe and Dainard Paulson, also play from Len Dawson. Later nursed knee injuries but are expected to see action in the nationally televised game (NBC) set for the 70,000-seat Rice University Stadium.

First Entry For Indianapolis 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Billy Foster of Victoria, B.C., who holds the Indianapolis Motor Speedway record for a four-cylinder car, was named as driver today on the first entry for the 50th 500-mile race May 30.

Jim Robbins Co., Royal Oak, Mich., picked the 28-year-old Canadian to drive a new rear-engine car with a Ford racing engine. Rolla Vollstedt of Portland, Ore., designed the car and will be chief mechanic.

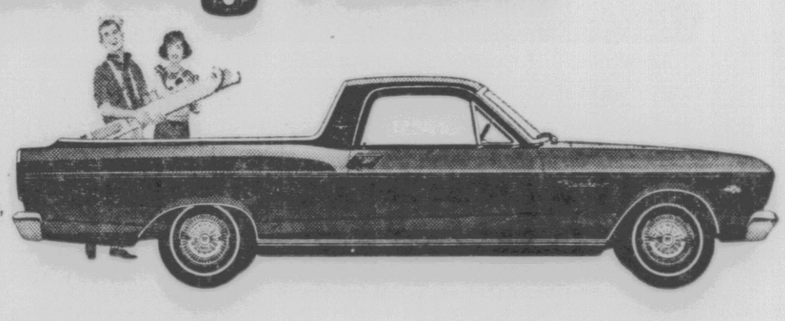

Foster qualified his Offenhauser last year at 158.416 m.p.h., a record for the breed, and was running in 11th place at 200 miles when a water manifold broke.

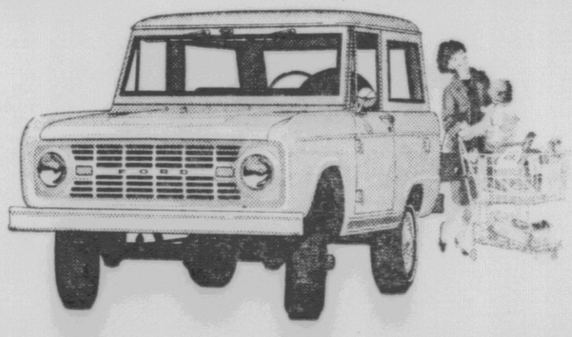

New '66 Fords...

RANCHERO, all-new sizzling performance

You'll be sold by the '66 Ranchero's sleek new lines. Longer wheelbase, wider tread and new suspension give new riding smoothness. Bucket seats, center console, wall-to-wall carpeting, air-conditioning—are all offered. Choice of smooth Six or powerful V-8's, 3- or 4-speed stick shift.

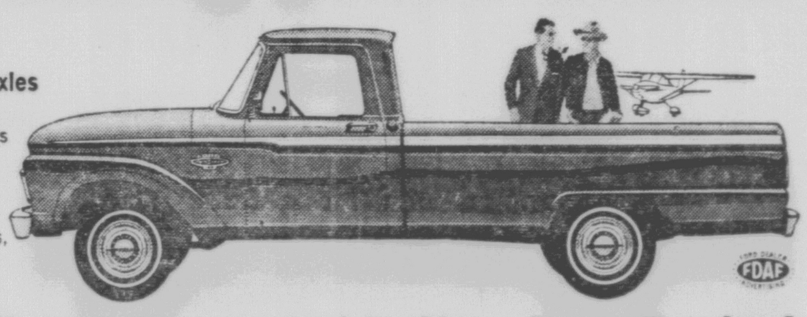

BRONCO, a new kind of 4-wheel-drive excitement from Ford

We've got the Bronco you want . . . Roadster, Wagon or Sports Utility. Bronco's 4-wheel drive and frisky 6-cylinder engine take you places you wouldn't believe . . . over beach sand, through deep snow, up hills too steep for roads. Bronco features clashless gear-shifting, no annoying whine in 2-wheel drive, smooth front coil-spring ride.

or getting jobs done

STYLESIDE, new with the smooth ride of two front axles

Find out for yourself how Twin-I-Beam suspension smooths the road. Steering's surer, side sway's gone, stops are steadier. With all this comfort and the Styleside's obvious class there's toughness to spare. Forged axles, husky radius rods, two powerful Sixes and a big V-8 engine.

SKI SCENE

By ROSEMARY SEAL

Here We Are Again, To Report On The Season's Skiing News

Here we are again, to report the doings of Marinites on skis. We hope to get around to many Sierra areas, and to do some traveling to Aspen and Alta in February. We'll have news of special events and racing results.

Last weekend at Norm Saylor's Donner Ski Area, Andy Andrews of Mill Valley and Ski Club Zuerileu was doing a land office business selling buttons to support the U.S. Ski Team World Championships for 1966. The wind was blowing so hard that morning that Squaw Valley closed its lifts, but Donner was sheltered, except for the upper half. This worked out well for the races of the Bay Area Council of the Far West Ski Association, held Saturday. Ski Club Zuerileu took the winning spot in both men's and women's giant slalom.

MARIN SKI CLUB members skied Donner just for fun, especially Julie Evergettis, who is doing beautifully, although this is her first season. Husband Barry has been giving her private lessons, between booming the slopes with Scott Watterworth.

New Year's weekend, the first tracks down Vanderbilt on Lincoln at Sugar Bowl were made by MSC powderhounds Danil Shilinger, Walt Stevens, Charlie Massen and Scottie, who were up at dawn to be first on the lift.

REDWOOD HIGH School Ski Club will go to Heavenly Valley this weekend. The group takes a busload of 38 each trip, with Myrna Reed as faculty advisor. President is Pete Bricca, secretary is Kate Royer, treasurer is Jana Neubauer, vice-president is Bill Clark.

Redwood SC plans to ski Sugar Bowl early in February, and to go to China Peak at Huntington Lake over the Washington's Birthday holiday. They will go to Squaw Valley March 11-13, and the final trip will be back to Heavenly Valley.

BIG WEEKENDS coming up at Squaw Valley are: Jan. 14-16, University of Santa Clara Winter Carnival; Jan. 21-23, University of San Francisco; Jan. 25-27, University of California. Headquarters will be Olympic Village Hotel.

Sunday last, we skied Sugar Bowl, which was delightful, with all lifts running and virtually no waiting . . . except for a 40-minute delay at the Magic Carpet, when all the people who had come on busses added to the line. This is the first year Sugar Bowl has encouraged bus groups, and it does make things congested. Seems like the management might augment transportation with sno-cats, when it gets that crowded.

Lewis Named In Paternity Suit

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—San Francisco 49ers fullback Gary Lewis was accused yesterday of fathering an illegitimate child.

Lewis flatly denied any intimacies with Mary E. Jones, 19, who accused him of fathering her 10-month-old son.

At a preliminary hearing yesterday, Judge Clayton W. Horn ordered Lewis to pay Miss Jones temporary child support of $50 a month for three months—pending the start of the trial in the paternity suit.

BASKETBALL ON DONKEYS AT REDWOOD

Redwood High School's teachers will be slight favorites tonight when they mount the burros for the eighth annual donkey basketball game against the school's Letteerman Club.

Gametime in the Redwood gym is 7:30 p.m.

The faculty team is picked because of its "past experience on donkeys," said the school's athletic director, Bob Troppmann. Wrestling coach Phil Roark is captain of the faculty team.

Cost is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students and children. The game is being sponsored by the Redwood Benchwarmers Club.

Palmer Needed That Win

By MILTON RICHMAN.

NEW YORK (UPI) —There comes a time when every professional athlete begins having some doubt about his ability and although he's too proud to admit it, that time came and went, at least temporarily, for Arnold Palmer.

Palmer, at 34, has won 46 accredited pro tournaments in his time, many of them being of far greater importance than the Los Angeles Open which he won earlier this week, but none of which had any more personal significance.

One unguarded statement by him after that victory did more than anything else to let the cat out of the bag.

"I need to develop more confidence," he said after winning at L.A. by three strokes.

Think about that remark a minute. It happens to be a statement Palmer isn't in the habit of making. Only a few years back, the word confidence was as synonymous with Palmer as it was with fellows like Ted Williams and Rocky Marciano in their heydays.

SLUMPED LAST YEAR

Palmer won only one tournament all last year and finished 10th on the money winning list with official earnings of $57,770.71. That would represent a fine year for the majority of golfers on ths pro tour. But for Palmer it represented a drastic nose-dive.

His slump was so pronounced, in fact, that any number of the so-called experts ventured the opinion Palmer was on the way out. He was No. 1 in his day, they said, but this no longer was his day. Now it belonged to such others as Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema and Gary Player.

Palmer heard it all, kept a stiff upper lip and valiantly tried to laugh it off, the same way all athletes do when the question about them slipping first comes up.

He always had some reasons why he felt his game wasn't quite as sharp as it used to be. "I haven't been able to get in enough practice" he said on one occasion, and on another he said, "I generally run into a dry spell somewhere during the year."

Palmer wasn't fooling anyone, though, least of all himself. He knew he wasn't putting as well as he did in the years gone by; he knew he had to put more muscle into some of his shots to keep up with a younger powerhouse like Nicklaus and he knew his appearance on the first tee didn't automatically discourage the rest of the field as it once did.

AWARE OF EXTRA STROKE

No matter what Palmer said publicly, he had to have some doubts privately. He certainly knows how to count so he realized the subtle difference on holes where he was taking five where he was much more accustomed to taking four.

No longer was he spread-eagling the field. That came out, too, after he watched his seven-stroke lead cut to a single stroke at one point during the final round at Los Angeles.

"That was the trouble," he laughed. "I didn't know how to play with such a big lead."

In truth, Palmer played exceptionally well in the first tourney of the new year because you can't hack your way around and come in with scores of 72, 66, 62 and 73 as he did.

One victory, of course, doesn't mean that much, but that particular one, his first in nine months, meant something special to Palmer.

It meant freedom from those doubts.

New Award For Garrett's Shelf

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mike Garrett, Heisman Trophy winner and famed halfback at the University of Southern California, headed a list of six 1965 World Trophy winners released yesterday by the Helms Hall Board.

New Airliner Rumors Up Aerospace Issues

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed slightly higher today in heavy trading.

Aerospace issues were boosted by reports of plans for a new super airliner and made wide gains.

The market was slightly higher from the start and kept its irregularly higher edge throughout the session.

Volume for the day was estimated at 8.8 million shares compared with 8.54 million yesterday. It was another abbreviated session resulting from the New York transit strike.

Here was the picture near the close:

Boeing leaped half a dozen points while 2-point gains were scored by United Aircraft and General Dynamics. Prospects of contracts for building giant jet airliners stimulated the group. Douglas Aircraft rose more than a point.

Airlines, electronics, rails and coppers also moved ahead. United and Eastern Air Lines gained 2 each, Anaconda and Kennecott about 1 apiece, New York Central, Illinois Central and Southern Railway a point or better.

Anken Chemical looked like the most active stock and eased on profit taking. Crucible Steel common was off 3 and its preferred more than 1.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Frouge Reports Its Revenues

Frouge Corp., developer of Marincello, has reported a net profit of $87,103, or 13 cents per share, on its building and real estate operations in the east for the fiscal year ended last June 30.

Thomas Frouge, chairman of the board, noted that none of the activities of Marincello is reflected in the report.

Gross revenues for fiscal 1965 were $5,604,621, compared with $9,016,506 for the previous 12-month period, which concluded with a net loss of $114,498, or 18 cents per share.

Frouge said the decrease in gross revenue was compatible with the transition of the company from primarily a general contractor to a building and real estate firm.

Connolly Closes Kentfield Offices

John J. Connolly, Marin County real estate broker and veteran sports writer, has closed his Kentfield office, Ross Valley Realty, and moved to Southern California.

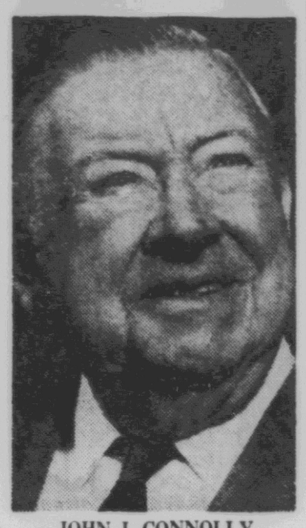

Connolly has terminated his membership in the Marin County Real Estate Board and is reported to have purchased a retirement home in Laguna Beach. He had been a Marin real estate broker for 20 years.

In a sports writing career that began in 1930, Connolly worked for several newspapers, including the Oakland Post-Enquirer, San Francisco Call and San Francisco News, and became sports editor of the Los Angeles Examiner.

In April, 1958, in addition to his real estate business, he began writing baseball columns for the Independent-Journal. He was a close follower of the San Francisco Giants, often visiting the team's spring training quarters in Arizona.

During World War II, Connolly worked at Marinship in Sausalito and edited the Stinger, a yard publication. At the end of the war he went into real estate and in 1946 opened Ross Valley Realty at 999 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. A few years ago he moved the office to San Rafael for a short time, then relocated it at the original Kentfield address.

Since Connolly's departure, the office has been occupied by Les' Giant Hot Dogs, owned by Lester Paul Leid of Belvedere. Leid said the hot dog and soft drink stand will be operated by his wife.

Wells Fargo Tops $4 Billion Mark

Wells Fargo Bank assets topped $4 billion for the first time at year-end, Ransom M. Cook, chairman of the board, reported today.

Total assets as of December 31, 1965 were $4,060,149,821—an increase of $327,333,052 or 9% over a year ago. The bank reported deposits at $3,554,276,451, up $264,313,264.

Loans outstanding were $2,511,820,979 against $2,260,795,248 in 1964, an 11 per cent increase. Capital accounts were $340,201,363, an increase of $6,113,526 over a year ago.

Earnings per share were 2.6 per cent below 1964. Net operating earnings for 1965 were $23,260,000 or $2.61 per share compared with $23,867,000 or $2.68 per share in 1964.

Millions Of Tons

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Lake Carriers Assn. says more than 195.3 million net tons of iron ore, coal, grain and limestone were shipped on the Great Lakes last year — three million tons over 1964.

LONG AND SHORT OF LIFE INSURANCE

The king-sized welcome mat spread out for guests at dedication ceremonies for the new San Rafael office of New York Life Insurance Co. this week was outdimensioned by the "big man" of the local office, general manager, Lee M. Gammill Jr. (left) who stands 6 feet 4½ inches tall in his stocking feet. He is shown here with the agency's "littlest producer" in stature, Louis Tacconelli of Sausalito, 4 feet 11 inches. The office is located in the Kaehler-Farrar Building.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Education Board Decision On Secrecy Is A Bit Cozy

The Marin County Board of Education has decided to hold in secret the names of candidates to fill vacancies which occur on the board.

The reason given for this secrecy policy was that it would prevent "hard feelings," apparently on the part of those who apply but are not picked.

It seems to us that the board of education is sacrificing public confidence and trust in order to avoid the remote possibility of a few hard feelings on the part of prospective candidates.

There is something sinister about any person who refuses to be identified as a candidate for public office, until and unless he is first assured of that position.

Under the Marin County Board of Education's new policy, all other candidates would forever remain a secret. Theoretically, none of the candidates would ever know who else ran for the position, except the one person who was finally picked.

And yet, every member of the county board would have the full information at all times, and would be free to utilize that information for any and all purposes.

Such a setup is too conducive to cozy, behind-closed-door politics.

Members of the county board, as elected officials, are responsible to the people. People should have the right to examine the qualifications of all candidates and make their choices. Only when mid-term vacancies occur do the remaining board members appoint members to fill the vacancies.

We believe that such appointments, to positions that ordinarily are elective, should be made in an atmosphere as closely akin to an election as possible.

In other words, the people should have a right to know what qualified candidates were considered, as well as who finally was picked.

To hide all identities behind closed doors and to announce the one name after he has been picked in secret seems to us a devious approach to something that can and should be handled in the open.

Some proponents of secrecy argue that the best qualified citizens will not announce if their names are made public. This argument is refuted by what has happened on other boards.

Take the Marin General Hospital Board of Directors. Last year, two vacancies occurred on the hospital board. The board held public screenings of all candidates and made its two appointments. The board could not have picked two better qualified and more conscientious men, and all in the open.

This constant drift toward more secrecy seems to be a malady common to many bureaucrats, who, once voted into office, feel their decisions are infallible and should be accepted by the public with no questions asked.

The cozy little closed meetings the board of education will hold to pick the public's representative on its board will be quite a contrast to the open and public proceedings by which the Marin General Hospital Board filled its vacancies last year.

EARLY BIRD CATCHES A THIEF

The first criminal suspect ever to be trapped by the Early Bird satellite found it hard to believe that the device had proved his undoing.

The man was wanted in connection with an $800,000 bank robbery in Montreal. His identity became known to Florida police after his photo was relayed to viewers around the world by the orbiting device.

"Well, isn't that something," he told police in amazement. "It took a satellite to catch me."

Catching lawbreakers, to be sure, is only a minor part of the exhilarating changes for the better that the human use of technology can bring us.

Provided those at the controls of vast scientific complexes are dedicated to the dignity of man as a child of God, far more wonderful things can happen. Deserts can bloom, new sources of food can be discovered, ignorance, misery and want can be reduced for millions.

Pray and work, in large ways and small, so that man's spiraling control of nature will serve and not detract from the common good of all.

"Pray that you may not enter into temptation." (Luke 22:40)

Help me, O Holy Spirit, to see in technological advance an opportunity to renew the face of the earth.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Poverty Program Employees Are Leeches On U.S. Economy

By HENRY C. MACARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — With announcement by the federal government from Washington that the level of unemployment in the United States has dropped to 4.1 per cent of the work force, some close scrutiny should be given as to whether this figure represents a true picture of the economic scene, or whether the figure is designed to cover up the real situation.

The federal government points with pride to what it says is the lowest unemployment figure in eight and a half years.

The federal announcement was followed by one from the state departments of employment and industrial relations, which said the "seasonally adjusted" rate of unemployment in California was 5.7 per cent in Decemeber, while the "unadjusted" rate of was 5.5 per cent. And the report also said December was the first in which the number of employed Californians topped the seven million mark.

Government, both state and federal, is avid to inform its minions, the taxpayers, that employment is on the increase.

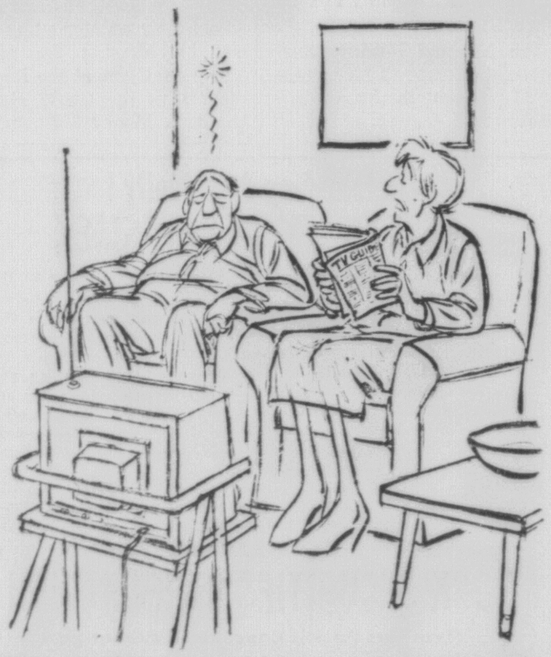

But the government does not say how much of the increase in employment is the result of counting individuals on the "poverty program" as employed.

AT LEAST a portion of the people deriving a livelihood from poverty program largesse, at the expense of people who really are employed and contributing to the economy, are counted by government as being "employed."

FEDERAL REGULATIONS on counting the people who are "employed" in the poverty program are to the effect that the neighborhood youth program workers, and the work study workers, as well as those in the administrative end of the program, should be counted as "employed." From indications, these take up most of the people in the program.

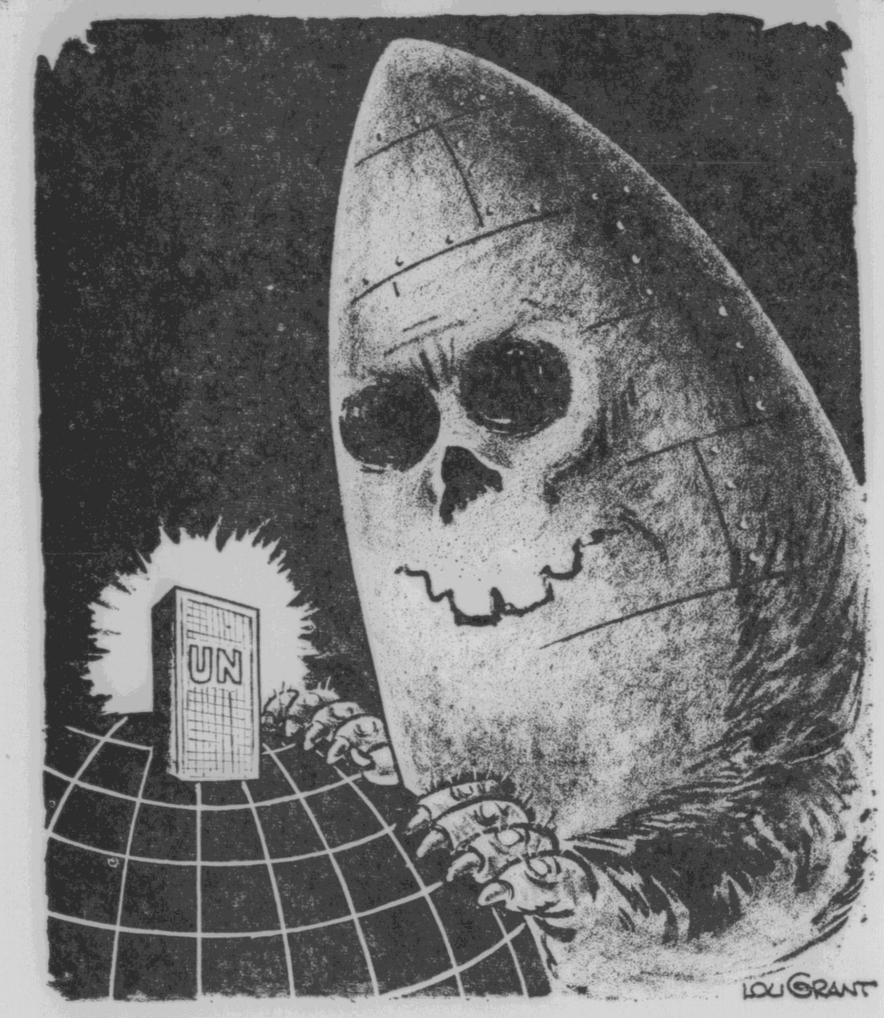

Thus, people who are living off the taxpayers are counted as employed, the state and federal government can boast of more employment and a steadily rising economy. And all the while, the taxpayer is faced with new and increased taxes to support "increased employment."

Young Reader Can't Deliver

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have written in answer to your advertisement for carriers three times. Not once have I received a reply. I am 11 years old, and even though I am a girl I am capable. I believe that you are discriminating against my sex, which I think is illegal. Please give me an answer.

Parallel Parking Bottleneck Ended

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In regard to the petition being circulated by those opposed to parallel parking on Fourth Street: I would think that the downtown merchants would be delighted that this existing bottleneck is finally being eliminated.

I'm sure that there are many residents in the downtown shopping area and surrounding areas who either avoid Fourth Street entirely and shop elsewhere, or who shop there only when absolutely necessary, because of the time involved in getting to a particular store and then getting out again.

Shopping areas in other parts of the county have been made more accessible to us since Third and Second streets have been made one-way, and it is so easy to get in and out of San Rafael.

With all of the new off-street parking spaces that have been provided, I can't believe that the loss of the number of spaces involved could possibly be of concern to the merchants. I would think that the loss of customers due to the inaccessibility of their stores would be of greater concern.

It seems to me that the ease with which one could pull into and out of a parallel parking space would cut down on the time involved going up or down Fourth Street, and actually add to the number of shoppers that could avail themselves of the facilities there.

Sticker Changers, Backers Decried

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Tonight (Jan. 8) I came across Miss J. Meyerson's evaluation of my letter to the editor regarding someone altering my anti-VDC sticker.

All I can say is, her letter has no relevancy to mine. Apparently she approves of someone entering my car and removing the "C." The entire point was missed by the woman. . . .

I think it's a disgrace I can't have a sticker representing my views go untouched in my own auto. I've had a man try and run me off the road once, due to my sticker, in its original form. And I still have my own views.

Unlike Miss Meyerson's friend—physical violence does not change my views — it strengthens the ones I already have. I feel sorry for the people who condone someone entering my property to destroy my views. I'll say it once more —it is not the way of Americans but Commies.

Speaker Says She Was Misquoted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In the interest of accuracy (with reference to) the question of school district reorganization as reported in the coverage (Jan. 6, page 10) of last night's (Jan. 5) public hearing, please correct the proposal attributed to me.

I did propose that the County Committee on School District Organization adopt a final recommendation to unify Tomales and Petaluma High School districts as one. . . .

I did not, and probably never will, advocate that the Tamalpais Union High School District be unified as a single district, which proposal has, incidentally, been rejected twice at the polls rather than once as reported. What I actually proposed, in regard to the Tamalpais area, was that the committee allow the three-way split by attendance areas plan, which has already been submitted for a new hearing before the State Board of Education, to remain as is for the present time. . . .

What's Matter With Reading?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am a recent arrival in Marin County, having lived in Honolulu for the past seven years.

A year or so ago, there was a series of sniping incidents, culminating in the wounding of a serviceman in a remote area of Oahu. The sniper (perhaps not the only one) was eventually caught, and the story disappeared from the front pages. A short time later, on the back pages, I accidentally came across the story of his "hearing". The sniper was released without a criminal proceeding because he was asserted to be under psychiatric care! A very short time later, at Nuuanu Pali Lookout, he terrorized a group of tourists, severely wounding one of them, and killed a policeman while resisting arrest. Front page again.

Act I and Act II have just been repeated verbatim in Marin County, with analogous press coverage. The crime on the front page, the law's frustration on the inside pages. How long will be the intermission until Act III?

Looks like Marin City is having a Chicago-style crime wave, but with this disgusting difference, the populace torpedoing law-enforcement with a phony "Civil Rights" issue. The fatuous comments of parents at the recent community meeting on Sheriff's Office policy were typical: Delinquent youths, more to be pitied than censured, have "nothing to do"! What's the matter with work, or study, or even (good heavens) just plain reading, occasionally, for the fun of it?

Must our society forever be apologizing for not providing enough diversion for these vacuous malcontents?

K. P. SAXENA is the name of a Bombay-based psychologist who has made an understandably absorbing study of "the character-revealing aspects of the female leg"—and comes up with the following conclusions: "If girls twist their legs around each other, they are imaginative and artistic. If they stretch out their legs with one foot resting on the other, they are self-confident, but have a violent, hair-trigger temper. If they hold their legs parallel, knees together and feet in line, they are paragons, almost too good to be true. If they sit with their knees together tightly and their feet wide apart, they are cold and self-centered. If they keep their knees and toes together and their heels apart, they are shy and lack assurance."

Helping South Korea Now Paying Off In Fighting In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — It is 15 years since the nightmare of the Korean War. And what did it all mean?

Was it wasted strife or incalculable boon? What is the answer from South Korea today?

The answer is that the American people can be proud of what the United States did for South Korea and has reason to be grateful for what South Korea has done for itself.

This is the record:

WITH THE HELP of a dozen other nations, but primarily on its own, the U.S. turned back the aggression to the 38th parallel which divided the two Koreas.

Today South Korea is secure, tranquil and progressive.

It is carrying forward significant social reforms.

It is stable—so stable that, despite some demonstrations, it was able last year to establish diplomatic relations with its once hated enemy and occupier, Japan, which is now providing it with $800 million in grants and loans over a 10-year period.

SOUTH KOREA is proving itself resourceful and increasingly self-reliant. It is making steady economic progress and, while U.S. aid has been substantial, the South Koreans have been showing what self-help can really be. Their Gross National Product has been rising at a rate of about 8 per cent a year; industrial production up 15 per cent.

Grievously short of land to enable its people to be self-sufficient in food, the government of Chung Hee Park, by literally carving terraces out of mountains, is doubling its arable land.

South Korean industry is making rapid strides. Exports are up from $20 million in 1959 to $170 million today.

BUT THIS is only half of it. These are some of the things South Korea has been doing for itself. These are the ways South Korea has been using its security from aggression.

And now what is the other dividend besides a free people secured from oppression? What is the earned dividend, which has not been asked, but which is now so welcome and so helpful?

South Korea's dividend to the United States is in South Viet Nam today.

BUT WITH 15,000 battle-hardened South Korea freedom fighters trained for action in the jungles and rice paddies where the Viet Cong are deadliest — plus 2,000 combat engineers.

Little South Korea, with a population of 28,000,000 is doing far more than any other country except the U.S., and is contributing more fighting men per capita than even the U.S.

And why did the government and parliament of South Korea make this tremendous decision to commit 17,000 men to the defense of South Viet Nam?

They know from their own experience the crucial need to defeat aggression in South Viet Nam—and are doing what they can to help.

Cuba Persecution Of Jews Increases

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

MIAMI—The House Immigration Investigating Subcommittee is looking into Fidel Castro's increasing persecution of religious groups, particularly the dwindling Jewish community in Havana.

Rep. Michael Feighan, D-Ohio, chairman, and a staff assistant, now in Florida for a first-hand study of the Cuban refugee program, are interviewing fleeing Catholics and Protestants on the plight of the Jews.

The preliminary findings indicate that 80 per cent of the nearly 11,000 Jews in Cuba at the time of Castro's takeover have left the Communist-ruled island—with a majority fleeing to the U. S.

OF THE 2,000 remaining Jews, Department of Health, Education and Welfare authorities estimate that 1,300 are seeking to leave in the large-scale refugee exodus now underway.

"Many of these Jews, like their Catholic and Protestant brethern, came to Cuba to escape Nazi and Communist persecution in the 1930s and 1940s," Feighan pointed out in a memorandum to members of his subcommittee. "Cubans of all faiths now say that these Jewish refugees are again be-in forced to flee because of Castro's persecution."

Feighan stressed that Castro's policy of harassing Catholics and Protestants applies equally to the Jewish community in Havana.

"REFUGEES REPORT that religious persecution, confiscation of all property, and forcible Communist indoctrination of children is forcing members of the Jewish community to leave Cuba," reports Feighan. "Their plight under Castro parallels their plight under nazism."

After a detailed inspection of the Miami receiving center and discussions with U.S. officials, Feighan will return to Washington to prepare for public hearings on the Cuban refugee program.

The Feighan hearings will explore thoroughly the methods and procedures being employed by Immigration and State Department officials to ensure that Castro is not infiltrating espionage and subversive agents into the U.S.

IF IT CAN BE ARRANGED, Feighan will carry his scrutiny of the refugee program right into Castro's domain. He is seeking State Department authority for a staff assistant to study the operation in Cuba.

In doing this, Feighan hopes to ascertain the extent to which Castro is living up to his promise of letting all Cubans leave who want to do so.

The Feighan subcommittee is also compiling all available information on the thousands of political prisoners Castro has incarcerated in disease-ridden prisons.

CASTRO IS TELLING foreign diplomats in Havana that he is sending arms and technicians to fight in North Viet Nam. Last month a Cuban ship transported five pilots who were trained in Russia to fly MIG-21s . . . In the past six months Defense Minister Raul Castro's purge of the army has imprisoned more than 200 suspected dissidents . . . Carlos Dorticos, uncle of puppet President Osvaldo Dorticos, reports that "the Cuban government is demoralized to a degree greater than ever before." He claims that the mass exodus of refugees, including hundreds of government workers, has shaken the faith of a large number of officers in the armed forces . . The Agency for Internationol Development (AID), which is coordinating aid to refugees in South Viet Nam, is seeking volunteers for that program. Of the 14 jobs in the Saigon office and 23 in the field, only half have been filled. AID authorities expect one million refugees by the end of February.

Those Apartments In Kentfield Were In Position To Be Flooded

Anyone who read reports of Jan. 5 flooding in Kentfield and doubted that some apartments along Kent Avenue had water up to their door knobs need only glance at those buildings to know such an occurrence is possible.

Some of the buildings' rear apartments are built to within 10 easily sloped feet of the creek bank. In addition, the downstairs apartments are even three or four feet below the courtyards which serve as ground zero for the buildings. To get to one of these downstairs apartments, one crosses the courtyard, then walks down about three steps to a hallway.

DURING LAST week's flood, the downstairs hallways of these apartments must have resembled concrete lined creeks. Water came cascading in off the courtyards and had nowhere to go but under the doors and into the apartments.

Any name in a storm . . . "Marin County's Navy" is what Donald Frost, county public works director, calls his department's row boat which is stored in the first-to-be-flooded Granton Park in Kentfield. "Aquatic Park" is what Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, president of the Marin Junior College Board, calls Granton Park, a neighbor of the college.

PIRACY WAS suspected in Granton Park last week. The county's rowboat was missing from its mooring at a street sign on Laurel Avenue and public works officials wondered whether to call for sheriff's deputies or the sheriff's marine patrol. An hour later, one of the flooded out locals returned the boat and the problem was solved.

IT MUST HAVE been politics. What else would have caused eight Marin County officials to cool their heels for more than an hour and a half last Thursday, waiting to tour the flooded areas with Congressman Donald Clausen of Crescent City.

"Late plane," explained the congressman who was finishing up a tour of his district's six counties, all of them flood areas.

Adult Classes Are Still Open

Enrollment continued this week in several of the adult evening classes at San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools, according to program director Jerald Gill.

One of those still open is a newly formed crafts class, including jewelry, sculpture and ceramics. It meets in room 56 of San Rafael High School from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each Wednesday.

Filled, however, are woodworking classes at both schools. A waiting list is being formed in case there are enough students to form another class, Gill said.

A sewing course at Terra Linda attracted so many students it was split into two sections, he said.

Dental Aide Signup

Applicants for the spring semester in dental assisting at College of Marin must undergo a series of examinations beginning at 8:30 a.m. Saturday in room 40 of the college chemistry building, according to Mrs. Hazel Torres, head of the dental assisting program. Application for the examinations may be made through the college testing office, she said.

Battery Charge Is Dismissed

Charges of interfering with an arrest and battery on a sherriff's deputy were dismissed in Marin Municipal Court yesterday against Lloyd William Bland, 18, for insufficient evidence.

Bland, of 99 Cole Drive, Marin City, was accused of interfering with Deputies Gary Bartolotti and David Salkeld during an Oct. 30 brawl, and with battery on the former officer.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest Zunnino recommended the dismissal by Judge Peter Allen Smith.

Advantages And Disadvantages Of Being Man, Woman Are Told

NEW YORK (AP)—Who has it better in life—man or woman?

I had always thought that most people were pretty well satisfied to be a member of the sex they were born into.

However, it apears my viewpoint may be wrong. According to an article in "The Farmers' Almanac," my authority in such matters, 65 per cent of women would prefer to be men because they feel men have more freedom.

THE ARTICLE pointed out some of the disadvantages of being a man. Such as that men work at more dangerous occupations and are four times as likely to be killed in accidents and three times as likely to become homicide victims.

So what price freedom?

Furthermore, the article said:

Women collect 80 per cent of all life insurance, 63 per cent of inheritances, and own 60 per cent of savings accounts. The also go less often to jail or mental hospitals, and live longer than men.

Looking at it philosophically, it does appear that anyone given a choice would prefer being a woman, doesn't it? but man does not live by philosophy alone.

EVEN THOUGH he may live five to seven years less than a woman, he'd rather spend those years as a man.

Here are a few reasons why a masculine role appeals to him and a feminine role doesn't:

Any bar in town will serve him whether or not he has an escort.

If his back itches in public, he can scratch it in public.

THE MERE THOUGHT of bearing children appalls him. He sometimes finds it hard to bear children after they are born, and couldn't think of being host to them after birth.

A man knows that he could never master the art of dressing like a woman. As it is now, he puffs after bending over to tie his shoelaces. He realizes he could never summon the strength to squirm his way into and out of a tight-fitting girdle — and no women ever seems to wear a loose one.

WOMEN ARE a nuisance to themselves in other ways. They are always plucking their eyebrows, varnishing their fingernails, taking bubble baths, or squinting at themselves in mirrors.

All in all, however, each sex has advantages to be grateful for and disadvantages to put up with. Since there isn't a great deal that can be done about it, perhaps the most sensible motto is:

"To each his own."

Fireman Quits For More Pay

The Marinwood Fire Commission Tuesday night accepted the resignation of fireman Ronald Perrin, who quit to take a higher paying job in Tucson, Ariz.

Perrin, with the department less than a year, had been getting $500 a month, Chief James Cameron reported.

Cars Donated For Program

Four new cars have been donated by Marin auto dealers to the driver training program at Novato High School, according to Robert W. Wisgerhof, principal.

License Stickers Now Available

Dave Davis, manager of the Department of Motor Vehicles office at 75 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera, advised Marin motorists today to get their 1966 license plate stickers before the heavy rush which is expected near the Feb. 4 deadline.

The office, which was moved recently from San Rafael, is open during January from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekadys and on Saturdays from 8 a.m. to noon.

Harris Appointed To Library Board

Michael Harris was appointed Tuesday night to the Sausalito Public Library Board to succeed Mrs. Olga Burns, whose term has expired.

Harris, a San Francisco Chronicle reporter who lives at 33 Crecienta Drive, served four years, 1960-64, as a city councilman. His term is for three years on the library board.
